Upon the whole, the bill will have little effect in changing the constitution of the House, except that it will materially diminish the influence exercised by the few small boroughs, which send members to the Legislature. But by increasing the numbers of representatives. But by increasing the numbers to one hundred and fifty, it will very much decrease the value of individual votes. It will thus very much prevent the purchase of one or two men, who, with the narrow majorities of a small House like the present, are so well aware of the necessities of the Ministry that they may make their own terms, for the price of their support.

CENSORIOUS CONGREGATIONS.

"The Sandwich Islanders murdered Captain Cook, but adored his bones. It is after the same manner that the censorious treat deserving men. They first immolate them in the most savage mode of sacrifice, and then declare the relics of their victim to be sacred. Crabbed members of churches and other societies will quarrel a pastor or leading member away, and then with unspeakable woe will complain of his character, invidiously comparing him with his successor, and making the change they have caused the occasion of a still keener fight, simply to indulge the unlumbering malice of their unfeeling heart. The causes with which they hurry another into extinction, and the incurable bitterness under the corrosion of which a third is brought prematurely to the grave, govern how indiscriminate are their carping comments, and how identical towards all degrees of merit is their infernal hate.

ENNUI.

Nine-tenths of the miseries and vices of mankind proceed from indolence and idleness. Persons who have naturally active minds,—whose quick thoughts like lightning are alive,—are most pernicously affected by the evils of sloth. The favored sons of genius, endowed with great original powers, were not made for repose; indolence will quickly freeze the genial current of the veins and if left idle long they perish from inanition, like a seminar corroded and destroyed by fermentation. But the active occupation of our faculties is a safeguard against three great evils, viz:—misery and despondency. Says Colton, "Ennui has made more gamblers than avarice, more drunkards than thirst, and more suicides than despair." If we would be both useful and happy, we must keep ourselves industriously and virtuously employed. Old Dandelion was wise in forbidding his son to "be ever sticking to a tree when he had nothing else to do." Count de Caylus, a French nobleman, being born to wealth and princely idleness, turned his attention to engraving and made many fine copies of antique gems. One of the exhibits demanded from him as a reason for this procedure, and was told by the industrious Count, 'I engrave, that I might not hang myself.'

AGRICULTURE.—Use of Salt in Feeding Horses, Sheep and Cattle.—Having, for several years, been in the habit of using rock salt among stock, I can, from experience, recommend it to those who wish to keep their animals in good health. They have been observed by the agricultural societies in England and Scotland to thrive upon it much better than without it; and nature seems to point out to them the medicinal benefit of it, as, when it is supplied to them, they are constantly seen licking and apparently enjoying it. The expenses is so very trifling, that the owners are amply rewarded by seeing their stock thrive so well. For horses or cattle when tied up, a piece of four or six pounds weight should be put in the manger or trough for them to lick at pleasure, as sometimes from neglect to mix it with their food; but when in the field or yard, one large lump in the bucket will be sufficient. Sheep should never be without several pieces in a long trough, so that several can get to it at the same time. I have seen several cases of the rot in sheep, where much benefit has been derived from it, and some think it a preventative. I have also known a person who had a large dairy, who, to test the utility of salt, took it away from two of his cows for a week. Their milk visibly decreased; but upon its being again given them, the usual quantity returned, the milk and butter being of finer flavor, and keeping better. I prefer the rock salt to the common salt, as it does not melt with the rain, or mix in too large quantities with the food, and is much cheaper in the end.

THE NAVIGATION LAWS—MEETING AT HAMILTON.—We received a Telegraphic dispatch from Hamilton yesterday afternoon, informing us that at the adjourned meeting held in Ham ton yesterday, to consider the expediency of Petitioning for the Repeal of the Navigation Laws—the resolutions in favor of continuing the Navigation Laws, were carried by merging majorities; At the first meeting which was held in Hamilton, about a week ago, success to resistance was offered to the resolutions of "Repeal" party, to the extent at least of securing a postponement of the meeting until yesterday, so that parties might have time to deliberate, and to act in accordance with their conviction of propriety when there should be fairly and dispassionately discussed. The result is, that the adjourned meeting yesterday, the "Repeal" party were outvoted, and resolutions passed by emerging majorities in favor of continuing the Navigation Laws. The majority are led to believe, and do believe, that their interests have been experimented with sufficiently long, by visionary theorists, Montreal and elsewhere; and it is gratifying to record that this manifestation in Hamilton has been much more numerous, when there are made at the ports of entries in England, as the defeat of the experiment, of the Free Trade cause date, in the West Riding of York shire among others indicates.

TORONTO ELECTIONS.—Never since Little York first became a city was so little interest displayed by its inhabitants in the municipal elections, as yesterday. No gauge of voters coming or going to the polls, no driving cabs, no cheering, no nothing, in fact. Only two shabby little bits of opposition. Beginning with Canada's tutelar saint (as the speakers say at the national society dinners, when they want to be fine)—Mr. Beard, Alderman, was re-elected for St. Lawrence, and Mr. Platt as Councillor; St. David's—Dr. Workman and Mr. Davis; St. George's—Mr. Gurnett and Mr. Craig; St. Andrew's—Mr. George Duggan and Mr. Thomas Arms temp: so far without opposition. In St. James's, Mr. Alderman Dixon came out at the last moment to run against Mr. John Bell, and was rewarded by receiving the large number of 6 votes. For 7, our information is not positive. Mr. Bell was thus re-elected Alderman, and Mr. Bolt, James, Jun., Councillman. In St. Patrick's, Mr. Beatty made a pretty fair fight with his brother conservative, Mr. Dennison. Mr. D. was, however, re-elected by 10 or 12 majority; Mr. Carr Connellman.—Globe.

FRIDAY'S REPORT.

Arrival of the America.

TWO WEEKS LATER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12, 2½ P. M.

The steamer America arrived at Boston this morning in 12½ days from Liverpool.

There has been a decline in Breadstuffs owing to a large accumulation in Liverpool and London markets. The Corn Trade has been dull during the last fortnight.—Duty on Wheat 7s.; on Flour 4s. 2d.; but as the new law, fixing the duty at one and a quarter comes into operation on the 1st of February next, business in duty paid flour is only retailed at 28s. a 27s. Liverpool and London demand for Indian Corn has fallen off, and at present is quoted; common white 30s.; best yellow 32s. Indian Corn Meal, not much inquiry. In Liverpool the stock of Wheat and flour has increased, and now estimated at 114,000 quarters, of the former, and 312,000 bbls of the latter—on 15,000 to 19,000 imports from Canada and the United States, were 222,800 Indian Corn 1950, Indian meal, 7455 quarters, wheat 76,030 bbls flour On the 29th, the Liverpool Market there was a moderate demand for bonded wheat, 6s. a 7s. 3d.; flour 25s. a 25s. 6d. and firm Western Canal flour, 26s. 6d. a 28s. per bbl. Cotton a shade better.

FRANCE.

On Wednesday the 20th inst., the ceremony of proclaiming the election of President took place in the National Assembly and M. Morrot in a loud voice, though somewhat hoarse by emotion, declared Louis President of the Republic, Democratic, one and indivisible from that day to the 2nd Sunday in May, 1852, and invited the new President to come forward and take the oath required by the constitution. Louis Napoleon advanced to the tribunal and swore to remain faithful to the Republic, and to forward its interest in all respects. He then read a brief address to the Chamber in a firm voice, in which he said, "with peace and order our country can again improve, can cure its wounds, bring back the men that have been misled, and calm down persons animated by a sincere spirit of conciliation. I have called around me capable and patriotic men who, in spite of the diversity of their political origin, are ready to devote themselves with you to the application of this conciliation, the improvement of the laws and the glory of the Republic." When the new President concluded his speech he advanced towards General Cavaignac and tendered to him his hand, which surprised Cavaignac, but delighted the Chamber. After the pause of an instant, Cavaignac responded and shook hands cordially with the President amidst marks of the most unequivocal satisfaction from all sides.—M. Odilon Barrot was empowered to form the new Ministry, amidst these changes a marked improvement has taken place in the value of all public securities. The 5 per cents have been as high as 77,25 whilst 3 per cents have reached 47,10; last closing prices in Paris were for the 3 per cents 46,60 and the 5 per cents 76,10 and the prices of railway shares partaking of general improvement.

ENGLAND.

We regret to state that the cholera still hovers over the metropolis. In the Province it has not made any very considerable progress; but in Scotland it seems to rage with very alarming results.

The Cambria from New York arrived at Liverpool on the 20th. The Britannia from Boston on 26th. The President's message was read with great interest, particularly that relating to gold in California.

The interest for the Pope continues permanent. He still remains at Gaeta.

In Austria the public mind is mainly directed to the letter against the Hungarians.

Vienna and all the Provinces are tranquil.

The Queen of Spain opened the Cortes on 15th ult.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 11, 2½ p. m.

A company of news-boys gathered at a coffee cellar, kept by R. Marshall, Spruce St., and at 6, last night got into a fracas with another party who entered intoxicated. One of the boys was stabbed with a dirk-knife. The blade passed through the lower part of the heart, slanting upwards into the boy's lungs, causing instant death. The villain who did the deed, was taken to the Station House to await his committal.

The stock market is buoyant and since the promulgation of the news has further improved. Treasury notes 8½. Sterling quiet and Freights also.

There is a fair demand for flour at full rates. The sales are 3:00 at $5 81 a $5 94.

THE undersigned having become Proprietor of the "YONGE MILLS," which are now in perfect order, begs to inform the public that he is prepared to enter into engagements for the

The character which the Yonge Mills brand has hitherto borne, and the fact of its not having been injured in the slightest degree during the past disastrous season, present to those who desire to export Flour, instead of Wheat, the best guarantee for a good and merchantable article; and it will be the personal care of the proprietor to see that its present high standing be not lowered in his hands.
