The people who have fixed salaries, bear the brunt of it; for mon whose earnings are uncertain, they never so conscientious in rendering a imation; losses may occur which will make one years income little or no criterion for the next, and what are such men to say, when the Assessor comes around. When if a man be not disposed to tell the truth about his income, there is no effectual remedy. all depends on the particular individuals sense of henour, and we all know how weak the ordinary notions of morality are on such questions. Smuggling is held no sin by many people who would never think o' defrauding their neighbours, and the same view is held by many with regard to al

We dont know how Kingston stands in regard to this matter, but Ottawa and Toronto both seem to suffer from unequal assessments. A recent writer upon this subject, speaking of the state of things in Ottawa, express himself as fellows : ed by Mr Vanluven.

"We find from the printed assessment rells of the city that the 290 members of the Civil Service resident at Ottawa have the honour of paying nearly if not quite onethird of the entire assessment of the city en personal preperty and income.
