

STARVATION IN ROSCOMMON.

A letter addressed to Mr. Channonhouse, of our good City, has been shown to us, received by the last Mail, from Miss Merton, of Castle No. 1, Roscommon, in which the absolute starvation of the poorer classes in that extensive county in Ireland is vividly painted.

Castle No. 1, Jan. 17, 1847. "I may as well tell you at once that my first object in writing is to excite your sympathy for the poor in that wretched county, in behalf of your native land, especially that part of it where your early days were passed; and where hundreds, I firmly believe thousands, are in a state of absolute starvation."

Scarcely one day passes in which there are not three funerals at the old Church-yard near this, and occasionally six; this number has sometimes risen still higher, and as far as I have the means of knowing, the same may be said of every other grave-yard in this part of the country.

It is not only the potato crop, the Irishman's chief dependence for food, an awful calamity which has come suddenly and unexpectedly.—There was a partial blight in many places last year, but not about here, and great numbers of poor people thought that by sowing an extra quantity they might be sure of having enough, so there was even more than usual planted, and a finer or more luxuriant crop could not be seen than they were, until the beginning of September, when I may truly say, the destroying angel passed over them, and behold! they were all gone in one fortnight, the stalks having nearly disappeared!

And the poor creatures who with difficulty sustained themselves through the summer, expecting plenty in harvest, found their hopes completely blighted. From that time provisions have been rising in price, but now they are higher than ever, and the means of procuring them more difficult to obtain; and six months of the same kind still before us.

It is heart-rending to think of it, and to see and hear of the poor people, we have known from our childhood—dying by inches; and not reflecting on the subject some days since, and deploring my inability to aid the distressed, it occurred to me if I could not alleviate their wants myself, I could at least make known their wants in every quarter from whence there might be any chance of obtaining aid, and after writing to a friend in Dublin, and another in London, I thought of you, and feel sure that at my earnest request, nay entreaty, you will exert any influence you may possess in setting a subscription on foot.

If you read any account of Irish destitution in the public papers, be it ever so deplorable, it applies to the remote villages and mountain districts of this Parish. In addition to the misery of those who are still striving to keep afloat by disposing of every vestige of furniture, and any other articles they might have, we are every day hearing of the death of whole families of strangers, whose pale faces and bowing frames haunt us in our sleep; they may truly be called walking skeletons.

The work-houses are full to excess—1200 being in the one at Roscommon, although the building was only intended to contain 800; and notwithstanding that there are 200 cases of fever in the house, hundreds are seeking for admission and ready to fill up every vacancy death causes. I will not dwell longer on this melancholy subject, but merely add, that if you succeed in obtaining any aid for the poor of this Parish, you will have the blessing of those who are now ready to perish.

The smallest assistance will be thankfully acknowledged, and with God's blessing, faithfully accounted for."

REPLY OF HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL TO THE ADDRESS OF THE INHABITANTS OF KINGSTON.

To the Inhabitants of the City of Kingston. I receive, Gentlemen, with much thankfulness, the assurances of your loyalty to our Gracious Queen, and the kind expressions of welcome which you are pleased to offer to myself as Her Representative.

I have already heard much of the vast natural capabilities of that portion of the Province in which you dwell, and I am most anxious to make myself personally acquainted with it, I shall not fail, therefore, to visit it at the earliest period. It will indeed be a source of heartfelt gratification to me, if I am enabled with your assistance, to co-operate in any degree to the advancement of Western Canada.

THE PRESENT POSITION.—By what we learn from our Montreal Correspondent, and what we glean from other sources, it would appear, that Mr. Draper's endeavors to form a coalition Administration have proved fruitless—for the present. The Franco-Canadian party refuse to have anything to do with the administration of the Government, with the House of Assembly, constituted as it is. They say therefore to Mr. Draper, "we will offer no factious opposition in the next Session of Parliament, but let it be a short one; a mere reviving of expiring acts, and the passing of the government measure respecting the three shillings duty on wheat;—after which let the House be dissolved; new acts issued for a Fall Election; and with the new House of Assembly, we will consent to share the fatigues of office."

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH.—INQUEST.—(Huron District.)—On Monday evening, the 15th inst., about 7 o'clock, the dwelling-house occupied by Mrs. Isabella Anderson, of Swan, Lot 27th, South Easthope, was discovered to be on fire by some of the neighbors, and although in a short time after the discovery they were on the spot and rendered what help they could give so far as the extreme heat and fire permitted, yet, awful to relate, the poor woman was consumed in the burning, excepting the trunk of the body, which was dragged out, and next morning some portion of the skull and bones were found. She was alone in the house, her only child, a boy about 11 years of age, having gone the same day to the back concessions of North Easthope to swap some firewood. It is supposed that some sparks, or fire from the chimney, which was of mild and sticks, had communicated with some straw or oat sheaves piled in the upper part, or in a small apartment adjoining. It is singular that the poor woman had carried almost everything out of the house, excepting some grain and peas, and it is thought that while in the act of returning for some missing article, or to carry the grain out, she was caught by the flame, or falling fire, rendered insensible and, before help arrived, she was consumed in the burning mass. A settler in North Easthope, Mr. Wm. Bradley, and another man, were passing at the time in the sleigh, and when only the roof was burning, but owing to a dread of his horses running away, (as he stated in his evidence) as they were flighty, and had run off before, he most unfortunately drove on, till he met some persons on the road, who were hastening to the fire, when he informed them whose house it was.

An Inquest was held before John J. E. Linton, Esq., and the Jury returned a verdict, of "Accidental Death by burning. The Jury cannot separate without expressing their deep disgust at the conduct of one of the witnesses, and the person who accompanied him in the sleigh, at not stopping and endeavoring to render such assistance as might possibly have been the means of saving the life of the unfortunate deceased."

The deceased was about 56 years of age, and was last seen on the day previous, engaged in reading the Pilgrim's Progress, and among the things saved was her Bible, very carefully laid aside.—Galt Reporter.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—Nicholas Passmore was returning on foot from this town to his residence near Rice Lake on Thursday afternoon the 11th inst, he was overtaken near Blecher's Tavern by a sleigh driven by a son of Mr. Tulley's, of Cavin, at the same instant he was met by another, loaded with wheat, driven by Mr. Priestly of Smithtown, who did not clear his front seat, the horses feet; Mr. Priestly immediately pulled up, but not before the off runner had passed on the chest, on being extricated, at his own request he was conveyed home when he expired at 10 o'clock. An inquest was held on the body by B. Bird Esq., on Saturday, and after a very long and careful investigation the Jury on Monday returned a verdict of accidental death with a decedant on the Sleigh, Load and Horses of St. Durham Advertiser.

RELIEF FOR IRELAND.—We have lately seen to give a brief abstract of the proceedings of the Public Meeting held yesterday in the Court House, for the relief of the famishing poor in the old country. Although the weather was unfavorable, a respectable number was in attendance; a number of spirited addresses were delivered, and quite an enthusiastic feeling prevailed. The sum of £137 3s 6d was raised on the table, besides 200 more subscribed—total, £168 3s. Collectors will call on the inhabitants of the town to-day. Meetings have been appointed in various localities in the district, and Delegates from the Central Committee at Picton, will probably render their assistance to the local committees in bringing the subject before the several meetings.—Picton Sun.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN RATHBONE.—A melancholy gloom has been cast over the mercantile community of Liverpool by accounts which reached this port on the 20th inst, that Captain Rathbone, of the packet ship Columbia, his first and second mates, five seamen, and a boy, were washed overboard in a gale of wind on the 13th of January. Deeply do we deplore the untimely end of Captain Rathbone, and his unfortunate crew. Few seamen had earned more esteem for their skill as navigators, and polite and cordial deportment as gentlemen, than he of whom we write. He formerly commanded the Oxford, and during the awful storm of January, 1839, he was just arriving from his December voyage, when that terrific hurricane overtook him in the Mersey. Yet six weeks since, and on a similar occasion, the difficulties of the most extraordinary and dangerous character, enabled him to bring his noble ship to harbour, and land his passengers in safety; whilst several other vessels fell a prey to the terrific fury of the waves and billows that danced around, dooming to death and destruction to almost every thing that came within their unrelenting grasp. With his wife and family we deeply sympathize in the loss they have sustained—as he, who was so agreeable and engaging amongst strangers, must have been one of the best of husbands, and a kind and affectionate parent.

WILLER & SMITH'S TIMES.

A VOICE FROM VERMONT. Tumbidge, Orange Co., Vt., Nov. 25, 1845.

Dear Sir—I hereby certify that one year ago last June, I was violently attacked with a cold and cough, and in the month of December following my cough increased to an alarming extent, so that during that winter I lost about thirty-five pounds of flesh, and physicians with whom I advised, could give me no relief. It was thought by all I should never recover. As my good fortune would have it in March following, after suffering exceedingly through the winter, I heard of the beneficial effects of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, by way of a friend who had recovered the greatest benefit by the use of the article, and was induced by him to make a trial of it myself, and no words can express my obligations to that friend for recommending this article to me, and at the critical moment he did for I had not taken one bottle before I was completely cured, and from that day to this have not been troubled with a cough. I can cheerfully recommend it to all, as being a remedy of great value, hoping others may be induced to use it, and thus become convinced of its merits, and perhaps saved from the fatal grasp of consumption.

FURS! FURS! FURS!

WE announce to our readers the arrival of Mr. I. C. MAYER, of the City of New York, Dealer and Exporter of FURS, from Canada direct, for the various Markets of Europe. Mr. Mayer informs his numerous Friends and Dealers, that he intends to remain during the Winter and Spring, in the Provinces of Canada, for the purpose of purchasing Furs of every description.

It is not necessary to repeat that Mr. Mayer will give the HIGHEST MARKET VALUE FOR FURS,—his long experience and knowledge of the various Markets in Europe, enables him to do so without stating his other numerous facilities, in regard to his sales, rarely possessed by other Dealers. Dealers having any to sell, will do well to address Mr. MAYER, care of JAMES BROWN, Esquire, Toronto, Canada West, stating the quantity of each article on hand, which will meet with due attention. Toronto, January 29, 1847.

N. B.—Mr. Mayer's purchases are entirely on his own account, and has no connection with any individual in this line of business.
