ment in a situation of strength and security and of general convenience to the inhabitants of the Province.

And your Petitioners, As in duty bound, Will ever pray.

REPLY. I shall not fail to bestow my best consideration on the documents to which you direct my attention.

The removal of the seat of Government is a very grave question, and I have already, when it was brought before me in the most formal manner, deprecated a hasty decision upon it.

His Excellency was pleased to observe to the Sheriff of the Midland District, who went down the River to meet him, that he intended to pass Kingston by on his upward trip, but not out of respect to the City, for which he entertained a high opinion, but because he was pressed by time to be at Niagara on appointment.

LOLA MONTES—THE HELEN OF THE AGE. (From the London Observer.)

The Helen of the age is most assuredly Lola Montes, alias Betty James, alias the Countess von Landsfeld, alias Mrs. Heald.

Her maiden name was Rose Anna only. Her marriage took place at Meath, in Ireland. She accompanied her husband to India, and returned to Ireland in 1814 or 1815.

It appears from the proceedings in the divorce case stated in which Lord Justice James was relieved from his matrimonial bond with Lola Montes, who married Miss Gilchrist, Lola's mother, in India.

The fact is now apparent, that she was married at the age of fifteen or sixteen, under the name of Gilchrist, to a gentleman named Thomas James, a lieutenant in the 21st regiment of Bengal Native Infantry.

HONORABLE TRAGEDY IN SWITZERLAND.—The Paris papers detail the particulars of a fearful tragedy recently perpetrated at Basle, in Switzerland, namely, the murder of four children, aged from sixteen to seven, by their father, Jacob Moser, a widower, forty-five years of age.

THE ROYAL EXCURSION.—If her Majesty has had reason to feel satisfied with the reception she has met with from her loyal subjects in Cork and Dublin, we entertain the grand belief that the magnificent and inspiring scene which met her Majesty's gaze on Saturday, in Belfast, must have been to the full as grateful to her Majesty as any which has hitherto greeted her progress in any portion of the British Empire.

MR. JOHN AMBROSE'S CONCERN.—The young artist gave his Piano Forte Concert at the Court House on Friday last. It had been postponed from the previous evening, on account of the weather, and like other postponements of the kind, it had the effect of diminishing the anticipations.

His performance on Friday evening was of such a nature, that we were to dilate upon it, it would convert the purpose of a notice of Mr. John Ambrose upon our fellow townsman. Suffice it to say it was received with such genuine bursts of real enthusiasm, as must very speedily bring Mr. James McMillan again before the Kingston public.
