San Francisco, Feb. 21.-Advices from Honololu to January 27th state that the King in his inaugural address proposed important amendments to the constitution. The first and most important is that the Legislature be divided into two distinct p.m. branches, nobles, and representatives. He also proposed free suffrage, and that the Attorney-General of the Kingdom be no longer a member of the Cabinet. The Legislative Assembly adopted these amendments, and it now only remains for the Legislature to ratify them next year. The Commercial Advertiser wishes the King to visit the United States to negotiate a treaty of reciprocity with the Wasghington Government

THE CANADA PACIFIC RAIWAY.

(From the St. Catharines Journal.) The certainty that the Pacific Railway will be built within the time specified in the Act and on the terms proposed by the Ottawa Ministry, is gall and wormwood to the Grits, and more especially after the strenuous efforts of the chief organ to defeat the scheme, and give the American lines a monopely of the trade. The Globe says :-

the probable metives that have led Sir John .. Macdonald to come to terms before the meeting of Parliament with the "Ring" who profess to intend to carry out this agreement. On these intrigues the judgment of the country has been prenounced VV by anticipation, and the terms of the Char- wages will will be given. Apply to the ter will not abate one jot the all but unani mous condemnation with which, both on its merits and the manner of its inception, the Pacific Railway scheme has been already

The coalition formed by Mr Sandfield Macdonald was condemn d by the same corrupt and corrupting a can; and when, through the illness of Mr Macdonald, and over my store. by the lavish use of money, the first Ontaric Ministry was defeated, principally on the ground of being a combination of gentlemen who had differed in their political views prior to the "new departure," the Globe advocated, and new supports a coalition, the backbone of which is a dyed-in-wool Tory, coming from the section of the Provence where that paper at one time asserted an honest politician was not to be found

IN SEARCH OF A FARM.

The Guelph Herald thus hits off the manner in which the Ontario Commissioner of Agriculture has been fooling away the people's money in the endeavor to find position-politically-suitable for the locas tion of the much talked of Model Farm. We commend the paragraph from our Guelph contemporary to the serious consideration of the economical editor of the Banner :--

"We have all heard of Tom Moore's "Irish gentleman in search of a Religion," and Capt. Marryatt's "Japhet in search of a father," but none of these have travelled in the gorgeous style of McKellar in search of a (model) Farm. These travels have cost the country $1,015,13! This, of course, does not include the hundreds of dollars TORY, Vats, Presses, Hoops, Crane, Weighspent by Guelph and other municipalities ing Can, &c. Address, in entertaining the seekers after real estate. Dr. Livingstone could explore Central Africa on half the sum. But then you can't have a Reform Government without paying for it."

Smart boys in Springfield give blind organ grinders ten cent scrips made of wall paper, make their own change out of his hat, leaving him five cents ahead, as he supposes.

A commander in the Royal Navy, in a communication to a London journal, makes a semewhat e ergetic suggestion for the prevention of collisions! He says: The late dreadful loss of life from the running down of the Northfleet calls forcibly to my mind the recol-I ction of how an old brother officer of mine, a great many years ago, saved the vessel he commanded -her Majesty's schooner Bermudy -from bing run into by a strange steam vessel one dark night in the West Indies. Seeing that the vessel was almost upon him, and having a musket ready loaded with ball cartridge. he himself took aim with the weapon at the spot—as nearly as possible—where the helmsman was, fired, and the immediate effect was that the steamer's helm was put "hard over," and her Majesty's schooner was saved. would, on this yarn, base the suggestion that, at night; in a crewded ocean thoroughfare, a rifle loaded with a ball is a very good thing to
