The New York Herald thus discourseth about Lord Ashburton's mission :

Late from Washington.—Negotiation with England.—The Commissioners appointed on the part of Massachusetts, Maine and New Brunswick, to settle the North Eastern Boundary, are now at Washington. Our information, derived from an authentic source, leads us to the belief that not only this vexatious question, but all the points of difficulty between Great Britain and the United States will be satisfactorily arranged and disposed of. Lord Ashburton's instructions are believed to be of the most liberal character, and he will be ready to stretch a point rather than permit the good understanding of the two governments to be longer endangered by differences that can be better settled now than at any subsequent period.

The North Eastern Boundary is really the only serious point between us and Great Britain.

The Caroline affair is susceptible of very easy and prompt adjustment. It is a matter of explanation and indemnity, and might have been finished by Mr. Fox in half an hour, any time within the last eighteen months. McNab had no authority for his conduct. His invasion of our territory was an act of gratuitous insolence, and the British government is ready to say so—not in such terms of course—and pay for the property destroyed.

As to the seizure of our vessels on the coast of Africa, the indemnity awarded in the case of the Tigris, confedes the principle, and we want nothing more. As to the case of the Creole, the ground assumed by Lord Palmerston is obviously unsound, and it is believed that Lord Aberdeen will recede from it. In any event no difficulty is apprehended from this source.

With respect to the question of the right of search, it is impossible for England to quarrel with us because we will not make a treaty with her—besides Lord Aberdeen has yielded all we have ever asked.

There is a dispute as to the boundary line on the Northern frontier, between Lake St. Clair and the Lake of the Woods, but that is very easily settled. There is no State government to consult, and it is merely a question of acres.

The Oregon question will probably not be touched. It will be mutually satisfactory to defer this business for the present. Meantime, our people will go on to occupy the territory without molestation.

The great obstacle in the way of settling the Notheast Boundary has been the obstinacy and inaction of Maine. The appointment of Commissioners is the first important step she has ever taken towards a settlement. It is in accordance with the wishes of the people of the whole State, and it is hardly to be conceived that either one or all of them will insist upon unreasonable terms, and thus risk the responsibility of thwarting a settlement. As to the commissioners from New Brunswick, they will no doubt be governed in a great measure by the wishes of the British Government, as expressed by Lord Ashburton ; and as he is so anxious to bring the thing to a favorable issue, there seems to be good reason to hope that every thing will be happily consummated.

We are happy to find that the virtues of the Caledonia Springs are becoming more and more known to the public, and the farther they are known the more they are appreciated. The following letter from a talented Medical gentle man, is one of many, which the proprietor has received from those who have been cured by the waters.—[Montreal Herald.

I certify that in the month of May last, by the advice of my friends, I visited the CALEDONIA SPRINGS, where I spent several days ; I was at that time, and had been for upwards of twelve years [illegible] and bladder, which caused me such severe pains, that I was very often totally unable to attend to my professional, or even private business. I had no sooner made use of the waters, than I found great relief. My urine, habitually scarce and high colored, became abundant and clear, and my stomach sympathetically affected, became in better order. The daily use of a few glasses of the Saline Spring every morning fasting, with gentle exercise afterwards, had the good effect of keeping my bowels gently open, and free from the usual pains which I was in the habit of experiencing, my appetite became good and my sleep sound.

I therefore think it my duty for Humanity's sake, highly to recommend to invalids in general, the use of the Caledonia Springs. But more especially to people afflicted with Rheumatism, Liver Complaints, and diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. To the Dyspeptics, they will also prove beneficial. The very powerful Diaretic effect of the Caledonia Waters induces me firmly to believe that mild Venereal and incipient Dropsical diseases, would be relieved, if not radically cured by the use of the Caledonia Spring Water only.

J. LINTON, Q. A.
Kingston, June 18th, 1842. 103

The Victory Arena AND Great Western Amphitheatre.

The Largest Company in the World.
150 Ladies, Gentlemen and Horses,
Will be exhibited in Kingston on the 7th, 8th and 9th days of July.

MR. S. H. NICHOLLS,

PROPRIETOR of this establishment, in offering to the citizens of the Canadian Metropolis these varied scenes and novelties for their amusement, has the pleasure of saying to them, that in addition to an unrivalled Equestrian Company, he has at great expense united it with a stage department, with a select and talented variety of performers, with the most beautiful scenery, wardrobe trappings, &c. &c., calculated to introduce lustrionic and equestrian performances in a style never before attempted either by himself or any other company in British North America.

The Pavilion, which is constructed on an entirely new plan, is of the most commodious dimensions, being 150 feet in length and 80 feet wide.

The interior of the Amphitheatre will present a style of elegant decorations perfectly novel, combining the extremes of classic neatness, and every variety of magnificent ornament.

THE STAGE,

For those fond of Melo Dramatic spectacles and grand Equestrian and Histrionic performances, which are now rendering Francony's Olympic Pantomimes, Paris and the London, New York, Philadelphia and Albany Amphitheatres, the most fashionable places of public resort, is 60 feet deep by 40 wide.

The splendid drop Curtain which contains 600 feet of canvas, and is an accurate representation of the landing of Columbus, the intrepid Navigator and discoverer of the American continent, painted by I. Lamb, Esq., a first rate scene Artiste, is admitted by all who have seen it to be one of the most magnificent efforts ever produced.

The manager is happy in being able to announce that he has secured the services of that most extraordinary man Rehaddi Khan, the greatest wonder of the world!

Among the superb Equestrian representations in the circle is the new and splendid entree and pageant illustrated with beautiful music and adorned with the most correct and gorgeous costume, entitled Amazons of the Golden Cross and Knights of the Silver Shield. In which the principal male and female equestrians will appear, mounted on their highly trained chargers, and perform evolutions of challenge, invasion, tournament and acceptance, terminating with a brilliant finale movement, after the manner described by the writers of the early period, when warfare was accounted liberal and noble, and devotion to beauty was held the only true religion.

Also the Chivalric Tournament! or Knights of the olden times.

Among the interesting pieces which will be introduced on the stage, in the grand equestrian Drama of Timour the Tartar, in which the whole dramatic company, male and female, will be introduced.

Also, the grand romantic Drama taken from the Arabian Night's Entertainments, of the FORTY THIEVES or the Oil Merchant of Bagdad. Together with the grand chivalric Action and animated Heraldic Illustration and Equestrian Romance from the German of Schiller,

"Kampf Mit Dem Drachen," entitled, "St. George and the Dragon!!!

For the due and faithful representation of the above splendid Heraldic performance, according to all that can be conceived of its having really taken place, a great expense has been incurred. The Dragon, the greatest and most extraordinary theatrical property ever made, is acknowledged as a fictitious work of Art, and must in return be seen. The natural and cautious rising of the head, the darting of its tripple tongue, the terrifying glare of the monsters's eyes, and the towering grandeur of its wide expanding wings, altogether invest it with enough of versamility to convey proportionate illusions of ideal nature, and identify it with the looker on, as the hideous animal itself. The destruction of the formidable Dragon being accomplished, the King, Lords and Knights of the Order, all richly attired in splendid dresses, and accompanied by the Ladies and Damsels of the Court, mounted on beautiful palfreys, harnessed in trappings of price, arrive to congratulate the heroic Knight, whom they find fainting and exhausted. St. George, the champion Knight—Mr. H. F. Nicholls. Knights, Lords, Squires, Ladies, Pages, &c.—by every member of the company.

☞ The entertainments will be different from all former exhibitions, and will be varied every evening.

With the utmost confidence he assures the citizens of Kingston that the company he will present to their notice on this occasion will be characterized by the most graceful and unexcelled performances as well as correct and manly deportment—presenting also such a variety of the most variegated scenes of acknowledged excellence in the profession as has never been exhibited by any travelling company.

A Band of superior talent is attached to the Company, and will lead the grand procession of twenty-one new and excellent carriages, of the most costly description, with the most beautiful stud, style and magnificence, ever offered before the public.

Price of admission—Box, 2s. 6d. Pit, 1s. 3d.

N. B.—The utmost attention, care and circumspection will be exercised in the admission of visitors to the Amphitheatre, in order to secure the confidence and comfort of such parents and families as may choose to visit this establishment. In a word every exhibition of immorality will be peremptorily excluded, and to this arrangement the proprietor pledges himself to his patrons.

The performance the first day will commence at half past 7 P. M., and on the two subsequent days at 2 P. M. and half past 7 P. M.

Children under 10 years of age will be admitted to the Box at half price.

C. GRISWOLD, Agent.
