WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 12.

Ontario Legislature. Toronto, March 10 .- In the House today, a great deal of time was taken up with private bills.

Mr Lauder moved for the appointment of N.B.—Having engaged a first-class Tuner a committee to enquire into the constitufrom the city of Boston, formerly from France, tion and operation of organizations carrying we will take pleasure in attending to all on business in this Province, known as Mercantile Agencies, with a view of ascertaining whether or not it is advisable in the public interest to place them on such a footing as to secure full and proper responsibility on their part for all reports issued, and statements made by them. He said he had had his attention several times called to the sort of information supplied by these establish-GOODS. ments, and said that in many cases that information was entirely false and most injurious. Country merchants were entirely at the mercy of these agencies, who could ruin them if they pleased. It was most necessary that there should be some legislation to meet cases where the business standing of merchants was damaged by the reports issued by these agencies; plenty of information could be supplied the committee at once. He had himself in his possession the contidential papers of some agencies. The Attorney-General said that those agencies had become important in business and perhaps they sometimes did harm. He thought, however, that they generally did great deal of good. It was his opinion that there should be some substantial perpersons connected with these agencies A full assortment of Ladies' and Children's against whom appeal could be had .- Motion carried. Col. Baldwin Boultbee moved for the appointment of a select committee to enquire in the case of the widow and daughters of the late Col. Connel J. Baldwin. He explained that Col. Baldwin, in raising a regiment for the defence of the Province. had been defranded of about $5,000 of his private funds; that in consequence he had to part with his remaining property and Mr Clark (Norfolk) moved the second reading of the bill to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage in Ontario. He entered at great length into the subject of "throwing down the gauntlet of prohibition in the name of hundreds of thousands. Mr Rykert-Take a drink. (Loud laugh-

his half-pay. -- Motion passed.

It being six o'clock the House rose. After recess a discussion arose concerning the right of the House to deal with the Mr Calvin said he had been a temperance man for forty years, and from what he saw he believed the Government were inimical to the cause of temperance. They were striving for temperance votes, but not for the temperance principal.

Mr Farewell said he had taken no legal advice as to the constitutionality of the bill. Hear, hear.) Mr Clarke (Norfelk) regretted the course which the Hon. member for South Ontario had pursued. That hon, gentleman should stand by his bill if he believed in it. Consistency required him to do that. (Hear,

Mr Robinson said it was absurd for hon. members to give temperance lectures on unlawful bills. As the hon. Premier knew, to his cost, the temperance men in Kingston and elsewhere, always voted for these who drank the most whiskey. (Loud Laughter.) If the House did not begin its proper business, it would not rise until midsummer of autumn. (Hear, hear.)

MrCraig, (Glengarry), said hon. members were making fools of themselves in discussing a bill which they knew could not become law. (Hear hear.) The House had been sitting long enough Hon. Mr Mowat said this was as much a prehibitory liquer law as the other. Mr Cameron said it was a preposterous doctrine to say that this House should discuss matters which could only be dealt with by the Dominion Parliament. (Hear, hear.) He thought it exceedingly unbecoming that such matters should be introduced into this Legislature. (Hear, hear.)
