Petersburg, has just left London for that go into Committee on the resolution to money for draining swamp lands.

Mr Cameron thought some explanation should be given of this measure. It ap peared to be a re-enactment of the Act of tue late government, which the hon. gentleman opposed.

Hon. Mr McKellar said he had opposed some of the details of the Act of the late Government. He proposed in this measure. to place a very large amount of control in the while enabling Government to do the work. hands of municipalities, which was not the case in the Act of the late Administration. He found that a number of municipalities desired that the Government should do the work, and what the Government proposed to do was to apprepriate $200,000, to be expended under the direction of the Government, where the municipalities prefer the work should be done. They also preposed the debentures of municipalities, issued for the purchase of the debentures of municipalities, issued for PARKHILL'S. TO THE TRADE. to apprepriate $200,000, for the purchase of London, Jan. 25, 2 p.m.—The ex-Em- drainage purposes. The present bill was a re-enactment of the Act of last session, with the provision that the Government might purchase $30,000 or $40,000 of debentures issued by mistake under the Municipal Act and not under the bill of last session. Hon. Mr Wood said that where drainage would utillize a large tract of land and increase its value the Government might advance the money, but for other local improvements experience taught us that the Jovernment should not become creditors of municipalities.

The motion was carried. Mr Cameron said it was now time the House should be furnished with the bills importance which had been promised by Government this session—such as those for dealing with the Municipal Loan fund, and the division of the surplus.

The Attorney General said the Govrnment would be able to introduce the bills next

The House went into committee on Mr Crook's bill respecting the University of Mr Lander said the Government should include the heads of all chartered colleges in the representation in the Sanate of the University of Toronto.

Mr Cameron held that there should only be one University in the Province for conferring degrees, all other chartered colleges being affiliated with it. Mr Rykert thought that the high schools aught to be allowed representation in the Mr Crooks said it was open to high school teachers to have representation in the Senate, inasmuch as all graduates had a voice in the composition of the Senate, and it was not improbable that some high school teacher would be elected to it. On the clause respecting degrees to be conferred, on motion of Mr Crooks the degrees to be conferred were increased by adding those of Civil Engineer, Mining Engineer, and Mechanical Engineer.
