THE CASE OF THE MARY CELESTE. The United States authorities in New York are about to institute proceedings against the owners of the "Mary Celeste," whose strange abandonment at sea, and the mysterious disappearance of whose officers and crew have recently been chronicled. The Custom House officers allege that she was fraudu! lently entered at the appraised value of $2,- Pittsburgh. 600, for which amount only a bond was executed, whereas insurances were effected on her of $16,000. The owners declare that they made many repairs to the vessel after the bond was filed, bringing her value fully up to the sum represented by the insurance.
