3rd. That the Cash Accounts be kept at the Commercial Bank, where all monies belonging to the Company are to be deposited; and when wanted, to be withdrawn by checks signed by the Agent and Chairman of the Committee; and that proper Books of Account be kept, which are at all times to be open for the inspection of any member of the Committee; -the Books to be balanced by the first of January of every year.

The establishment of this Company will prove of infinite utility to the inhabitants of the Back Country. It will afford a ready and constant market for such kinds of lumber, as cannot now be sold, as any prices. The Company is already advertising for any number of Pine Floats, to be delivered at the Island; and should the business of forwarding Staves become great, as in fact we trust it will, no end will exist of the demand. Not only pine floats but a variety of other lumber, now unsaleable, will be required for the purpose of ratting.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Thursday, Jan. 14.

When the members of the House of Assembly were met in their own chamber, after the opening of attempts at outrage and breaches of the Peace with the session, Mr. Perry moved for leave to bring in a bill to secure the peace and freedom of elections in the county of Leeds. This brought on a long deheat Prescott, & Weller & Munro's line at bate, but the motion prevailed and the bill was read aiding and assisting to all Magistrates and Officers a first time. The bill has since been passed and sent to the Council.

Monday, Jan 18th.

A long discussion arose out of a motion to appoint committee to superintend the printing of the present session, or rather out of an amendment made by Mr. Mackenzie, that the committee be instructed to have a number of copies of the journals of every day printed, and folded, and prepared for direction by the clerks,-that a copy be sent to each member of the Legislative Council-to every publisher of a the Montreal Stage arrived in Kingston without the mail. The House could, providentially, as it will afterwards appear, had one of the side but he was anxious in the first place to secure the circulation of all the votes and proceedings of the House. The Solicitor General knew it was constantly done in England, where large quantities of sheets of the ing which had been done by order of last session, never been known before in Upper Canada.

Mr. Perry admitted that the various matters ordered to be printed would cost a considerable sum, but the money would be expended in diffusion inpaying reporters this year. Hitherto he had been in favor of it, because he thought newspapers did pay them, but now he thought they did.

Mr. Mackenzie brought in a bill to amend the rerable length on the several improvements which, in baggage." his opinion, the bill would effect. A great deal of difficulty he said, had arisen about the qualification of members-instanced the case of Mr. Durand, the fate Mr. Randal and others-and it was his opinion that the qualified electors should have the power of The paltry braggadocia! electing whom they pleased without respect to property. The manner of holding elections would be regulated by this bill, the place where they should be held, and the hour at which the poll was to close. "We left Montreal yesterday morning about II o'clock, six inci le the sleigh, all well wrapped up in great coats and buf falo skins, so that we could searcely move a limb. The weather being cold, the curtains around the sleigh were buttoned down on all sides, and we thus proceeded prosperously enough notwithstanding, employ reporters if they pleased, | curtains fastened up; but still we could no ther see the road the horses, or the driver. About four o'clock we stopped at a post office nearly four miles from Coteau du Lar. In a few minutes we proceeded again at a fair pace, but I soon felt that the horses were at the top of their speed, and that we were gliding over smooth ice, but had no idea that the driver was not on the box. I was just congratulating my fellow passengers on our 'going ahead so slick,' (as the Yankees say) when over journals of every day were printed in the Parliament | we went: -my first impression was that we were only open, Press. From Mexico .- From the New Orleans Bee of the 25th Dec. we learn the concluding act of Gen. Mexia's rash and unfortunate expedition against been shot. The execution took place on the morning of the 14th of December.

We are informed by a passenger arrived this ding a paper, which took fire from the lamp, and morning in the brig Attakapas, from Tampico, sailvernment officers living in them, they returned a to- heir bodies, and sinted at those parts which would first fire, more fortunate than the rest, he was killed. We are told that he did every thing to inspire his comrades with courage and resignation, and to meet their fite as became men. Two hours before the execution, Mr. D. wrote a song to the air of the Marseilles bymn, which he sung from the jail to the place of execution. We are farther informed that martial law had been nut in force-the utmost consternation prevailed a-Governor-in-Chief in and over the Province of monest all the foreigners-they considering their lives and property unsafe; indeed the lower classes of the people had threatened to rise en masse, and murder the whole of them. We learn further from the Bee that the government of Mexico has made a communication to that of the United States, in relation to the capture of the schooner Correo, and to the intervention of American citizens between the revolters of Texas and the Mexican authornies. The restitution of the Correo and the release of Captain Thompson and his men are demanded, and our government is moreover called upon "to adopt measures to prevent the evils which a foreign intervention, (although individual) m a domestic dissension, may produce to a friendly nation attacked to it by political and commercial ties."

Texas is now the determined goal of an army of nearly 10,000 men under Santa Anna, who has been turnished with arms and provisions of all kinds; and with funds by collections from merchants and others, as well as donations from those interested in establishing a central form of government in Mexico -to the amount of 2 or 3 millions dollars.

IMPORTANT FROM TEXAS .- The New Orleans papers received this morning inform us that the Texas have at lest amoults made themselves marker of San Antonio de Bexar by storm--and driven all that were left of the Mexican defenders to the other side of the river. General Cos is said to have been among the slain; the Mexican loss is described as very great, including almost every officer. Colonel McComb, who arrived at New Orleans from Nacogdoches, on the 28th December, brought the news; he states that not an armed Mexican remains in Another account says that all the surviving Mexicans were subsequently captured. The Texan loss is not stated, but the name of Col. Hall un is given as one of the killed.

A passenger who arrived at New Orleans from Tampico on the 28th, brings information that a number of Mexicans had been arrested, charged with having aided Ceneral Mexia in his mad attack upon that place--and that they would be shot.

English ITEMS .- We notice in some of the London papers, a paragraph recognising with gratitude the assistance rendered by the officers and crew of the United States corvette John Adams, to one of his Britanic majesty's brigs of war, which was in dis would surprise some hon, members, and such as had myself up.
