Moved by W. McCuniffe, Esq. second Mr. George Armstrong, that the Editors of the Chronicle & Gazette, British Wing, and Kingston Herald, he requested to publish the proceedings of the two Meetings. Thanks were then voted to the Chairman, and the Meeting edjourned sine die.

G. ARMSTRONG. Secretary.

A friend of Captain Lemoine, Royal Artillery, having seen in the British Whig newspaper, a report of a meeting held at an Inn called "The Colborne Arms," to take into consideration the raising of a penny subscription, to pay the fine awarded at the Assizes against coine, in which Lieut. Clarke, half pay R N., was President, intorme ! Capt. Lemoine of the circumstance, this morning, he justly considering Lieut. Clarke, by so doing, had offered him (a person entirely unknown) a gratuitous insult, requested his friend to wait upon that officer to demand the only satisfaction, which it was supposed a gentleman, acting as Lieut. Clark had done, would be ready to give.

After looking for Lieut. Clarke some time, he was found at the Dock Yard, when Capt. Lemoine's friend, after much desultory conversation, (Lieut. Clarke stating, he having seen a crowd at the Ian had gone in, and that he was repeatedly asked to take the Chair, which he as repeatedly refused, but at last was induord to do.) he said he meant no insult to Captain Lemoine, and he would not meet him, as he did not think he had offere! Capt. Lemoine a personal insult, but he did not think Capt. Lemoine had acted perfectly right. Upon his being pressed to say what he thought he (Captain Lemoine) ought to have done, he said he (Capt. L.) should have kicked his (Mr. Jackson's) shine, or soit in his face. This being so preposterous he was then asked simply whether he would give Captain Lemoine the satisfaction of a gentleman in an hour, which he objected to do, but would willingly meet friends of Capt. Lemoine, and state in their presence that he had no intention of insulting Capt. Lemoine, a gentleman and an officer en-

The following Officers in consequence assembled at Colonel Hughes' (Com'g 24th Regt.) Quarters, viz. Capt. Cameron, R. A., Asst. Surgeon Parratt, O. M. D. and the ag- office, in Brock Street, Kingston, where the grieved party Capt. Lemoine. After waiting rate of Premiums, By-laws, and form of anpear an hour, the annexed Letter was received from Lieut, Clarke, and in consequence Lt. Col. Hughes and Capt. Cameron went to him for a definitive settling of this business. J. B. CLARKE.

Licut. R. N. Having found Lieut. Clarke at his house, he signed the above and the following Certificate in their presence :-

" When I presided at the Meeting, as stated in the paper which has been read to me, and is in substance perfectly correct, and to which I have put my signature. I had no intention of insulting Captain Lemmine, Royal ded to, and work done with dispatch. Horse Artillery, who, as far as I know, is in every respect a Gentleman, an Officer, and a Man of Hunor.

J. B. CLARKS, Lieut. R. N. C. HUGHES. Lieut. Cul. 24th Regt. In our presence, A. CAMERON, Capt. R. A. Kingston, 24th Sept. 1836.

Kingston, Saturday, Sept. 24, 1836. Six.-On mature consideration, I do not think my-elf amenable to any act of a "i'ubhe Accting," condemnatory of an Individual whose conduct may appear culpable or not, as the parties concerned are differing so materially in their opinion.

With respect, believe me, Dear Sir, Your most obedient. J. B. CLARKE. Lieut. R. N. Lient, Colonel liughes,

&c. &c. &c.

The Mout and Gaze to and Quehec Mercury will please to give the above one inser ion, and send then servan s to the affice.
