AGRICULTURAL.

From the Baltimore Farmer and Gardener. Lime as Manure. - The efficacy of this mineral as a manure, is beginning to excite general attention. The success which has uniformly attended its application to almost all kinds of soils, extorts confessions of its utility from many who, until recently, had but little, if any, faith in its meliorating power. As there seems to be a universal desire to obtain information on the subject of its specific virtues, we will endeavor to give something like an abstract view of them, and we know not how we can better effect our object than by availing ourself of a condensation of the luminous paper upon the subject, submitted by Mr. Browne, of Derby, England, which may be found in the transactions of the Society of Arts. He asserts,

1st. That recent vegetables, as clover, laid on heaps and stratified with fresh lime, are quickly decomposed, even in a few days. The heat occasioned by the moisture of the vegetable uniting with the lime, he supposes, quickens the fermentation of the vegetable juices, and produces charcoal in consequence of combustion similar to that frequently produced in new haystacks, which if any air be admitted, bursts into flame.

2d. Lime for many months continues to attract moisture from the air or earth, which it deprives, he supposes, of carbonic acid, and then suffers it to exhale again, as is seen on the plastered walls of new houses. On this account it must be advantageous when mixed with dry or sandy soils, as it attracts moisture from the air above, or the earth beneath; and this moisture is then observed by the lymphatics of the roots of vegetables.

3dly. By mixing lime with clays at is believed to make them less cohesiver and thus admit of their being easily penetrated by vegetable fibres.

4thly. A mixture of lime with clay destroys its superabundancy of acid, if such exists, and by uniting with it converts it into gyp-

5thly. When lime is mixed with a compost of soil and manure, which is in the state of generating nitrous acid, it arrests the acid it forms, and produces a calcareous nitre, and thus preyents both its exhalation and easy elu-

A Queer Mistake .- When the late Admiral Crosby, was dining with Colonel Fitzgerald. at Merrian-square, London, he happened to lay his huge brown fist upon the table: at that moment, Dr. Jenkins, who was very short-sighted, casting his eye around the table in search of a loaf of bread, happened to rest them on the Admiral's fist, and mistaking it for a loaf, thrust his fork plump into it. The Admiral, smarting with the wound, said in a rage, "don't trouble yourself to reach, I'll help you." The Doctor perceiving his mistake, cried out, "only a slice, Sir, it wont go round." This disarmed the Admiral of his wrath, and convulsed the company with laughter.

The chosen of God (may heavenly blessings rest upon him!) smiled and, withdrawing the veil of rubies which covered the pearls of his teeth, said "The Creator (to whom be glory!) will make every old woman young again, and will then conduct her into Paradise.

Of 100 Divines, 42 only reached 70 years, and upwards; of 100 Physicians, 24 only attained to that age; of a thousand deaths, between the ages of 23 and 62 inclusive, the years of the greatest professional activity, there were of Physicians, 601, of Divines, 345.

KINGSTON, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1935.

Since our last, accounts from England of a still later date have reached us by the arrival at New-York of the packet ship Independence, Capt. Nye, from Liverpool, from which port she sailed on the 27th Sept. bringing London dates to the 26th. It appears that the statement relative to the defeat of the Queen's ment. troops and the British auxiliaries, at Bilboa, which appeared in our publication of Wednesday, has been much exaggerated. The affair productive in an eminent degree. The recep- turns out to have been a mere skirmish, that tion of her Royal Highness the Duchess of the loss of the British amounted to only two Kent, and the Princess Victoria, has been killed and five wounded, and although the Queen's troops had suffered considerably, yet the real amount of loss fell infinitely short of what had been stated.

While on this subject we have to observe, that many complaints have reached us of the uniformity of the lights on the British side of Lake Ontario, which must necessarily, in dark or foggy weather, occasion much doubt in the mind of the savigator, and have a tendency to lead to very fatal consequences. The dangerous situation of this point of land is too well known to require description; but the many fatal and ruinous accidents which it occasions call for some immediate remedy. The procosed communication would open up a fine fertile and extensive country, and prove equally adv. untageous to the farmer in the interior and the 1.7habitant of the city.

This is not, however, the measure which we should like to see adopted to form a great highway from Lake Huron to the waters of Pork, n. ess, Ontario. If this were accomplished the great western carrying trade would decidedly come by the route in question, but not otherwise-there must be no tranship-

PROSPECTUS. In the latterend of November, or the beginning of December, will be Published No. 1 of a new Weekly Periodical,

To be Entitled THE TRAVELLER OR, PRINCE EDWARD GAZETTE.

S it is now nearly eleven months since A any newspaper has been published in the District, it is presumed that the TRAVELLER will receive support from persons of every ga, ty, who, laying aside their prejudices, will unite .'a establishing a vehicle for the expression of their wants and wishes, their feelings and opinions, instead of annually sending away several handred pounds for the purchase of other news, apers, whose wisher are often opposed to our own.

Its publisher is piedged to do party whatever; but although devotedly attached to his King, his Country, and the Constitution of Canada, he will always be ready and willing to expose any known abuse in the Government, any departure from the path of duty in a servant of the Crown.

And, being well aware that the present and future prosperity of Upper Canada mainly depend on its connexion with the British Empire, it will always be his endeavour to cherish that connexion, and to frustrate the designs of those who, by dissolving it, would lend us to destruction.

The publisher of the TRAVELLER is well acquainted with the duties and responsibilities of the office which he is about to assume; and he is determined to devote his time and talente. to the support of the King and Constitution, the promotion of morality, the diffe useful knowledge, and the improvement of the District in every respect.

And while he will fearlesely express his own opinion on any political subject, he will carefully collect and publish the facts on both sides of the question, that he may enable his readers to judge for them selves; and, by a judicious selection of commercial and agricultural information, poetry, anecootes, and other amusing and entertaining extracts, he hopes to make the TRAVELLER a welcome guest wherever it may travel.

The TRAVELLER will contain twenty-four columns of letter-press. and will be printed with new type, on good paper, and furnished to subscribers in the village, and those who take the paper from the office, at twelve shillings and sixpence per annum, if paid in vance, or before the end of three months, and fifteen shillings per annum, if paid at the expiration of the year.

If seat by mail, four shillings extra must be paid for postage, and papers will be delivered at suitable places, within eight miles of the District Town, for the sum of two shiftings and sixpence extra for each surscriber-Subscriptions thankfully received by the
