All persons desirous of witnessing the operation, can have the fullest and most satisfactory evidence of the value and efficacy of the operation, and no persons who regard cleanliness and comfort or value health will neglect this opportunity of having their beds dressed. By this process all filth and impurities are effectually expelled and the oldest feathers rendered light and elastic as new ones, and more cleanly & healthy, as the oily matter so offensive to the smell and injurious to the health even in new feathers, is entirely removed by this purifying process.

BENJAMIN & MARCUS JACOBS. CERTIFICATE.—I have lately had the feathers of an old bed taken out and dressed by the above Advertisers, and am much pleased with the success of their purifying process. The feathers, previous to their renovation, were heavy and knotted together; they are now almost as elastic as new ones, and I have no hesitation in recommending the Advertisers to the notice of the Public.

CAREY'S LIBRARY. Choice Literature.

TO say that this is a reading age, implies a desire for instruction, and the means of gratifying that desire. In the first point, all are agreed; on the second, there is diversity both of opinion and of practice. We have newspapers, magazines, reviews, in fine pamphlets of all sizes, on nearly all subjects, which have severely their classes of readers and supporters. And yet, curious as are these means of intellectual supply, more are still needed. In addition to the reviews of the day, and passing notices of books, the people, in large numbers, in all parts of our great republic, crave the perusal of the books themselves, and details, beyond mere passing allusion, of the progress of discovery in art and science.

It is the object of the publishers of the Library to obviate these difficulties, and to enable every individual, at a small cost and without any personal effort, to obtain for his own use, and that of his favored friends, the most valuable works, complete, on all the branches of useful and popular literature, and that in a form well adapted to the comfort of the reader.

The charm of variety, as far as it is compatible with morality and good taste, will be held constantly in view in conducting the Library, to fill the pages of which the current literature of Great Britain, in all its various departments of Geography, History, Travels, and Poetry, shall be put under contribution. With purchase, occasional exceptions, it is intended to give entire the work which shall be selected for publication. When circumstances authorize the measure, recourse will be had to the libraries of the Continental Europe, and translations made from French, Italian, or German, as the case may be.

Whilst the body of the work is a reprint, or at times a translation of the volumes of the ever useful and excellent miscellany character Magazine, and consist of sketches of men and things, and notices of novelties in literature and the arts, throughout the civilized world. A full and regular supply of the library monthly and bi-monthly journals of Great Britain, and of the home periodicals of similar character, cannot fail to provide ample materials for this part of our work.

The resources and extensive correspondence of the publishers, are now about to embark, as well as for the abundance of the materials to give it value in the eyes of the public. As far as judicious selection and arrangement are concerned, readers will, it is hoped, have reason to be fully satisfied, as the editor of the Library is not a stranger to them, but has more than once obtained their favorable suffrages for his past literary efforts.

TERMS. The work will be published in weekly numbers, in sticled covers, each number containing twenty octavo pages, with double columns, making two volumes annually, of more than 520 octavo pages, each volume and its title page, and every six months, subscribers will be furnished with a handsome title page and table of contents. The whole amount of matter furnished in a single year will be equal to more than forty parts of the common sized Goodenow's Dictionary, the cost of which will be at least ten times the price of a year's subscription to the "Library." The paper upon which the Library will be printed, will be of the best quality used for book-work, and of size admirably adapted for binding. As the type will be entirely new, and of a neat appearance, each volume, when bound, will furnish a handsome, as well as valuable and not cumbersome addition to the libraries of those who patronize the work.

The price of the Library will be five dollars per annum, payable in advance. A commission of 20 per cent. will be allowed to agents; and any agent or postmaster furnishing five subscribers and remitting the amount of subscription, shall be entitled to the commission of 20 per cent. or a copy of the work for one.

A specimen of the work, or any information respecting it may be obtained by addressing the publishers, post paid. Editors of newspapers, to whom the prospectus is forwarded, will please insert the above notice as convenient, send a copy of their paper containing the advertisement marked, and entitle themselves to a free exchange for one year. Address E. L. CAREY & A. HART, Philadelphia, Philadelphia, July 17th, 1835.

TO PRINTERS. FOR some time past we have felt desirous to close the printing business, in which we have been actively engaged since the 1st of June, 1833, and would with the present number have felt happy could we say to our readers, this is the last "Warder" we shall publish. If a purchaser should offer, we feel disposed to sell; if not, we shall go on in good spirits; at the same time, let not our friends suppose that we offer our establishment for sale on account of embarrassed circumstances—far from it: our prospects at present are brighter than at any other period since we commenced business. We offer for the present only one circumstance whereby any person wishing to purchase may judge of our office patronage: the difference of all expenses attending the business from the first to the conclusion of the second volume, and the earnings of the office for the same period averaged $5,000 a year in favor of the establishment. Terms of purchase, which will be found moderate and accommodating, may be known, if by letter, post paid, directed to the Editor of the Warder, Port Hope, U. C.
