The negotiations between Great Britain gard the Treaty of Paris and to equip in defiance of that instrument a powerful fleet in the Black Sea. Great Britain and Austria, according to an English authority, the London Daily Telegraph, have firmly but courteously denied Russia's right to withdraw from the Treaty of 1856. It is anticipated that with this firm opposition blocking the way, Russia will seek some

It is further seen that an honourable re. treat has been chosen by Russ'a in that power consenting to a Conference of the Ministers of powers interested in the Treaty of Paris, to be held in London in January next, on the basis of the withdrawal of the Gortschakoff note. The best results may be hoped from such a course. The holding of the Conference will dispel all anticipations of war, and English commerce as well as Russian can rise untramelled by any fears to its full activity.
