

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE STEAM-BOAT KINGSTON, grateful for the very liberal patronage which they have received from the public, beg leave to give notice that in consequence of the unfortunate circumstance of the steam-boat Brockville breaking her engine, they have allowed the KINGSTON to take the place of the Brockville on the rapids, until she is repaired, as no other boat could perform those trips, and without which the public would suffer much inconvenience by the interruption of the navigation.

The Proprietors of the Kingston beg leave to state that they have procured the public's well tried friend and faithful servant the steam-boat to supply the place of the Kingston on the Bay and River until the Kingston resumes her trips again on the Bay.

The Toronto will leave Prescott on Monday and Thursday afternoons, touch at Brockville & French Creek to Kingston. Will leave Kingston for the Bay on Tuesday and Friday mornings.

Will leave the Carrying Place for Kingston on Wednesday and Saturday mornings.

Will leave Kingston for Prescott on Wednesday evenings and on Monday mornings at 5 o'clock.

Every exertion shall be made in the Toronto to ensure the comfort of passengers.

New Store.
J. D. BRYCE & Co.
HAVING opened a Dry Goods Establishment in Stone Street (three doors below the Commercial Hotel) respectfully intimate their intention to sell for cash at unusually low prices. Buying their goods with ready money in the different places of Manufacture in Great Britain, and importing them direct to Kingston, they are enabled to sell cheap, and a trial they hope will convince the public, that as they have the ability, they have also the disposition to do this. Professions are in general very properly disregarded, and therefore in place of giving assurances to the public, J. D. B. & Co. invite the examination of their stock, leaving it to commend itself both in regard to quality and prices.

Every purchaser will be placed upon the same footing, and as the lowest prices will at once be named, no abatements can be made. Terms, always Cash. Selling at a very reduced profit, credit cannot be given to any party, however respectable, but purchasers will find that ready money returns for them all the advantages that it ought to command.

Besides articles in common use, J. D. B. & Co.'s stock embraces Goods of an unusually fine description, and Fancy articles in great variety.

Real west of England Broad Cloths; Figured Satins for bonnets with Shapes and Mountings; Elegant French Garnitures, Scarfs and Handkerchiefs; Real French Cambrics, and the most beautiful patterns of the season in Ladies' Dresses.

A large assortment of Prints, Checks, Stripes, bleached and unbleached cotton Shirtings; Merinoes, Bombazetts & Bombazeens, Silks, Crapes, Ribbons and Gauzes; Hats, Caps and Straw Bonnets; Belts, Braces, Umbrellas, Parasols and a large supply of Traces, Taps and other small Wares.

J. D. B. & Co. invite a call from country merchants who, besides being supplied at the Montreal prices, will be assured in any lengths or quantities.

Kingston, May 30th, 1834. 33-6us

THE SUBSCRIBER,
BEGS leave to inform the Gentry and Public of Kingston and its Vicinity, that he has opened his Long Room, and is now ready to receive consignments from all parties, willing to realize immediate cash for Landed Property, Merchandise, Household Furniture, &c. &c.

His Nightly Auctions will be continued as usual, at which every article in the DRY GOOD LINE, may be purchased at unprecedentedly low prices.

HUGH SCANLAN,
Auctioneer and Commission Merchant,
Kingston, Feb. 6, 1834.

Miss Mary McNeighen
RESPECTFULLY informs the Ladies of Kingston and its neighborhood, that she has lately commenced a Ladies' School in the Front Chamber of the Stone Building occupied by Mr. Henry Mayo, corner of Rear and Clarence Streets.

THE LADY'S BOOK,

A MONTHLY MAGAZINE, OF ORIGINAL AND SELECTED TALES, POETRY, ESSAYS, & MUSIC. Embellished with several hundred different ENGRAVINGS, AND QUARTERLY PLATES OF The Philadelphia Fashions, SUPERBLY COLOURED.

WHEN, about four years ago, the Lady's Book was submitted to the test of public opinion, the proprietors made no professions likely to create expectations which they could anticipate even an improbability of realizing, they were nevertheless determined progressively to adopt every improvement which might assist to please their patrons should suggest; and have now the remunerating satisfaction, after having faithfully and steadily pursued this course, of seeing it sanctioned by a circulation more extensive than that of any other monthly journal in the United States; and as this extent of patronage is the most admirable evidence of its past utility, it is offered at the best guarantee of its future excellence. The literary department of the Lady's Book is of admitted superiority; for in conjunction with the great but unobtrusive liberality with which they encourage the development of native authors, they possess facilities of selection, through their foreign agents and correspondents from works of which no other copies are sent to this country.

Among the many claims which the Lady's Book has on the patronage of Americans, the least in pretence, that we the first publication to present correct representations of the newest fashions of female costume, and in this respect it may fairly claim a superiority over all other contemporaries; for we proprietors seldom calculate the expense of rendering it altogether deserving of its increase and increasing patronage.

Never was the title of a book more justified by its content than that of the Lady's Book—Literature, foreign & domestic—selected and original—Engravings on steel and wood, of scenery, distinguished persons, fashions and embroidery, all rich and beautiful, and from the hands of the most eminent artists. Its literature is particularly select, free from dullness, though teeming with usefulness, and conveying pleasure and amusement through the sensitive medium of delicate discrimination. To millions of readers of both sexes, the Lady's Book offers many advantages, each number being accompanied by a popular piece, arranged with accommodations for the pious, &c. &c. under the surveillance of competent persons, and to its pages the general reader can always turn and find amusement, novelty, and instruction. Each number shall, as hitherto, average 60 pages of extra royal octavo letter press, printed with clear, neat and beautiful type, on paper of the finest texture and whitest colour. It will continue to be embellished with the most splendid engravings on copper and steel, embracing every variety of subject, and the quarterly numbers will, as heretofore, contain figures of Philadelphia Fashions, two, and occasionally three, beautifully and faithfully coloured, to commence with the January number, being No. 1 of the eighth volume. It may be necessary to say that these engravings are designed, drawn and engraved expressly for this work, by competent persons, specially engaged for that purpose. The embellishments of the work are consequently superior to any which have been furnished in any other similar publication, and from the arrangements which have been made, there is every reason to believe they will be still more superior. In addition to the steel engravings, each number will contain several beautiful wood engravings on fine yellow tinted paper, and every exertion exercised to sustain the present exalted reputation and admitted usefulness of the Lady's Book. The publication of the PRIZE TABLES will be resumed and continued, and several communications in prose and verse are expected from writers who have already attained much celebrity by the excellence of their published contributions.

The terms of the LADY'S BOOK are three dollars per annum, payable in advance. All orders, (post paid) addressed to the publishers will be promptly attended to. Persons remitting ten dollars, shall be entitled to four copies of the work. Persons remitting fifty dollars, shall be entitled to six copies of the work, and additional copies of the best engravings. Persons remitting ten new subscribers, & forwarding the cash for the same, besides a discount of fifteen per cent, shall be presented with a copy of the third volume of the work superbly bound. Postmasters, publishers, and other responsible persons, wishing to become Agents of the work, are requested to send their address to the proprietors. Uncurrent notes of solvent banks received in payment at par value.
