remains last year having expired, and several manuscripts have been commenced and continued, till the budget of original matter is exhausted. As the publishers of the Galaxy mean to relax none of their efforts to make the paper well worth the patronage of a reading public they have decided to repeat the offer of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS, in the same sums as before, viz. $50 for the best Original Tale; $25 for the best Original Poem; $25 for the best Article on a Humorous Subject. The writers are at liberty to select their own scenes and characters; and the papers of the Galaxy having decided not to confine them to any particular age or country. The manuscripts may be directed to the Editor of the Galaxy, postpaid till the last of April, 1835, and the award will be made during the month of May following. The addresses of the writer should be inclosed in a sealed note marked "Name," and the directions of the successful writers only will be opened.

In addition to the matter contributed for the prize which will from time to time continue to be offered; the publishers determining to spare no pains to make the Galaxy, a useful, readable and interesting paper, have engaged contributors from the pens of practised writers. To say they have done all they can do would be a contradiction to the present expression of their intention to increase their efforts to merit that patronage as that patronage increases. Although our list of country exchanges is already sufficiently large, and we have felt obliged to decline new exchanges; we now offer an exchange to any country editor who will give this notice a few insertions.
