Elegant Script Type.
THE SUBSCRIBER OFFERS FOR SALE.
 At the Albany Type Foundry, No. 3 Liberty Street, on the most favorable terms, every variety of Printing Types, together with Cuts, Brass Rule, Cases, Galleys, Chases, Composing-Sticks and printing utensils generally. ALSO, a new English Script of which the Caption and Signature of this are Specimens, and a new Great Primer Script cut in similar style.
 These founts were got up with great care and expense, and are believed to be decidedly superior to any others cast in this country. They were cut from the latest London scripts, and on the most approved plan. In these founts, the double letters are complete, exhibiting that perfect connexion of the letters in imitation of writing, which can be effected by no other method; and completely avoiding that broken and disconnected appearance of script cast in the ordinary way, which resembles italic letter rather than writing, especially when it becomes a trifle worn. The plan on which these founts are cut is so systematic, that the composition and distribution are nearly or quite as simple as that of plain letter.
 Script has, besides, been very objectionable as to the body; it being cast either on a square body, and most of the letters having of course some part of the face projecting over the side, and very liable to break; or being on a plain inclined body, and with great difficulty kept in line. Both these objections are completely obviated in the present founts—the letter being on an inclined body, the face cannot break off like that on square body—and the type being cast with a notch and shoulder in the sides, is kept in line as easily as type of square body.
 These founts require a common pair of cases only, with a few of the lower case boxes divided. Each fount will be accompanied with a plan of the cases, and the necessary directions. And cases of the first quality, with the boxes divided in the proper manner, will be furnished, when ordered.
 As no unnecessary sorts are put in the founts, 30 pounds of the English script is sufficient for a mortgagor, and about half that quantity is generally sufficient for common jobs. Of the Great Primer, about one quarter more is required.

VILLAGE OF THOROLD.
 THIS Flourishing Village, on the Welland Canal, from its growing importance, deserves public attention. It is situated on the mountain ridge, or summit level of the Canal where the lockage commences; and although deriving great and important advantages from its extent of water power, it possesses many natural advantages, being in a direct line between the city of the Falls and St. Catharines, and about 8 miles from the former place, in the heart of a wealthy and flourishing country, and affording every facility for sending off produce to different markets, having a direct communication by water to both lakes. From its being elevated upwards of three hundred feet above the level of Lake Ontario, it has a fine commanding prospect, with good pure water and a salubrious air.
 It is now scarcely three years since its commencement, and contains 46 families, with a population of 260 souls, among whom are a number of good and respectable mechanics. It has four saw mills, capable of sawing from 15 to 18,000 feet of lumber per day, and a first rate flouring mill; three merchant shops, and a post-office, and from its situation machinery to any extent can be erected; and affords an excellent opening to mechanics of every description. A good tannery is much wanted, which could be carried on very profitably to a great extent, as bark can be brought by water from the forests of Chippawa and Grand River.
 There are also two places of public worship and another in contemplation, and a medical practitioner from Edinburgh.
 The object of the subscriber in giving this public notice, is to hold out inducements to persons wishing to purchase,—he will sell lots upon very reasonable terms, and upon long credit, to actual settlers only.

 UPPER CANADA
 CIRCULAR.
 Prescott, 20th Feb. 1834.
 Sir,—The building committee of the steam boat now building at Prescott, to ascend the rapids from Montreal, have directed a further instalment of ten per cent upon the stock subscribed by you, to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer, Alpheus Jones Esq. at this place, on or before the tenth of March next. I am directed to say, that the building committee would feel much gratified at your using your influence in your neighborhood to get more stock taken, feeling fully assured that the enterprise will succeed, and prove to the stockholders a profitable investment; independent of the gratification it must afford to every friend to improvement to reflect that he has aided in an enterprise that will create a revolution in the commerce of the Canadas.
 The committee cannot, for a moment admit, even should their expectations not be fully realized, that the stock would fail to make a profitable return upon some other route. From all the information they have obtained, however, they do not entertain any doubts whatever of the entire success of the project.
 Their determination is to have the boat in full operation by the first of July, and they trust they will have the satisfaction of declaring a handsome dividend at the close of the navigation.
 It would be desirable to get about £1,500 more stock taken, and they trust you will be able to aid them in effecting it.
 By order of the committee,
 L. HILLIARD, Secretary.

PROSPECTUS
 OF A MONTHLY MAGAZINE.
ON A NEW AND COMPREHENSIVE PLAN TO BE CALLED THE CANADIAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE.
 IT is intended, in a short time, to submit to public approval or condemnation, a monthly Magazine of a character more extended than has hitherto been published in a British colony.
 Monthly and Quarterly periodicals have already been tried, but with one existing exception, without success; the projectors of the present work persuade themselves they can discern something in the limited nature of those works to account for such an issue—something in the altered aspect of the times to warrant them in anticipating success for a periodical of a more comprehensive character. Under this impression they submit their plan.
 In an older society of a more artificial character,—in a larger and more motley population a magazine will find ample support, though confined to the advocacy of one class of principles, or the illustration of one branch of science; England, France, Germany, and America have their mining reviews, their Phenomenon Journals, and their Reviews and Magazines devoted to every possible modification of political and theological creed. Canada, if she desire to call into existence a periodical literature, must be content at first with one or two magazines embracing all and every thing.
 With this view, it is proposed to add articles on general politics of any creed, provided they discuss questions in candid, fair, and courteous language; a-

A NEW STEAM BOAT.
 To be built at Prescott, on an improved Plan, to ply between Prescott and Montreal.
 AT a general meeting of the inhabitants of Prescott, called for the purpose of taking into consideration the most expedient plan of building a STEAM PASSAGE BOAT, to ply between PRESCOTT & MONTREAL, A. McMillan Esq. being called to the Chair, and Mr. W. B. Wells appointed Secretary, the following Resolutions were proposed and adopted:—
 1st. That this meeting deem it expedient to construct a Boat at Prescott, of the following description, viz.—Two cylinders of an elliptical, or oval form, 176 feet in length, 5 in depth, and 9 feet wide; to be built of staves, and bolted together by means of iron hoops on the inside, without any timbers; the ends formed in such a manner, as to give a good bow and stern. The cylinders to be placed twelve feet apart, with a deck extended across them to project two feet outside, measuring 176 by 31, and bolted by means of iron bolts, and well secured by iron hoops. A wheel of 25 feet in diameter, and 12 feet in length, to be placed between the Boats, and worked by two Low Pressure Engines of 30 horse power each. When thus far advanced, the Boat not to draw more than 20-14 inches, and move through the water at the rate of 18 miles per hour.
 2d. That, from estimates, the meeting are of opinion, that such a boat can be constructed and put into operation for £5000.
 3d. That, to insure a more extensive and impartial circulation of Stock, this sum be divided into Eight Hundred Shares at Six Pounds Five Shillings each, and until the Boat be completed, the Stock be not transferable, except by the consent of a majority of the Committee of Management.
 4th. That, until the completion of the Boat no Stockholder be entitled to a vote on any share or shares over fifty.
 5th. That Hiram Norton, Alexander McMillan, Alpheus Jones, Joseph Whitney, Lonson Hilliard, Esquires, of Prescott, Henry Gildersleeve, Esq. of Gananoque, be the Managing and Building Committee.
 6th. That, a committee be appointed to open the Books and take up subscriptions for Stock, who are to report to the Committee of Management as early as the 15th day of February next, and that the following be a committee, viz:—
 Messrs. Wm. Ritchie & Co. Montreal.—C. & J. McDonald & Co. Gananoque.—Joseph Whitney and W. B. Wells. Esqs. Prescott.—Guy C. Wood, Esq. Cornwall.—George Brouse Esq. Matilda.—D. C. Judson, Esq. Ogdensburgh, U. S.—J. G. Bethune, Esq. Colouurg.—G. Monroe, Esq. York.—Russell Prentiss, Esq. Hamilton.—Lewis Clement, Esq. Niagara.—Henry Gildersleeve, Esq. Kingston. Bill Flint, Esq. Brockville.—George A. Clark, Esq. Brantford.
 7th. That, as soon as £2,500 pound be subscribed, the Managing and Building Committee may proceed to make Contracts for the Building of said Boat.
 8th. That the Committee of Management be hereby authorised to open the Books immediately, and send them to each of the Committee for taking up the Subscriptions; and that they be also authorised to proportion the amount of each instalment to be paid in, and fix the time for the payment of the same; and also the time for forfeiture in default of payment.

THE CANADIAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE.
 An honest and consistent Tory has pledged us an article now and then, and an unbending liberal is in our list for the same purpose; and as both are educated gentlemen, though of adverse schools, the Canadian Monthly Magazine will be the humble means of instituting a sort of friendly suit—not between parties, for party it eschews—but between contending political principles. The decision the projectors pretend not to take upon themselves,—that must rest with the public.
 While reviews are devoted to one class of opinions, and read chiefly by those who subscribe thereto, and what is worse, deal with evidence, under the security, that if refutations appear in a review of opposite principles, it will not reach the reader's eye. A conviction that not only the same review, but even the same number may contain a well written article on the other side, will, therefore, operate as a salutary check upon a careless, as well as a dishonest dealing with evidence.
 In this mode of discussing disputable points, the lover of truth must needs rejoice, though as it will make sad havoc with the trade of a political partizan the projectors are induced to hope it will not be without enemies.
 Having said thus much of the political character of the Canadian Monthly Magazine, the public must not lose sight of the fact, that other subjects will occupy the larger portion of its pages. The improvement and development of the resources of the Canadas, the promotion of education, sketches of society, literary essays and scientific disquisitions will all find their appropriate places. In short, every thing will be attended to calculated to render the work varied, instructive and entertaining.
 In a country making use of two languages, the exclusion of either must destroy—or, at all events, interfere much with the usefulness of a work of the kind; to render it, therefore, more essentially comprehensive, the Canadian Monthly Magazine is proposed as the vehicle for articles in both French and English, the rule of admission being solely that already named in the fourth paragraph of this prospectus.
 Though the original character of the Canadian Monthly Magazine will not be departed from without good and sufficient reason, still when any article in the English, French or American periodicals, of a character likely to be highly interesting to the colonial reader, forces itself upon the notice of the Editors, it will be inserted.
 Lastly, the public must be reminded that two conditions are necessary to the successful prosecution of the design. First, a constant supply of literary assistance. Second, a subscription list sufficient to cover expenses.
 The work will consist of four sheets, or 64 pages. So, very neatly printed on good paper. It will be ready for delivery on the last day of every month, at TWENTY SHILLINGS per annum delivered in town, and TWENTY-FOUR SHILLINGS elsewhere by mail.
 Communications to be addressed to the Editors of the Canadian Monthly Magazine, at H. H. CUNNINGHAM'S, or to the Daily Advertiser Office.
 Editors of newspapers who are friendly to the design of the above periodical will oblige by giving the prospectus a few insertions.

THE CANADIAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE.
 An honest and consistent Tory has pledged us an article now and then, and an unbending liberal is in our list for the same purpose; and as both are educated gentlemen, though of adverse schools, the Canadian Monthly Magazine will be the humble means of instituting a sort of friendly suit—not between parties, for party it eschews—but between contending political principles. The decision the projectors pretend not to take upon themselves,—that must rest with the public.
 While reviews are devoted to one class of opinions, and read chiefly by those who subscribe thereto, and what is worse, deal with evidence, under the security, that if refutations appear in a review of opposite principles, it will not reach the reader's eye. A conviction that not only the same review, but even the same number may contain a well written article on the other side, will, therefore, operate as a salutary check upon a careless, as well as a dishonest dealing with evidence.
 In this mode of discussing disputable points, the lover of truth must needs rejoice, though as it will make sad havoc with the trade of a political partizan the projectors are induced to hope it will not be without enemies.
 Having said thus much of the political character of the Canadian Monthly Magazine, the public must not lose sight of the fact, that other subjects will occupy the larger portion of its pages. The improvement and development of the resources of the Canadas, the promotion of education, sketches of society, literary essays and scientific disquisitions will all find their appropriate places. In short, every thing will be attended to calculated to render the work varied, instructive and entertaining.
 In a country making use of two languages, the exclusion of either must destroy—or, at all events, interfere much with the usefulness of a work of the kind; to render it, therefore, more essentially comprehensive, the Canadian Monthly Magazine is proposed as the vehicle for articles in both French and English, the rule of admission being solely that already named in the fourth paragraph of this prospectus.
 Though the original character of the Canadian Monthly Magazine will not be departed from without good and sufficient reason, still when any article in the English, French or American periodicals, of a character likely to be highly interesting to the colonial reader, forces itself upon the notice of the Editors, it will be inserted.
 Lastly, the public must be reminded that two conditions are necessary to the successful prosecution of the design. First, a constant supply of literary assistance. Second, a subscription list sufficient to cover expenses.
