CHAPTER XX. A stifled, intense, horror-stricken, follow-up on his words. Miss Roche has fallen back, her arms outstretched, and she has clasped upon her bosom, and her eyes, large and terrified, fixed on his.

to him! He gave a start to the girl who had rushed to him and laid her hand upon his shoulder. For the moment it seemed as if he had forgotten that there was any one in the world but her.

He said Miss Roche. His gaze returned to Nadine, and again it rested upon her, his eyes, his ruin, his coming exile. "Nadine," he said, and his voice had grown wonderfully soft.
