SHE ISGONE.

She is gone, my sweet babe, she is gone To the realms of glory above To join with the angels in song And share in a Fond Father's love.

She is gone, oh! how sad is the thought Must I never behold her again, My heart with that image is fraught. The thought but increases the pain.

She is gone ! yet I shall not repine, In innocence free'd from all guile With Cherubs forever to shine, With Angels forever to smile.

She is gone ! yes, we shall meet again In the regions of bliss, ever more To sing God's praises alone, And meet loved ones gone long before.

She is gone, my sweet babe, she is gone, Oh! dear was my Mary to me Fond memory brings back when alone That image so cherished by me.

She is gone! we know not how soon, Each one in Judgment shall stand When our Bed i s ascend from the Tomb Led by an omnipotent hand.

She is gone, then let us prepare To meet with our loved ones above, When tears shall be wiped from all eyes By the hand of that Father of Love.
