FARMERS' JOINT STOCK BANKING COMPANY, AT TORUNTO.

Capital £500,000, in 50,000 Skares of £10 each. The establishment of Joint Stock Banking Companies has been proved by their great success in various parts of the United Kingdom, to be of Institutions of this description have existed in Scotland for upwards of 100 years, and the experience of their benefits, amply proved before a committee of the House of Commons, induced the Legislature in the year 1920, to pass an act expressly for their encouragement in England.

It is now no longer doubted that Banking companies possessing an adequate capital, advanced by an influential and affluent body of proprietors, are most admirably calculated to sustain public confidence in times of difficulty, and to confer extensive advantages upon the Anunoa at large.

A well conducted company, whose affilirs are closely investigated by a Board of Directors, and the results half yearly submitted to the proprietors. tors, can never be injured or inconvenienced, in the very worst times, to the same extent that private establishments may be; for the known fact that they possess a well secured capital, and have ample resources, would quiet the apprehensions of timid depositors, and prevent the necessity of sudden or ill-timed contraction of legitimate discounts

To the proprietary of the proposed concern it can scarcely fail to prove of equal advantage, as may be inferred from the success of other companies of a similar character; the high premiums, borne without any known exception, by their shares, afford the best criterion of the extensive utility and the profitable nature of such a joint and mutual system of banking. Many gentlemen have long been of opinion, that an eligible opening presents itself for an additional bank in this province, the commerce, trade, population, and wealth of which have of late years been advancing with such a steady progress; and having attentively considered the fore going facts, they are decidedly of opinion that it should be established upon the principles of a Joint Stock Company, as affording the best guarantee for permanent success. The originators of this institution wish it however to be clearly understood, that in its establishment they are not actuated by any unfriendly feeling towards either of the respectable banks existing in this city, or in this vicinity.

The following outline is submitted to the consideration of the public, as the basis of such an establishment, subject to such modifications as the proprietors may hereafter determine on. At a meeting held at the Agricultural Bank in the City of Toronto on the 2th day of April, 1835; Dr. C. Duncombe, M. P. P. in the Chair.

seral meeting of the shareholders shall be called for the purpose of ap pointing a Board of Directors, and making other requisite arrangements preparatory to the opening of the Bank; but that the provisional commitpreparatory to the opening of the Bank; but that the provisional commutee shall have power (if they think proper) to permit shareholders to pay up the last instalment sooner than the period above limited, and to allow 6 per cent, interest thereon; and in that case, such meeting shall be called as soon as 30,000%, can be realized as a starting capital.
