WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 29. SEE FIRST PAGE.

The Hon. Mr Macdougall left Ottawa on Tuesday afternoon en route for the Red River and the seat of his governorship. A large number of his friends assembled at the station to bid him farewell. Amongst his baggage were 50 or 60 breech loading rifles, intended for volunteers at Fort Gar-

The dinner to the Hon. John Rose came off in Montreal last Tuesday night, and was P very well attended. In a speech in response to the toast of his health, Mr Rose reviewed the financial position of Canada, and referred to different points in his own career. He warmly thanked the kindness that had led to the banquet in hig honour, and said that such kindness took the sting out of much that was disagreeable in politics, and removed one of the many drawbacks that deterred men of sensibility from taking part in public affairs. The demonstration was one of which the retiring Finance Minister might well be proud, as gentlemen of both parties attended and the proceedings were of the warmest would like. He thought that both telegrams character.

The newspapers are still occupied with *the case of Sir Francis Hincks and his It is seldom that the press of Canada has the administration as on this of condemn ing the return to public life in Canada of Sir Francis Hincks.
