Your renders will be repliced to hear the health of His Excellency the Governor General, is slowly but steadily improving, and the issuing of bulletins is no longer considered necessary. All fears of his Lordship's being compelled to return home are for the present dis quited. This new will relieve much anxiety, not only through person al respect for His Excellency, but for the people administration of the Government at this impo-

Old November, with his blook wind, and sunles sky, is upon us, and the last vertige of autumn in the Metropolis-the departure of shipping-is at hand. Business is being rapidly closed up, for the season, and a few days will see our harbor desertee and abandoned, at least by the magnificent vesselthat hall from the " sen gut Isle," But " Come what come may,

Time and the hours run thre' the roughest day. And whilst we look confidently forward to a warmor sun, and for a return of prosperous business we have reason to be deeply thankful for the bless ings we already enjoy. The season, now drawing to a close, has been more favorable to the Merchan than many that have preceded it; and to the Agriculturist, it has certainly been most auspicious both as regards the products of his labor, and the prices he has realised. Even the visitor from your own "deserted Village," appears to have caught the electful infection, and is prone to admit whilst purchasing and harrying off with his winter stack, that the standing by-word of " hard times" is no lunger applicable, and that, for the moment "times are middling": no trifling confession, con sidering the quarter whence it comes. When social blessings abound, political grievances are but little thought of, and with the exception of vissionary Uncle Ben, who continues to pour the vial of his wrath upon Mr. Drapor, because he will not purify the Administration according to his primitive ideas of perfection, and disappointed Mr. Hincks, who is equally severe upon Lord Metealfe. because he attempts to administer the government at all, agitation is unknown, and remembered only as a painful dream of " long-long ago"!

The city papers have been engaged, for a few days past in criticining the sentences passed at the Court of Quarter Sessions just ended, which appear to have been extremely righrous, and some what inconsistent one with the other. As an instance :- A poor Irish girl, totally unacquainted with the English language, who formerly bore a good character, was sentenced by Judge Mondelet to three years imprisonment in the Kingston Peni tentiary, for stealing a pair of boots from her mistress-" in mercy" as the learned Judge said, to save her from the contamination of the common Gool; whilst a woman of notorious character, for a much more beinous offence-stealing a watchwas sentenced to three months in the House of Correction! The thunders of the press were heard, however, and the poor girl's sentence was horror of, on account of its contaminating inmates. understood before it can be properly appreciated --At the same Court a man was sentenced to three years in the Penitentiary, for stealing a shift action werehor, for previously the come officers escaped with one month's imprisonment in good! Verily, the ways of justice are unfathennable.

There have been several abruns of fire during the week, the most serious of which was on Thursday afternoon, when three or tour new, unfinished houses, were consumed, in the Quebec Suburbs. -One or two of the firemen were also seriously in jured, by falling through a floor. The trees and shrubbery on the face of the mountain caught fire by some means on Wednesday night, and the effect was indescribably grand and picturesque. The travelling season is about over, and there are very few strangers in the City.

The number of vessels that have sailed from British ports and have not yet reached Quebec, is 21. It is thought that the lateness of the season will compel many of them to load at the lower ports. None of them are expected to come to

The opposition between this city and Quebec is still kept up, although the crack boats are both laid steem, but it is this morning beautifully clear and quested to attend.

THE MARKETS.-Since the arrival of the Green Britain the Flour market has been steady, and prices continued firm. The enormous rise in Freights acted as a check on the stuple, but a number of vessels arriving about the same time, specdily brought Preights down to the old standard and caused a corresponding advance in the Plant The quotations for American Superfine is 32s 3d to to 32s 6d, with but little of this quality on hand I heard of a small lot, to arrive, being placed on Friday at 32s 8d. Extra Fine, and Fine are in fair demand, the former at 31s 9 to 32s, and the tatter at 31s Id to 31s Sd. There were the raton Thursday, and although the news by the Green Western, which arrived on the following day brought intelligence of 2s advance in the Londo Markets, there has not, nor can there be, on accounof the scarcity of vessels, any corresponding ris in this market. The few vessels in port have th greater portion of their cargo engaged, and the bulk of the Flour in this market will have to be sent to Quebec, or the lower ports for transhipment Wheat continues firm at 6s 6d to 6 71d per 60 lbs and the demand has been very great throughout the week. Ashes are dull, as usual, and can hardly be disposed of at any price. The latest quotation is 21s 9d for Pote, and Peurls 22s 8d a 23s. A considerable quantity of both descriptions will Preights .- Early in the last week, a pan among the shippers, on account of the scarcity of vessels, caused a sudden rise, up to 7s fid and 8per barrel for floor, but latterly things have regain ed their old mutine, and the rates have declined to 6s and 6s 3d. At the present moment shippers are well satisfied with 6s per barrel for thour, and 11s 9d per quarter for Wheat, to Liverpool, and a trifle more to London. The business for the season will be effectually closed up during the ensuing week.

Yours truly,

D' Inquest .- On the 27th oltimo an inques was held by George Duggan, Esq., Coroner, on the body of a man unknown, found buried in the Potter's Field, only nine inches beneath the sur. face. The body, it appears, had been burned stealthily, which of course naturally excited suspicion; but, upon being examined, no marks of viohaustion arising from a caractrous disease of the stomach.-Toronto Canadian.
