Montreal Affairs. (FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.) Montreal, Saturday, Feb. 8th, 1873.—Our last letter gave the reader a small idea of Montreal—that idea is going to be enlarged.

THERE WAS A MASQUERADE. In the papers there appeared a notice of this great and gala entertainment, and none could get in unless subscribers to the rink or their families. Price of admission to the rink shell out, for their daughters and Misses would go, so the rink made money out of it. On arrival at the rink it was indeed a splen did sight-festoonsd with flags, crowded with spectators, dense crewds along the sides, gal- anything else, if they could get the Globe to leries nearly falling, and on the rink itself all blow breezes for them. -Yours, &c., the motley group of all the representations of of the whole world. World did we say? SLEIGH We should have said the universe, for there were present the representatives of the devil and his angels. We did not, however, notice peared to be to represent the devil as hideous; it is well that it was so, for had he been represented in these gorgeous colours and that delightfully modulated voice, which caused the fall of Eve, it would have been the "greatest thing out on ice," and there is no doubt he would have had many disciples from

Half of the young cubs that run and adding to it a large wing; and your comround Montreal with seal skin coats have got is in a forward state of progress, so much so brass and gold; that is about all they possess. that it is expected to be ready for occupation The gold was left to them by some rich early in the spring. Your committee feel father, and the brass they have manufactured | confident that when completed the Board can for themselves out of the glisten of the gold. Some of this class of the citizens becontemplated, will at the same time be an orlonged to the rink, and as they had never nament to the city. It will thus be seen that been properly brought up, what was bred in the Directors have adopted and carried out the bone would come out. They placed their names as competitors for the prizes which the ings had long before been realized, and their Governor-General had offered. They had the precarement, as soon as possible, determine whole assemblage adjourn from 5 p.m. till 8 upon. The great difficulty lay in the question of "ways and means." The alterations and additions now in progress will amount in cost to not far from $3,500. The Directors hope, rather (according to Mr Frank Jervis' state- howeve., that with the money to be realized ment) had appointed two other judges, be. from the sale of the old premises and contricause the others had declined to act, refused sources they will before very long be able to to skate. One would suppose they were con- come out clear of debt. This encouraging tending for life or death, or the Great East- prospect is very largely due to the never-flag ern, or five million of dollars. Why did not | ging exertions of the late Mayor, and for they put in their protest, and skate and be done with it, instead of making apes of themselves? They did nothing of the kind, and all they have done is to gain notoriety, which reflects little credit on themselves, and less on

THE BANK OF MONTREAL. Stock in this institution appears to have received some stability, and we should not wonder if it were to rise considerably in the next week or so. People here are pretty well vexed with the idea that Canada should be drained of her money to supply Mr King with funds to speculate in New York. It is well therefore was $5, which was considered rather for the shareholders, but it is entirely against steep. You will notice the underlying strata public policy, and the sooner an Act is passed Montreal action—money. The Gevernor prohibiting the emigration of our coin to a for-General was there, and the old fellows had to eign market for the purposes of speculation the better. It is a rather difficult bill to frame, but we will have so many new lights from the Grit Phalanx of Ontario, that framing such a bill would be nothing to them, or
