Grand Jury Room, 25th May, 1842.

We have been requested to publish the following Report of the Committee on Police, appointed by the Common Council of Kingston. At the present time there can be but one opinion as to the usefulness of the Police Force in preserving order in the Town, and we can only regret that the funds at the disposal of the Corporation are not sufficient to varrant an increase to the Force, especially for he purposes of a Night Police. The use of the Station House was extended to the Town for another year at the late Session of the District Council. The intelligent reader will not fail to connect the painful facts in this Police Report, with the presentment of the Grand Jury, which also appears in our
