YESTERDAY'S ELECTION

ALD. CARSON RETURNED AS MAYOR BY A LARGE MAJORITY

ing-The Returns From the Different Polling Places.

The municipal elections which transpired yesterday were the quietest for years, and were it not for the few hundred of people who collected in front of the newspaper offices to hear the returns announced, a stranger in the city would not observe that contests had occurred In the mayoralty contest the result was as was generally expected - in favor of and consequently every ward in the city was canvassed and thoroughly worked in his interest. During the afternoon a reporter visited all the polling places, and at each one he was informed that Carson was sure of success. At very few of the booths were there workers for Mr. Chown, and wherever they did exist they were no matches for their opponents in bringing up the voters. In several places Chown had no support whatever, outside of his scrutineer, while his opponent had fully half a dozen of live and active young men who were continually on the jump either bringing electors to the polls or canvassing those who went there unsoficited. In Ontario and Cataraqui wards especially Chown had very little assistance, while Carson had strong men at these posts, and at every booth an anti Scott act man worked strongly in his favor. While the anti's were unusually active the temperance men were noticeably inactive, and the ladies who, it was said, would not only go for him in a body but would, favorable circumstances indicated that Chown had not good organization, and there was no doubt that he had not. majority, they do claim that the result would have been vastly different, from what it was. From the mement the reincluding the mayor. The prospects are turns began to arrive it was seen that Carson had met with success, and when the figures placed his return beyond a doubt he addressed a few of the electors who were present, returning thanks for their support and expressing his approval of the friendly manner in which Mr. Chown had conducted the campaign. After pointing out that he had done his duly while an alderman and stating that he would continue to do his duty as mayor, he again returned thanks and then retired.

THE WARD CONTESTS. Probably the warmest brush in the city occurred in Ontario ward, where there were six candidates in the field, all workers and good citizens. Their names are Mesars, W. Wilson, R. Toye, T. H. McGuire, L. Clements, C. F. Smith and R. Gardiner. The voters were taken to the polls bright and early and at noon the knowing ones began to name the three neither was right, the successful candidates being Wilson, Smith and McGuire Ald. Gardiner worked steadily all day, and was contident that he would win. He said he enjoyed the contect and was glad that opposition had gone into the tield, for the simple reason that he desired to win his spurs. Mr. Smith is

John does not feel sore about his defeat, because if he had had his own way he would not have been in the field. His friends compelled him to take an other turn at the handle and he did so, but, as he says: "To tell the truth, I'm. just as well pleased that I was left at home." Creeggan is non-plussed over the result, because he got sufficient as surances of support to elect him at the head of the poll. Some electors must have gone back on their words;, there is no doubt that they did, and the result is ward, having worked in his own mysteri ons way to secure this end. He told his friend Creeggan that he was going to head the poil, but the latter disputed the contention, because he could not see how Thompson could take the lead when he (C) had all the promises. Thompson. however, knows of two or three ways of running an election, and they are all as mysterious as they are successful. N. Wilmot made a good run, coming out second, and this without making a convass of the ward. His figures would have been higher, no doubt, had he utilized his time as About ten o'clock last night a fire broke his opponents did. W Robinson said he would be successful this time, and he was.

The Claims of the Old 14th. "A volunteer of 1839 89" writes from Barley's Harbor, Wisconsin, as follows: journal that a meeting of the efficers of UNDER the 14th P. W. O. rifles had been held for the purpose of appointing a deputation to wait upon the minister of militia and urge upon the government the claims of the 14th for their services during the feman raid and at other times when their services were required. I was well pleased in reading the article, and hope the government will not overlook their claims. have often thought it very strange that no person up to the present time attempted to bring under the notice of the government the claims of the volunteers who turned out to defend the country. in the rebellion of 1837, 8 and 9 certainly, their services should have been recognized by the government, and some the history of the store, and every one going away pleased a medal) as an appreciation of their services in turning out to defend the country in its greatest peril. I suppose few of those men are living; the expense, there fore, would not be great to the government. 'Will some person, who has influence with the government, bring the mat ter before them I would accept the Hon. George A. Kirkpatrick, who has matter prominently before the governvolunteers of 1837, 8 and 9, and request
