THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 31, 1853.

The Kingston Assemblies.

The Third and Last of the Revive Kingston Assemblies came off on Tucsday night last at the City Hall. The attendance was not so good as at either of the preceding Assemblies, and the Company in arriving came at a much later hour; nevertheless, the handsome City Chamber was well filled towards eleven o'clock, and dancing was maintained with much vigor until three in the morning. The Refreshments, ample and excellent in the extreme, were again under the management of Mr. | Carlton L'Hoist, and those parties who did attend | Dandas appeared to enjoy themselves greatly. A portion of the Band of the 71st Regiment. under the leadership of Mr. Murdoch, was in The orchestra, and discoursed most eloquen

Many thanks are due to the Stewards and other influential gentlemen who reorganized the old Kingston Assemblies, but we are compelled to acknowledge that their dabor has been an ungrateful task. The Nobs of the Cuy, as the old Families call themselves, would not subscribe to these Assemblies, or if they did subscribe, made -a point of not attending, probably because very many Snobs, that is to say, the Merscantile Community of the City, were -allowed to subscribe; while all those Snobs who did not come forward of themselves, For fancied they would be rejected, made it a personal matter, and abused the Stewards For pandering to Aristocracy! Thus be-Eween two fires the kind-hearted gentlemen. auffered. Hence the disgraceful scene in The Council Chamber of Monday, sen'night. which ill natured feeling was further carried out on Tuesday morning, by compelling the Stewards to pay Ninety Dollars for the rent of three nights, although it cost the Stewards upwards of Five Pounds to cleanse the Hall from the filth of the last cheap and masty Religious Ten Party. But whatever be the fate of the l'evived. Kingston Assemblies, we say again, that the Thanks of the City are due to the Stewards. who performed their difficult task in a very praisworthy manner, and who did everything m their power to piense the Subscribers.

Strange News from Californ'a.

Alfred II. St. Gormain, Esq., once upon a time, one of the spirited Editors of the · Kingston Herald, has lately passed through the Golden. Gate, and obtained a Trlimpse of California. It will be readily conceded, after reading his communication, Toronto, city, published in the April No. of the Anglo- Kingston, city. Being a gen- | London tleman of large observing and descriptive Brockville, town & towns'p 8,451 powers, it will not be wondered at that Mr. Niagara, town & township 5,520 St. G. has given to the ignorant Canadian public a learned and critical dissertation on the mysteries and miseries of the Modern Ophir. It appears that he visited California, "with an object in view"-probably for some scientific purpose, as the idea of making gold appears to have been scouted by the millionaire. He makes a most pitiful whine over the general poverty of almost the entire mass of the miners and speculators, in one paragraph; and in another, relates with a perfect gush of scornful sentiment, how he turned up his nose at $50 per week. It is true, part of the agreeament was to the effect, that he was to attend the Theatre every night, and stand in the Counting Room all day on Sunday .--

Hence there are so many failures, and numbers are met coming down again in perfect dejection and destitution. I hope that long before this reaches England these facts will have been published-these obverse features of the golden medal of Australia Felix. But what must be the amount of distress when the number here is augmented by the tens and hundreds of thousands coming from America, Jamaica, England, and the Continent? I perceive a considerable number of French and Germans here already. It begins now to be an opinion that in a few months, such is the swarm of people pouring in, there will be plenty of labour of kinds, and then things will speedily find their level, to the astonishment of those who have purchased houses and land at the present ex- move orbitant prices. ### Head's Fortnight in Ireland.

Sir Francis Bond Head is a gentleman who jumps through a country, as he rode over the plains of Buenos Ayres, and sees all things at a ed glance.
