A NEW VOLUME.

THE NEW MIRROR LITERATURE AND THE FINE

ARTS EDITED BY G. P. MORRIS & N. P. WILLIS, (Each No. contains a BEAUTIFUL STEEL ENGRAVING.)

GOOD as the Mirror has hitherto been (good enough to prosper) we have edited it as the Israelites built the walls of Jerusalem -- with the best hand otherwise employed. The beginnings of all enterprises are difficult-more especially beginnings without capital -and the attention of one editor has been occupied with the management of the machinery now in regular operation, while the other, till the concern should be prosperous, was compelled to lahor diligently for other publications. One by one (to change the figure) there hindering harnacles have been washed off our ker! by going more rapidly ahead, and, with the beginning of the third volume, both editors will be entirely and exclusively devoted to the Minnon-equal to setting studding sails and steady. After the newspapers have had their pick of the news, we have a trick of making a spicy leash of the remainder, (gleaning many a choice bit, by the way, which had been overlooked or slighted) and we undertake, hereby to keep the readers of the Mirror up to the Times. Every body reads newspapers and gets the outline of the world's going round-but we sha'l do just Scaled Tenders at Mentreal, at noon, what the newspapers leave undone-fil up on Friday the 29th instant, for BILLS AT the outline-tell you "some more," (as the THIRTY DAYS SIGHT, on Her Majes- children say)-put in the lights and ty's Treasury, payable in Mexican or United shadows of the picture done by newspapers States Dollars, to be deposited in the Com- in the rough. A secret for your ear, dear reader :- By selling the plute of coch number for half what it is worth, you get the reading for nothing! Each plate is worth a shilling. to put in an album-and the whole Mirror rosts but sixpence! So it is, in fact, for nothing that you get sixteen pages of the best literature that we can procure for you, including descriptions of the things about town that are seldomest described and best count egernoung. All course we can only afford this by very small profits on a very large circulation, and ten thousand subscribers are but the turn of the tide. The next ten thousand (into which we are feeling
