INTERNATIONAL COURTESIES - Colonel Shaw, American Consul at Toronto, went on beard the yacht Coral this morning, and recoived a hearty welcome. As he left Kingston PINE AND PATRICK STREETS to the Vincent, the yacht ran up the American onsign, which was responded to by the steamer, Montreal Street, containing nearly half an

THE ORANGE GRAND COUNCIL. A letter from Glasgow, Scotland received this morning, dated July loth, informs us that the business of the Council was then about over, and that they had had "a most harmonious meeting." On the 15th, there was a grand open-air demonstration between Glas. gow and Paisley, at which our correspondent says there were almost one hundred thousand people present," "the largest crowd I ever saw together."

D'Arcy Boulton, Esq., M. P., was elected resident of the Association. It was a graceful act on the part of the Brethren at home, to give the post of honor to a Canadian. The next meeting of the Council will bo neld in Londonderry on the 13th July, 1876.

The delegates are engaged to attend a banquet at Belfast, on the 22nd, and a meeting at Armagh on the 23rd July. The Grand Master of the Orange Asso ciation of the United States Bro. Bond, fory for such an | was admitted to a seat in the Council on | sale by Mr Gladstone the 16th inst. The proceedings were of the note to the Emperor most harmonious character, and will result in much good to the Order. -Belleville Intel-

SEVERE THUNDERSTORM IN HAMIL-

On Friday evening Hamilton was visited by one of the most severe thunderstorms that can oe remembered by its oldest residents. Early athe evening dark ominous clouds began to gather up in the west, from which vivid flashes of lightning, followed by crashing rolls of trote for the motion He ithunder, came in quick succession. Between assunwarranted and | cight and nine o'clock rain began to fall in reshould of itorrents, continuing with slight intervals up wherein to daylight next morning. About half-past 8 o'cleck a small frame house belonging to Mr members for 1 A. Ellender, painter, and occupied by a man named Williams, wife and son, situated on Mills street, was struck by lightning. Mr Williams was sitting in the back room at the ... time, leaning against the wall, and when the duid made its way from the cellar it passed along his right leg from the knee down to the oes, scorehing the hair upon his leg, and trning a narrow strip of the skin from the makle to his great toe. Before he could realize as position, he heard his wife and child screamafter North War- long, and as soon as he could recover himself! the went to their assistance. They had been anecked down by the severity of the shock. and Mira Williams seems to be considerably hurte but without any outward appearance of mjury. Mrs Williams suffered much pain; the child was not hurt. Mr Williams thinks ant he will not suffer any inconvenience from the effects. Simultaneously with this, Mr George Batchelder, in company with Joseph ce, was entering their barn, about eighty 4 from Williams' house, when he felt a sudpressure as it there wile come great weight hour, and then saw a chair of tightning, tingen pints. distrib pressed close to his ince.
