principle. "I have observed the malignity you exhibital towards Bishop Strachan, in charging him with being a trader in staumhoats on Lake Ontario; the Illiberality and misrepresentation you displayed a year or two ago in the controversy with the Pilot, regarding the Jesuits, is not forgotten; the Methodists are now openly accused of bribery and corruption, because they have displeased you: in a word, there is no class or creed that differs with you, but you abuse and misropresent. I am sorry to say, too, that you never hesitate to make smertions relative to your opponents, no matter bow destitute of truth they may be, prowided they serve your purpose for the moment. Is not this intolerable, especially when it is considered that the Reform party is held responsible for your proceedings, and that the disgrace which attaches to your conduct falls ces The City has for some time been almost de on men undeserring of blame, and whose only error consists in allowing you to remain on the ontskirts of that party, to which the Examiner at its outset belonged?

I might say a great deal more on this head, but will content myself for the present, with noticing the bigotry exhibited in your paper relative to the steamboat disturbance in Kingston: in the article on that subject, you speak in the most insulting terms of a Bishop and a Priest of the Roman Catholic Church. If the custom of using the words " Reverend" and "Right Reverend," when referring to ministers and priests, was confined only to gentlemen, I could understand the reason why you omitted the terms ; but the lowest of the low would not address them as you have .-The Bishop is styled "Mr. Phelan," and the Priest "O'Higgins," and in one instance the "young priestling"; the words "Priest" and "Reverence" come in for a share of your abuse; nay, you have resorted to abcalute falsehoods in the article referred to, with the view, I presume, of meeting the refined taste of a certain portion of your readers.

This line of conduct must cease, if you wish to be any longer considered the Organ of any portion of the Reformers; I say this advisedly, and that you may shape your future course, so as to save those who have heretofore been allied with you, the necessity of a formal separation. I did think the proprietor of the Examiner too cautious to countenance your proceedings, and that he was aware of the folly of allowing a liberal journal-an assertor of the people's rights-to stoop to the littleness of religious bigotry, sectarian jealousy, and personal animosity. feared I was mistaken in him, but I believe will be recognised by the public ablage: I think your excitable temperament and indifferent conduct render you unfit to conduct any public journal; but your bigone-sided; and the only talent you exhibit is that of stirring up strife between the persons asho compose the Reform party. I seek not to enquire what your social and religious principles may be-you are not a real Liberal in politics, I know; and from what I have con able to clean from your long winded and Chartists and Universalists. So long as odo not intrude these sentiments on the Pan content you should cherish them own mind; but I am truly sorry, Treffect, that the misjudged fiat of aryour own conneit, has put you in a that's where you have done, and will do, and but very, very little good. Had a provallowed to remain among the "ignoyou would scarcely now have and I am done. I cherish no comity and you deeper than that dislike which shame on the principles of a great and a good I am a Liberal, and as such, am conthat to allow every one to worship his God in the manner he deems best, and without

The wandering disposition by which the people of America are characterised, was never more artive than it is at the present time. Every railroad car, etcambest, omnibus and three is crowded; and wherever you go piles thronks, carpet bags, valises and band-boxes It is almost impossible to get a bed in some places, while a room to a single person is out of question. The landlords are delighted, and several Englishmen, mutineers of an English are as good humored as possible; mine host ship, who took with them Otaheitan women. here and mine host there are amazed at the amounts they are amassing, and while they eazily count and deposit each day's gains, they feel happy and contented with themselves and the whole world.

It is an undeniable fact that the more prosperous a people are, the more money they will spend in amusing themselves, and as summer touring is the most prominent amusement of arrangements made by the hoard of Health, our semblicans, it follows that in prosperous and the efficiency of the Health Officer aptimes there will be more travelling than when the reverse is the case. Applying this rule, then, to the year 1847, and it follows that we affected with fever from private places to the are more prosperous than we ever were, be- Hospital, which cases are entirely confined cause there is mora travelling than there ever to emigrants. ance for the increase of population.

The watering places, of course, secure of great many of the travellers. At Saratoga it is computed there are some fire thousand strangers; and so full are the botels, that many of them are obliged to lodge out in nice comfortable cottages, scores of those who sit at their tables. Niagara is esowded, so are Cape May and Nahant, although the sea serpent has not made his appearance at either of those points this summer. That great specimen of the gours serpent, has a quitous way

Whenever visitors are scarce, and landlords of source not in the best of humor, his makeship in sure to make his appearance, and if a doubt is raised on the subject by any who have heard dough anake stories before; the fact is sworn, to before a " respectable justice of the prace," by a dozen or more highly respectable and credible witnesses," who saw his snekeship on the surface of the opened! As an additional instance of the enterprise of the West we may state, that the sum required at the time of subscribing—one then enything else they could compare it too. These deponents, have been remarkably silent this year, and it arises, no doubt, from the fact that Nahant is full of visitors. The sea serpent knows more that he gets credit for. The watering places in Jersey, Long Branch, Keyport, &c., &c., are receiving their thate of travellers and their money, while New Brighton, Fort Hamilton, lake Mahopac, &c., have no reason to complain of want of patronage.

We have taken a great deal of pains to portray in the columns of the Herold, the scenes good cause. What a nice figure and events that daily and hourly occur at the watering places. Our correspondence has been more voluninous than it was at any other time, and we believe that life there has been richer than ever too .- N. Y. Herald.

> Nors by ED. Wille.- We copy the above lattering account of the Travelling in Yankee Land, for the purpose of contrasting it with the total absence of locomotion in Canada this year. Many things have contributed to destroy the Travelling in Canada of 1817 .--imprimis the Ship Fever, although the chance, of catching this malady is small in well go verned hotels; secondly, the want of attraction in Canada, by reason of all the Lien being too tame along the beaten course of th St. Lawrence, while those of the Ottawa, the wildest and best looking, are either hidden out of sight, or are attended with too much trouble to behold; and thirdly, the Steamhoat Proprietors and Hotel Keepers have no com-mon interest, as in the United States, but on the contrary, the former contrive as much as possible to annoy the latter, by allowing them no proportionale gains out of the common plunder. It is too late this season to correct the evil, but it is to be hoped that another will not come and go without out something hoing done to induce the American Travellers to visit Canada.

> OTHER ENIGRATION -ITS EFFECTS AND CONSEQUEN serted by the country people. Making all due allowance for the engagements of harvest, we have never known the City similarly deserted with the exception, prehaps, of the year 1832 and 1834 when Cholera prevailed. This arises mu doubt from a groundless apprehension of the envigrant disease. The markets are very badly supplied, and business of all kind is unusually flat What is to be the end of the barbarous policy now pursued of pouring to the extent of fruit 89. 000 or 100,000 of the famished and distased popullation of down tradden Iroland into this province n one season, we cannot tell. Sickness now prevails extensively both in town and country, and we have many remains to fear that it will not be mitigated by the setting in of the fall and winter. The landlords of Ireland have sent us their tenantry rither to be supported or buried : - this is infuncion -a simultaneous protest should be transmitted from all parts of Canada and the other Provinces igninet turning the N. A. Colonies into a grand Hospital and Poor House for the victims of their ion. The oppressors in Ireland should be compelled to hear the judgments they have rought upon themselves through their cruelty and injustice-not the inhabitants of these Colo Nothing but this will teach them the leasons of bumanity and justice .- Toronto Examiner.

THE Canes.-The Wheet harvest is now about coured in this District; and from all we can learn here will be somewhat less than an average co-p. In some places it has been more or less winter killed; in others, the insect has done considera ble dumage. The wheat however is of good quality, weighing heavy to the hashel. Oats and Pease are also a light crop. But Potatoes bids fair to yield plentifully. We perceive by our exchanges that the rot has already appeared in some parts of the Province; but we have not heard of its appearance in this District up to this period. From all the accounts received it would appear that the Wheat emp in the Western part of Canada as well as in the Western States has turned out better than was forelioded a short time ugo. It i calculated that, taking the whole western country together, the yield will be more than last year. Picton Sun-

THE CROSS.-Harvesting is now well advanced and notwithstanding the evil prophraics of the croakers the wheat is likely to turn out nearly an the opinion I am about to express of you, Mr. | average crop. The fly has, it is tree, committed have been confined to particular localities. The application of time, salt, and ashes to the sail, will, it is confidently as erted, have the effect of checking the dy. The two former are however rather apenaive recipes, and involve too great an outlay olty and illiberality peculiarly disquallify you for the generality of farmers in this acction of the country, although productive of advantage in the end. Ashra, which are frequently allowed to be wasted, form an excellent manure, and may be applied to land with considerable benefit and litthe cost. The hay crop which is unusually abundant, is now secured. We have heard of hay being offered for sale in several of the surrounding townships, at the extremely low price of $4 per ton, barely sufficient to cover the expense of saving and drawing. Barley, oats, and pease look execeedingly well. The poteto emp up to the present time shows no symptome of the disease. The season is not however sufficiently advanced to form a correct opinion respecting the injury to be expected from the rot. We should be inclined to think that as long as the cause of the rot remains undiscovered, and no radical cure ascertained, it will be the work of time to bring it round to a perfectly healthy state. - Bytown Gazette.

THE CALEDONIA SPRINGS. -The Races are over-the sporting gentlemen, the lovers of the Turf, the thorough-bred racers, and their owners, have departed, and the Springs again resumes its wonted tranquility and comfort. We have yet the best part of the season before us. Parties either in search of n forth the notice with which I have bealth or recreation will find the Springs all ed at right to hanor you. A few words that their hearts can desire. We have here cheerful society and innocent recreations enough to keep the mind in a state of healthy excitement; and in the Waters themselves an honest man entertains for one who brings we possess an elixer which seldom fails to cure or alleviate distress. Those who have not yet paid us their annual vist, are requested not to forget us, but come as usual, to lay in a fresh stock of health, and join in the festi-vities of Life at the Springs. Parties intend-ing to visit the Springs, via Kingston, as the Jeing subject to ridicule and sneers from any Rideau Canal is now closed, should descend the St. Lawrence to Lachine; from thence to Point Fortune by steamer Oldfield; and thence man oract of men. > PITCAIRN'S ISLAND .- This remarkable sland was visited on the 26th of February, by the British Government brig "Spy." The officers went ashore, and were received by George Adams, son of the celebrated John Adams, the founder of the colony. They met with a cordial welcome, and after partaking of a repast in Adam's old cottage, the party returned on board the "Spy." Forty-siz whalers, mostly American, had called during the year 1846. It will be remembered that this island (in the South Pacific Ocean) was settled about half a century ago by Montreal Herald.

EMICRANT KOSPITAL-Several convalescent wards have been added to the Hospital, and we are happy to say that the fever is abating in its type, although the num-ber of emigrant sick daily brought in, continues to fill the Uospital.
