Advices from Athens are to the 18th of December. The Spanish charge d'affaires had taken mortal offence at a little piece of inten- erties of the subject, to the supreme authority tional or accidental rudeness on the part of the King of Bavaria, king Otho's father. Inon the arrival of the king, the diplomatic body of course waited upon him to pay their next. respects. When the Spanish charge was presented, the King turned to his minister and said, "I believe that Bavaria has not yet acknowledged the queen of Spain." The charge immediately turned upon his heel, left the very fairly form a proper estimate of the entire room, and refused a grand dinner given the document, viz : same day by king Otho, although assured that both the kings would speak to him at table. He in-isted upon a public reparation for the insult, in presence of the English and French ambassadors .- This was refused, and the charge had written to his government, soliciting his recall.

"It was feared that the presence and intentions of the king of Bavaria would have an injurious effect upon the feelings of the Greeks. The brigands were still numerous and very active in various municipalities, and the troops sent against them have had but little success. The Greek government has concluded an arrangement with that of England, for the exchange of newspapers free of expence. Deembarrassment.

Wonderful Discovery .- A sensation was lately excited in Chatham and its neighbourhood by the fact of some bones (supposed to be human.) together with an axe, having been was the unhappy person whose remains had been so singularly discovered, and it was confidently asserted that some fearful murder his bones had so long remained undisturbed. The coroner was informed of the circumstance, and to resolve the doubts which were prevalent, and, if possible, to bring to light the shedders of blood, a jury was summoned for sad remnants of mortality. The Coroner and they had to perform, and expectation was on the qui vive to know what would be the result of the interesting inquiry. The bones had been intrusted to a surgeon, in order that he might decide on the sex, and on the probability of the murdered party, and now his certificate only was requisite, prior to the commencement of the inquest. At length his are governed. certificate appeared, and it at once destroyed the romantic interest which had been created, by declaring the bones to be those of a Grey-

Marriage.- The new act of Parliament, and 6 William IV. cap. 54, renders valid all previous marriages with the sister of a deceased wife, so far as the temporal law is concerned; and such marriages cannot now be impeached, provided no proceedings had been instituted to dissolve such marriages previous to the passing of the act in August last. In future marriages with the sister of a deceased wife will be deemed incestuous ab initio, and the issue of course bastardized.

There is a rumour, which we mention on the authority of common fame, that ministers, feeling strong in the result of the late registrations throughout the country, mean to dissolve for his removal. He had been confirmed in parliament in the spring, in order to secure the | the appointment by the Royal authority, and, return of a good working majority in the House of Commons.—[Leeds Mercury.]

A new Grievance Address prepared by Mr Morin, the member for Bellechasse, and adopted by the House of Assembly of Lower Canada by a majority of 55 and only 7 minority, has come to light. This voluminous document sets out with the old worn out topics, which have so often been made the subject of complaint and of petition-an elective Legislative Council-an Executive Council directly responsible to the House of Assembly-a surrender of all the public revenues to the control of said House-a repeal of certain Acts of the Imperial Parliament, by which the territory and best resources of the Province, are made the subject of unfair speculation and monopolythe management and settlement of the waste lands to be vested in the hands of the domestic Legislature, &c. &r. &r.

These matters are urged in the usual style of arrogance adopted by the faction in addressing their superiors, and they moreover add, that it is their firm intention to persevere in asking them until they are granted, and in case His Majesty should have any remote doubt as to the real meaning of the petitioners, they proceed to lay down some new facts, as they call thern, so as to completely satisfy His Majesty of the justice and moderation of their demands. The Address, in continuation, contains the thanks of the House for recalling the late Governor-inchief, and sending them so distinguished a personage as the present. That the Speech from the Throne, at the opening of the present Sessions, had raised expectations that all grievances, abuses, &c. &c. would immediately have been redressed, but that from certain extracts from a despatch from the Colonial Department to the Administrative | time. Authorities of Lower Canada which has reachet them (alluding to the appendix attached to Sir F. B. Head's instructions) their hopes re!ative to the most essential points in dispute had been destroyed. They therefore declare that unless the Royal Assent is given to the Reforms which they expect, no matters of minor importance nor acts of the head of the Executive Government, even in conjunction with the House, will have the effect of bettering the condition of the people. The introduction of the elective principle into the constitution of the Colony is described as the sole means of miner reforms will be altogether useless. A recapitulation of all the evils which have arisen in consequence of the present construction of the Legislative Council here follows, and arguments are used for the purpose of supporting the expediency of a change in the formation of that body, with all the ingenuity the petitioners are capable of. They say that, even admitting, in opposition to principles and facts. the Legislative Council had some analogy to the Constitution of the United Kingdom, it was no argument why a change should not take place when the state of the country required it. They state as a precedent the em-by which they had so ther been oppressed, by their own exertions. Respecting the declaration of his Majesty, contained in the Despatch, sion are not difficult to fathom. Lord Gosford, in answer to the address of the House of Assembly of Lower Canada, praying for the dismissal of Mr. Justice Gale, upon charges, the substance of which appear ed in our last, informs the House, that as all the acts of Mr. Gale, which had been brought forward to prove the justice of the demand, had occurred prior to his elevation to the Bench, and that no allegation against him during the time he has held that elevated situation, had been offered, he (the Governor-in chief) did not feel himself justified to enter into the question whether, as prayed by the House, immediate measure's should be taken unless by a dereliction of duty in his capacity of Judge, it would be inconsistent with the Clows, James security that ought always attach to the tenure of that office, to take the question of his dismissal into consideration. The receipt of this answer produced a motion, that the reply of His Excellency should be taken into consideration on the Wednesday following, which has a most desirable site for a place of the kind. It is directly opposite the Court House and nearly opposite St. George's Church, in one of the most pleasant, healthy, and fashion able streets in Kingston; while its proximity to the principal Steam boat landings gives it a decided advantage over all others, in point of convenience, to the gentleman travelling on husiness. The house has been enlarged and beautified in a great degree during the past A SHOP and DWELLING HOUSE, summer, so that it is now, without question, superior to any Hotel in the place.

British American Botel, KINGSTON.

THE SUBSCRIBER begs to acquaint his friends in Upper and Lower Canada, and the United States, that he has removed to his new premises, formerly known as the King-STON HOTEL, the cognomen of which he has altered as above, where he hopes to be "always at home !"

THE BRITISH AMERICAN HOTEL

The Subscriber's success, while keeping the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, has incited him to renewed exertion, and now that his means of accommodation have increased, he hopes to give more general satisfaction than ever. His having attached to them an excellent storetable, both as regards culinary taste and variety shall be surpassed by none in America.

Wines and Liquons good, and well assorted. In concluding this advertisement, he takes the liberty of expressing his sincere gratitude to the gentlemen of Kingston, who have honoted his house with their patronage, trus ing that he shall always merit their kind regards. To the gentlemen of the Garrison, he would say, that as heretofore, they will always meet with a welcome at his house. JAMES McDONALD.

The names of two respectable persons, with their Christian names, professions, and places of abode, who will join the tenant in executing the indenture, as his sureties, must be inserted in the proposals, and the Ordnance Department does not undertake to procure the tenant

Sealed proposals, addressed to the respective Officers at Kingston, with the words "Tender for Canteen," written on the outside cover, will be received at this office, on or before 12 o'clock, noon, on the 8th March next, after which hour any proposals received cannot be noticed. By the mutiny act, Canteens are not liable to have troops billeted on them. All persons making Tenders for Canteens are to take notice, that they will be held to the strict performance of the covenant of their leases, and full payments of their rents without any remission or reduction further than the covenants of the lease itself set forth. THE FORM OF THE TENDER TO BE AS FOLLOWS:

I hereby offer for the Canteen in the Barfor twelve months, from the 25th March next, the rent of Pounds per annum, for the house as a dwelling, and the furper month for every ten Non-Commissioned Officers and Private Soldiers who may occupy the Barracks during that period; and p. opose Mr. and Mr.

as my sureties for the same. The rents of the Canteens as dwellings are to be proposed at the sums stated opposite to each in the following list, therefore the biddings will be upon what is offered for every ten men occupying the Barracks .- This number will be ascertained from the Barrack Masters' monthly returns, which are made up on the first day of every month; and no changes in the occupations of the Barracks which may take place in the progress of the month, either for or against the tenant, will be taken into account. No less number than ten will be charged against the tenant, nor will any odd number be calculated : thus, if the Barracks should be occupied by 148 men on the first day of the month, only 140 will be calculated for that month; the bidders are also desired to introduce no fractional parts of a penny in their offers, as they will not be noticed, nor will any tenders be noticed except such as are
