The first concert given by Madame Laborde ince her recent illness, came off on Tuesday evening, with most brilliant success. On her entree the fair lady was greeted with vebement applause in the shape of clapping of bands-"hands with hearts in them"-it was evident from its heartiness that something more was meant by the demonstration than mere delight at seeing a public favorite one again. The different performances of the evening were rapturously applauded by the audience; who were evidently of opinion that Madame Laborde's illness had, if anything, only increased the power and sweet-ness of her voice. At the conclusion of the concert, a call was raised by a section of the Covernor's present allies for the Morseillaise Hymn, which was met by a counter applica-tion from "the foes of the liberties of the people," for "God save the Queen." A decided difference of opinion thus manifested itself as to which of the calls was the most appropriale in a British Province and from a loyal people-it was obvious that one party must give way. Accordingly the patrons of the revolutionary anthem received certain unmistakeable hints that their absence was desirable, and the way that they cut down the long passages of Donegana's Ho'el, was (as our American friends say) "no man's business." Reiterated cheers "for the Queen" were afterwards given outside the Hotel--three cheers for the Convention-and three most unmusical groams for Lord Elgin. After which the assemblage dispersed to their homes. Madame Laborde gives her last concert this evening, and in addition to the attraction of her own operatic groupe, introduces a pianiste from the Continent, Mulle. Faustina Hasse, to the dillettenti of Montreal. We have been requested, by Mr. Shaw, to announce that no other sungs than those mentioned in the programme will be sung this evening .- 1b.

BULLION IN THE BANK OF ENGLAND. The extraordinary accumulation of bullion in the Bank of England, and which promises to go on steadily increasing for months, if not years to come, is beginning to attract the attention of all reflecting men. Even now there is upwards of £15,000,000 or gold in the levia- deal for breakfast, and a deal more at dinner. than establishment in Threadneedle street, and there can be no doubt that in the course of a few weeks the amount will have approached £17,000,000, for not less than £700,000 is expected from Russia in ten or twelve days, and another £750,000 from Panama, chiefly consisting of California gold. Contemporaneously with this extraordinary accumulation of treasure, there is an amount of unemployed notes in the Bank of England, altogether unprecedented. The reserve of notes now exceeds £10,500,000; and so far from its iliishnlaing, it has been steadily increasing for mithe st twelve months-Republic.
