THE GOOD OLD PLOUGH. Let them sing who may of the battle fray, And the deeds that have long since post; Let them chaunt in praise of the tar whose days Are spent on the ocean vast;

I would honour them even now, But I'd give far more from my heart's full store To the cause of the Good Old Plough. Let them laud the notes, that in music floats Through their bright and their glittering halls ;

I would render to these all the worship you please,

While the amorous twirl of the hair's bright curl Round the shoulder of beauty falls; But dearer to me is the song from the tree, And the rich and blossoming bough; Oh! these are the sweets which the rustic greets As he follows the Good Old Plough.

From the ploughman's lusty throat; Did the hunter his shout ever yet give out To the brown woods a merrier note? Though he follows no hound, yet his day is crown'd With a triumph as good I trow, As though anticred head at his feet lay dead,

Instead of the Good Old Pluugh.

Then how jocund the song as it comes along

Full many there be that we daily see With a selfish and hollow pride, Who the Ploughman's lot, in his humble cot, With a scornful look deride. Yet I'd rather, aye, a hearty shake

From his hand than to wealth I'd bow, For the honest grasp of that hand's rough clasp Has stord by the Good Old Plough. All honour be then to these grey old men, When at last they are bow'd with toil; Their warfare then o'er, why they battle no more, For they've conquered the stubborn soil.

And the chaplets each wears are his sifter hairs, And ne'er shall the victor's brow With a laurelled crown to the grave go down,

Like these sons of the Good Old Plough.

LEGISLATIVE FUN.

DOINGS IN THE MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE. A correspondent of the N.O. Tropic in the lower branch of the Mississippi Le- and said-L. S. LITTLEJOHN, of a generous public they lose to merit and regislature. It is highly amusing. He says: " At the evening sess on, every member of ladies graced the gallery. Some rare fun play the fool? I look upon the bill propowas expected, as it was known that Lindsay, the Representative from Itawamba God!"

The committee expected property that son, and illiterate in his discourse. Some of this man's firmness for his position may he gathered from the following verbatim report of his speech on the motion to reduce the salaries of the Judiciary, a measure, introduced a few days since, and opposed by the respectable of both parties. "Where I was raised, in Old Alarbarm, we never gin a judge of any sort more nor fifteen hundred a year-and if I may be allowed to conjecture, I do reckon that we had jest as good judges in Alarbarm as you can raise in to practise 'conomy—tharfore, I goes for 'conomy; and sorry am I to observe that many which I thought knowed better, are a strainin' and a reachin' arter the high puss"

-(purse.) The learned legislator on this evening, Thursday, introduced a bill, which the clerk read, but was prevented by his own fits of to be killed? We are only eating ants, and of the House several times attempted to the members. "A Bill to relieve the Free Citizens of Mississippi and Travellers. Be it hereby enacted, that it is lawful for any white citizens of Mississippi to sell alcoholous, vinous, and other fermenting liquors in any quantity over a quart, provided he keeps order in the house when the same is drunk.

itself into a committee of the whole, to consider the Bill, which was again and again read over by the Clerk. Dr. L. was desired to explain who was to keep order and who was to be drunk? He rose and uttered the following speech: "Well, I railly aint no objection myself, to splain the bill, becas I think the bill 'splains itself. We all on us like a leetle drap o' sutthin' ardent-some genelmen ings, at 6 o'clock, and Thusday Morning at round me who takes a drap whenever they kin-and these genelmon, as well as myself is now by law obliged to buy a gallon when ly throw each other down from the branch- azine. Both sexes go perfectly naked, and trary to the Constitution, contrary to hu-man natur, and contrary to the rights of all free white citizens of the State of Masseysap and travellers in giniral.

" I knowed a genelman-a right gentee genelman too he was, I do assure you, genlmen, who was travelin in this State with his wife and a hull crowd o' leetle ones in may be willing to furnish for the service of a waggin, and his lady was tuck with the shakes, and his bottle was run out. There was a fix to be in genelmen! he didn't want to buy a gallon of ordent becase it war'nt convenient-so he asked the landlord to fill his bottle at a fair price-and the landlord, able quality, one half of which to be delivered who was a clever feller, and knowed what it was to have the shakes and be out o' licker, why he filled the genelman's bottle at a June following.

Tenders for the Stene Coal are to State of fair price, when another genelman who Peninsular war. She was in strength and ed, Sir John assured the Queen that, having trary to the laws of Masseysap," and then this genelman goes out and informs agin the landlord for selling licker to the genelman whose wife had the shakes by less than a der the dying and the dead without com- adopted his own grandson, who ultimately gallon, and if they had'nt knowed him well punction, while the next day she would succeeded his father in his honors, and his all around them parts he'ed a been fined travel thirty miles of country to procure a grandfather in his wealth .- [Drummond's and imprisoned for doin' as any genelman rabbit or a fowl for a wounded officer. "I knowed another genelman whose horse was tuck right sick, and he was told warm-hearted personage. In every action that a little brandy and a half pint o' camptemperance and never drinked-but for all and, whether advancing or retreating, though campfire. Is this law for any white man to live by?

"Why, I, myself, genelmen, were once barked in the Garonne, Mary quitted France travellin' down there by the Yellerbusher, with a fine child, a fifth busband, and (as with a friend, beside myself, when I felt unanimously agreed with me in the same. Well, I, myself was obliged to pay for a gallon when I oney wanted to fill a three but I never knowed a genelman carry a buttle big enough to hold a gallon."

This speech was loudly cheered throughout, and Mr. L.'s solemn earnestness of manner contributed materially to heighten the effect. The best of the joke was that his bug-bear, "the gallon law," as it is called, has been repealed for some considerable length of time.

A member moved to strike out "alcholous and vinous," and insert " table beer." An amendment was moved and seconded and put on paper-the Clerk read it aloud, and it proved to be a parody on Russell's song, "A Life on the Ocean Wave," beginning "A day in a muddy

Another " amendment" introduced the Fowler, ending with

" And soon there will, if Heaven pleases, Be a swarm of little Beeses."

Here the fun grew fast and furious-the ladies left the gallery-the chairman rapped gives an account of some queer proceedings in vain, and Mr. Balfour rese in great heat

Whilst ladies persist in maintaining the strictly, determine, condition, meen county asturally, as it were, take the opposite line, pigram now going the rounds of the papers that of attack; otherwise, if both parties bout the marriage of a Mr. Bee to a Miss held aloof, there would be no more marriages; and the two hosts would die in their respective inaction without ever coming to a battle. Thus it is evident that, as the ladies will not, the men must take the offensive. I, for my part, have made at least a score of chivalrous attacks upon several strongly fortified hearts. Sometimes I began my works too late in the season, and winter suddenly came and rendered further labours impossible; sometimes I have attacked the breach madly, sword in band, and have been plunged violently, from the scaling-ladder into the ditch; sometimes I have made a decent lodgment in the place, blows up a mine, and I am reattered to the deuce! and sometimes when I have been in the v ry heart of the citadel -- ah, that I should say it!-a sudden panic has struck me, and I have run like the British out of Carthagena! One grows tired after a while of such perpetual activity. Is it not time that the ladies should take an innings? Let us widowers and bachelors form an association to declare, that, for the next hundred years, we will make keet the young women come and make love to us; let them write us verses; let them ask us to nance, get us type and cups of ten, and bety us on with our cloaks at the hall-door; and if they are eligible, we may perhaps be induced to yield and say, "La, Miss Hopkins-1 really never-1 nm so agitatedask pupa ?"- | Frarer's Magazine.

ANECDOTE OF QUEEN ELIZABETH.

In the thirty-sixth year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, Lord Compton ran away with Eliza Spencer, the only child and beiress of Sir John Spencer, Lord Mayor of London, concealed in a baker's basket .--Her father was so incensed at him that he disinherited his daughter, until Queen Elizabeth interposed to effect a reconciliation. When she was about to be confined of her first child, the Queen asked Sir John to stand sponsor with her to the first offspring composed of the spinal process of a serpent. of a young couple, happy in their love, but discarded by their father.
