This Excellency commands me now in reply to mesure you, and through you the Citizens of Quelece. that he most deeply sympathizes with them in the magnitude and distressing circumstances of this calamity, in the individual loss and suffering it has thus awfully to a premature gravecaused, and in the general injury it is calculated further to inflict. With this feeling he has anxious ly considered in what manner public aid can be legitimately afforded, and what steps can be taken for the prevention of such fearful disasters bete-

To aid in the crection of temporary buildings (having in view the impossibility of a sufficient number of parameter buildings being prepared before next winter), and also in the afferding of necessary relief to persons otherwise destitute, His Excellency has been pleased in Council to direct that advances may be made from the Public Chest, as required, from time to time, by yourself, as May or of the City, or by the Committee of Relief, to the extent of five thousand pounds currency; to be submitted for the approval of the Provincial Parliament at the next session. For the permanent rebuilding of the destroyed

Suburbs. His Excellency will be prepared to recommend to Parliament to authorise the negotiation of a loan in England, on the security of the Piovince, for the sum of one handred thousand pounds currency, parable with interest in a fixed number of years : the monies so to be raised, to be employed in granting to owners of land within the limits of the fires, to aid them in building thereon, loans on as favorable terms as may be found practicable without ultimate loss to the Province, the sums so loaned to be secured on the lands of the borrowers and perhaps made a privilege claim thereon, and further security where required to be taken, each loan to any individual and the security offered by him to be approved by the Attorney General for Lower Canada; and all other necessary precautions taken to secure the expenditure of all monies so loaned on the crection of buildings of specified materials and character. For the prevention of such disasters bereafter,

His Excellency will further be prepared to recommend to Parliament to confer on the Corporation of the City very extensive powers for the regulation of the mode of building within the City limits, and for the widening of Streets, on making compensation for land taken.

Upon the many details of the measures above suggested. His Excellency is desirous to receive suggestions from yourself and the Corporation; and I am accordingly to assure you, that any representations which that Body or yourself may make in regard to them, will not fail to receive his most attentive consideration.

I have the honor to be, Your most obedient servant,

TO ANOTHER LIFE LOST ON THE OTTAWA .- On Monday last, three or four raftsmen were crossing the River, near the mouth of the Nation, in two canoes attached together and loaded with an anchor and cables, when one of the canors sprung a-leak, some distance from shore. The pilot named John Nicholson, usked the men if they could swim; and only one, we believe, amongst the four, could do so. Mr. Nicholson urged the men to row with all their might; but in vain; one of the canoes went down almost immediately. and Mr. Nicholson was drowned. He was Mr. M'Marten's foreman; a worthy man, who has left a wife and child to mourn his ontimely end .-The others were saved by almost a miracle.

LT Awert Suicing, -A most determined case | If A Consosity of Literature, -Bentley's of self-destruction occurred in this town last even. Miscellany of this month contains a story of ing, Mr. John Heard, one of the oldest inhabitants boshaud being very nearly poisoned by the lover of Coburg, and well known as having been for of his wife,—the poison having been sent to the many years in the employment of the late James cook to be mixed up with a dish of which the had under consideration in Conneil your letter of Bethune, Esq., put an end to his existence by Cusband above was passionately fond. This is jumping into the Lake, it is supposed about 12 afterwards explained away by the husband himo'clock at night, having first deliberately tied his welf, as a trick he had resorted to in order to poison hands and test tightly together with cords, in his wife's mine against the aforesaid lover. This which condition the body was discovered this story is very family told, and is called " The morning near the castern what. Deceased was Plum Pudding;" but unfortunately, the very same TEAS, WINES, LIQUORS, &c. a man of very intemperate habits and headstrong incidents were described in Hood's Magazine, two despessition, and there can be no doubt that in a fit months back. The story was there entitled " The of despendency, the natural result of such a course Herring Pic." We only mention this circumof life, he committed the act which has sent him stance as a most extraordinary coincidence. We have heard of writers describing the same ideas Colorg Star, July 9. in the very same words -there was that very singular case of Lord William Lennox and Sir Wal-IT MELANCHOLV Accident.-Two men, John | ter Scott-but we are certainly puzzled when the sold off without reserve, consisting in part of resemblance is kept up through an entire story .went on Sunday last to bathe in a quarry near Mr. However, we do not prefend to account for Boulton's point, when by some accident they were this mysterious relationship but simply refer the both drowned. An inquest was held on the bodies curious in similar freaks of literature, to the two on Monday, before Mr. Brodie, and a verdiet of tales in question, begging of them to bear in mind accidental death returned. They were both sober that the one in Hood's Magazine was published

> WAXING DISLOYAL .- Among the amusing announcements put forth by Madame Tussaud, of Wax-work celebrated, is that of "The House of Brunswick at one View," which consists of some half-dozen dolls, looking with a stare of intense meaning at vacancy. We were, however, a little startled by the information that among the new figures would be found "The Prince of Wales taken from life by the express permission of Her Majesty." Madame Tussand being a foreigner, s perhaps not aware of the stringent state of the law with reference to the crime of compassing or magining the death of the heir to the throne; therwise, the would not thus openly advertise the Prince of Wales taken from life," an expres sion that becomes doubly base from the addition of the words, "by the express permission of Her Majesty." We should recommend Madame Tus saud to remodel this announcement as speedily as possible, for it is one against which English loyalty revolts with considerable vehemence.-Punch.

IT' A STUDY FROM NATURE .- The beautiful statute of the " Greek Slave," by Mr. Power, happy to say that the premises occupied by Messrs. has excited such universal admiration, that a companion to it, we understand, will shortly be exhibited by the same artist, under the title of "The American Slave." It is the figure of a negro with his hands fastened with a chain, on the manfoundation for the reports that have been prevalent acles of which is cut the American Eagle. Round in this city for a day or two, that the last disaster his back is wrapped the national flag, on which the stripes are conspicuously displayed. The crouching attitude of the figure is most wonderfully depicted, but the statue is most to be admired for its powerful truth and unaffected simplicity.-We have been assured by gentlemen, who have anything so wonderfully true to nature .- Punch.
