ASTONISHING DISPATCH.

Let people ceas: to clamor for the policy of the new Government; it is beginning to ous performance. Here is the Herald's own language :- "A gentleman who tells us that he has had frequent occasion to communicate with the Government, and has rarely bobtained a prompt reply, said he was exceedingly surprised since the new Ministry came into office at having an acknowledgment of a letter addressed to the Secretary of State, within about forty-eight hours of the time of posting it." While the reader is pausing to take breath after being made acquainted with this stupendous achievement, we take leave to say, that in regard to anything concerning the posting or receiving of a letter the Herald's perceptions are no doubt preternaturally acute. It is to be regretted that in the gush of its delighted appreciation of this marvellous performance our contemporary has forgotten to say where the letter was posted, but the intrinsic probabilities of the case are that it teen from forty-eight leave thirty-two, at the hour of 12 o'clock, noon. which is the small number of hours that the Secretary of State had in which to] write that acknowledgment.
