PROSPECTUS

OF A TREATISE ON AGRICULTURE, ADAPTED TO THE CLIMATE AND CIRCUMSTANCES OF CANADA.

A BOUNTIFUL Providence has furnished Canada with inexhaustible resources of wealth, in her most fertile soil & climate which is by no means unfavourable to Agriculture. The due improvement of these, & other natural advantages, is capable of giving riches and every reasonable enjoyment to her present, and a vastly increased population.

The importance of Agriculture to Canada, must be obvious to every one capable of forming a sound judgment in such matters. It is Agriculture that must afford the direct supply of all her greatest wants. It must in this, and in every other country, be the parent of Manufactures and Commerce, and the best means of promoting civilization and population; consequently it ever will be the most universal and useful of arts. In almost all nations, the most powerful individuals derive their wealth and consequence from their property in land, cultivated and managed by the husbandman.

Agriculture, therefore and agriculture alone, can support us without the help of others, in certain plenty, and real dignity. While our ground is covered with corn, and cattle, we can want for nothing. Manufactures and delicacies that we may require from without, corn and cattle will purchase, if we will only raise them in abundance, and excellence.

From the importance of Agriculture, and the great interest that is consequently felt on the subject, in the British Isles, and other countries of Europe, a varied and voluminous mass of knowledge has been accumulated, which would be most useful to every one who would wish to practice the art with success himself, or understand when well practiced for him by others. To combine as far as practicable the portion of this knowledge which I conceive to be most useful and necessary for the study of the Canadian Agriculturist, is the object of the treatise which I have now nearly ready for the press, and the plan of which I submit with great deference to the consideration of all those engaged in the art. The sources from which I have made selections, are the modern British and French Authors, of decided reputation and merit, with my own observations and experience, during my early years in the occupancy of extensive farms in Ireland, chiefly as a Grazier, & for a period of nearly seventeen years that I have been a farmer in Canada. Several years of the latter period I have had the honor to be Secretary to the District and county of Montreal Agricultural Society.

I propose to publish the work in four or five parts. The first part will give a short view of the origin, progress, and present state of Agriculture, among some of the ancient and modern nations, particularly Great Britain, France, Flanders, the United States, &c. I am aware the past state of Agriculture can do little more than gratify the curiosity. Not so its present state, which is calculated both to excite our curiosity, and affect our interests. There is probably no country which I shall refer to, that does not possess some animal or vegetable production, or pursue some mode of culture, or management, that might be beneficially introduced into Canada; but with the exception of the countries I have named, and parts of Italy and Switzerland, there are no very interesting Reports of Agriculture of other parts of Europe, with which I am acquainted at present. The second part will exhibit a concise view of the science of agriculture, and the principles on which the operations and results thereof, are founded. The third, and remaining parts will apply those principles to the practice of agriculture, adapting them to the climate and other circumstances of Canada; and conclude with a few observations on that portion of the trade and commerce of this country in which farmers may be directly or indirectly interested.

Convinced as I feel, that the produce or agriculture is the only riches that the people of this country can call their own, and which they can never be deprived of, it has often astonished me, that men of liberal education should, in general, appear so little to regard its improvement or prosperity—in fact it is treated as a subject quite remote from common life, by nearly all who are not immediately engaged in it. They perhaps cannot allow themselves to believe that agriculture alone can furnish the means by which trade and commerce can be carried on successfully in Canada.

I sincerely hope to induce all who may take the trouble of reading my book, to reflect on the subjects I shall submit for their consideration, and that they will join heartily in promoting necessary improvements, and thus advance the wealth and prosperity of the land of their birth, & of the choice.

As a work of this description cannot be published in English and French without incurring considerable expense, it would be necessary for me to have as many subscribers as would insure my expenses. Subscription lists will be left at the several Book-Stores in Montreal. The work, I expect, will not exceed four parts, at 1s. 3d. each part. The first part to be published when there are a sufficient number of Subscribers. I expect the whole might be published before the first of May next.

The four parts will contain from 250 to 300 pages, and may be bound in one volume. I shall do all in my power to make the book worthy of the patronage of all who desire to promote the prosperity of Agriculture, as well as of those who practice the art. Wm. EVANS. Cote St. Paul, Dec. 18, 1834.

Meeting of the House of Assembly. AS the approaching Session of the Provincial Parliament promises to be one of vast interest to the inhabitants of Upper Canada, the subscriber proposes to preserve the proceedings of the House of Assembly in a more durable form than a newspaper, and to report them at more length and at the same time more minutely than has been done heretofore. To attain this desirable object, an experienced Reporter, from England, will attend every sitting of the House, and accurately note the Votes and Proceedings of that body, which will be published in Weekly Numbers, consisting of Sixteen Pages, large octavo, printed with a good type and on fine paper and delivered to subscribers in the city of Toronto, every Saturday afternoon. At the end of the session a Title Page and Index will be furnished to each subscriber, gratis. The whole forming a volume of great importance and necessity to every man in the Province, and a sure Guide to Electors, as by a reference to its pages it will be seen not only what their Representatives did, but also what they intended to do.

The price of each number will be one shilling, payable on delivery. Any person procuring ten subscribers and becoming responsible for the same, shall receive one copy gratis. Agents will shortly be appointed in the different towns, and the greatest regularity observed in forwarding copies to subscribers. As the execution of the intended publication depends entirely upon the support which may be afforded, those who wish to patronize the undertaking will please to signify the same as soon as possible. All communications addressed to the subscriber to be post free. S. BREGA, 52, 1st Street.

GENTLEMEN'S VADE MECUM.

Containing Dramatic Literature—Sporting—the Fashions—Lithography—and various subjects of interest and amusement.

About the first of January, 1835, will be commenced in PHILADELPHIA, a new periodical, bearing the above comprehensive title. Its contents will be diversified to suit the taste of that portion of the public who patronize DRAMATIC LITERATURE, THEATRE, SPORTING, and the FASHIONS. From the growing wealth and increasing population of the United States, and the near assimilation of the national appetite with whatever promotes the rational Recreations of Life, it is presumed that the joint and possessing, as the proprietor of it will, amply means to diversify the press, and to determine in reader their subscription to the formation of a correct taste in all matters relating to its design, cannot fail to meet with a liberal and creditable support from an enlightened community in every quarter of the country. The difficulty of procuring such a plan as might be beneficially directed with any of the various subjects, and to ensure a regularity in its publication, has been the least embarrassing obstacle which the proprietors of this work had to surmount in its inception. Feeling confidently assured however, that its success is certain, when its character becomes properly known, they have cheerfully incurred the expense of preparing and printing the prospectus, and have also ordered regular supplies of the best select English periodicals to assist in procuring materials for its columns.

It is not along their possible, when a new publication is contemplated, to present in detail to the public its prospective attractions. It is necessary, nevertheless, that its principles and objects should be drawn out, as it is by them that its merits, if it has any, should be ascertained. This is the more readily accomplished, the publishers being satisfied that whatever industry and a watchful zeal can effect in completing the filling up, will be done, and that they never will be found deficient or negligent in the prosecution of the enterprise, and in so doing to produce a beneficial and profitable result to themselves and readers.

THE DRAMA—Will form a material portion of the Gentleman's Vaude Mecum. It is intended to publish alternately, every week, an entire play and from a select with a single scene to their merits alone; a portion of the performance will be selected to be engraved, and the productions, when they can be so much, independent criticisms, carefully choosing all its merits, criticisms, and recommended by their brevity, will be carefully inserted,—besides, Biographical Sketches, Anecdotes, and Dramatic, and a complete catalogue of the press at and past ages, of selected plays, and of the most interesting and important plays of the present day.

THE TURF—A faithful record will be kept of all the Running and Trotting matches in this country and England, Biographies and correct Treatises, unabbreviated throughbred Horses will be published once a month. Every fact relative to the breeding, management, keeping, and sale of the Turf, will be published in a regular and interesting manner.

SPORTING—Under this category will be enumerated all the various Sports, Games, Pastimes, &c. with Anecdotes of noted Dogs, and the most interesting and important events of the day.

GENTLEMEN'S FASHIONS—A quarterly review will be presented, exhibiting a variety of the most fashionable and changes which come into vogue in the fashionable world, as well as a list of the most fashionable and useful articles, which will be rendered an easy task for dressers and tailors at a distance, to suit their customers with the most approved colors and modern style of dress, at the earliest possible periods. Providing sufficient encouragement shall be given to the patronage of the public, a full length engraving, illustrative of the same, will be published in each number.

MISCELLANY.—Although the purpose of four sheets may appear to be confined to the four leading subjects which have been stated—we deem it proper to say, that there will be, in addition to these, a considerable space allotted for Miscellaneous notices—such as Poems—Poetry—an Epitome of News—List of Hotels in this city, and Places of amusement—Statistics—the Genus Market—Agriculture—Prices of Stock—List of Broken Banks—Commodity Note Detector—and all other matters, regarding which an interest may be supposed to exist at home or abroad. This work, then, as will be seen, by the above explanation of its contents, holds a clear, and particularly desirable position, as a companion for the patron of the Turf, the Dramas, Sporting, the Fashions, &c. It will prove, also, as all its publications of facts will be authentic, a ready Record for Reference for Travelling Gentlemen, and should consequently be kept in every household in the United States. It is worthy of notice, that its patrons, in the course of one year, will be furnished with fifty-two popular Physic and Fares—the price of which, separately, at any of our book stores, would be at least Fifteen Dollars! Here there is an absolute saving of ten dollars in the purchase of a well-selected Dramatic Library—the multiplied variety which it will afford, and the additional charge! Talors who desire to procure early and correct information of the changes in Dress, will find this an invaluable guide.

THE GENTLEMEN'S VADE MECUM, &c. will be published every Saturday, on five imperial paper, of the largest size, at three dollars per annum, payable in advance.

By enclosing a five dollar note to the publishers, postage paid, two copies of the paper will be forwarded to any direction ordered, for one year. It is respectfully requested that those who desire to subscribe for this Journal will forward their names immediately—the terms will be strictly adhered to.

Address—SMITH & ALEXANDER, Athenian Buildings, Franklin Place, Philadelphia.

The publishers will exchange with any of their Country Brethren who will oblige them with an occasional insertion of this advertisement.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE IRISH ADVOCATE, CONSTITUTIONAL REFORMER, AND COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER. TO BE PUBLISHED BY THE EDITOR, A. W. EVANS, MONTREAL. Although the population of the Province of Upper Canada is composed of natives of Ireland, and descendants of Irishmen, it is comparatively ignorant, to many of them, that no Press in this Province protects their National Character from misrepresentation and insult, or serves as an accredited organ of their Political sentiments. To remedy this evil, and to give to Irishmen that growing wealth, which their numerical strength, their respectability, and growing intelligence, a number of Irishmen, in Montreal, have resolved to establish a Paper, to be called the IRISH ADVOCATE, CONSTITUTIONAL REFORMER, AND COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER; to be published in this City on FRIDAY, and FRIDAY of each week.—As the "Irish Advocate" will be essentially the Irishman's Paper, and as it will spare no pains to render itself worthy of the honorable distinction, it must mainly depend on the Irish patronage of both Provinces for encouragement and support. Besides affording an information on the subject of Politics, Commerce and Literature, it may be attractive to general readers, and may conduce to the general welfare of Irishmen and Britons, and promote their settlement among us. Under present circumstances, the "IRISH ADVOCATE" will ever hold in view the continuation of any attempts to produce Revolution, to sever the Colony from the Mother Country, or to effect a change in the Constitution, upon whose integrity, it is now wiser than ever, that those speaking the English language in this Province, must rely for their existence and prosperity. From the tone and style in which the Paper will be conducted, and the mechanical neatness with which it will be executed, it is confidently asserted that it will bear comparison with the most respectable Periodicals in North America.

The proprietors will use their utmost endeavors to render the Paper useful as a medium of Commercial Intelligence, and they therefore, trust they will receive the support of the influential body of Merchants. The Editorial department will be entrusted to an Irish Roman Catholic gentleman, of distinguished character, and of a liberal and growing intelligence, who will be attentive to the cause of Constitutional Reform; it will oppose all degrading and unbecoming abuses, and will use its utmost efforts for the removal of acknowledged grievances. On all occasions this Journal will display a firm and patriotic determination to advance the prosperity of old countrymen, and to promote the welfare of the Colony.

The IRISH ADVOCATE will be printed on good Paper, of the size now used by the English Journals of this city, and will be charged to subscribers at FIVE DOLLARS per Annum, exclusive of postage, payable semi-annually, in advance. Merchants, and others, in both provinces, who may have an interest in the success of the paper, are respectfully requested to use their best exertions in promoting its circulation in their respective neighborhoods.

Any gentleman who may procure subscribers, and vouch for the responsibility of the parties, will be entitled to one paper for every ten subscribers so obtained. Subscribers may be had by sending to either of the Agents in this city, on or before the 1st of February next. Subscriptions will be received in this City at the Book-Stores of John Campbell and H. McCree, St. Francois Xavier Street, and at the Exchange News-Room. Montreal, Jan. 5, 1835.
