MARK TWAIN ON SCHOOLS

A Witty Speech at a Recent Dinner in New York,

The following is an extract from Mark Twain's speech at the New York stationers' banquet last week:-As to Mr. Beaman's attacking Ben Franklin, that can be explained (C. C Beaman, one of Senator Evarts' law partners, had spoken a few minutes before.) Franklin was sober because he lived in Philadel phia Why, Philadelphia is a sober city to day (Great laughter) Why, it is as good as Sunday to be in Philatelphia now (More laughter.) Franklin was frugal, and, as he says himself with becoming modesty, he had no vices, because, though he lit le suspected it, he made a vice of frugality You saw, as Mr. Beaman told you, how he did, but when he mentions why he did he gives himself away (laughter,) and, . finally, he wished that at the last he may be shoved into a barrel of Madeira; if he had lived here instead of in Philadelphia he would have wanted to get the barrel of Madeira into him. (Roars of laughter.) I am here in the character of author and publisher, but I think I will let them rest.
