We are requested by Dr. Williams, Oculiat, to

Mr. Williams .- By the following note addressed to us by His Worship the Mayor, it will be seen that this celebrated English Oculint has arrived in town, and is prepared to relieve those afflicted with diseases of the eye. Of the efficacy of his remedies sales and managing the yards. In either case, we can speak confidently, as during a residence of they would prove brave fellows, for there is not six months in New York while the doctor was practising in that city, several instances came under our observation-we may venture one instance. A gentleman with whom we were well acquainted had become totally deprived of the use of one of his eyes, and the other was in so bad a state as to threain the speedy lors of it also, when he applied to Mr. Williams, under whose care he continued for some time, and was eventually restored to the invasable blessing of perfect sight with both eyes. We have had cecasion to remember this, from his baving frequently expressed himself in the warmest terms of gratitude in reference to Mr. Williams, for the test of the sight. Att. Williams may be consulted either at his present residence in School street, from 9 to 12 s. m., and from 3 to 5 p. m., or at the Town Hall at noon. At the latter place he receives and attends to the poor. This, Mr. Williams has uniformly done without remuneration.— Mr. Williams, we understand, will remain here for four weeks, but as there is a possibility of his leaving earlier, we would advise all who are affected with any of the diseases to which the eye is subject, to make an early application.

To the Editor of the News. Str,-I take pleasure in announcing, through the columns of your journal, that Mr. Williams, the English Oculist, has arrived in town, and having applied to me for the use of the Town Hall, which has been granted to him, will attend there during is stay in Kingston, every day at noon, for the benevolent purpose of relieving the poor afflicted with

JOHN COUNTER, Mayor. Kingston, Oct. 20, 1841.

From the Canada Times. The son of Mr. J. B. Sabourin, trader, who has ocen unable to see for three months past, was taken by his father as a last resource to Dr. Williams, the Oculist. After having applied the remedies for the five days, the boy could see well enough to walk about alone, and there was every prospect of his obtaining the total recovery of his sight. This fine little boy now sees every thing. From the Commercial Messenger. Though we ourselves are blessed with excellent cyc-sight, we can easily imagine the pleasure which the following letter from His Honor the Mayor of this city will afford to those afflicted with discuses in ness, and are now recovering from that dreadful calamity; as Dr. Williams, in compliance with the request, has consented to remain at his present lodging until the 12th October. We are requested The "Columbia" met with rough weath- to inform our readers that on the 13th he will proceed to Kingston. Of the route, whether by the Ottawa or the St. Lawrence, due notice will be gien by Dr. Williams.
