Failing Health. Ten rears ago my health began to faft. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarasparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Aver's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alter-ative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.— W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured. scribe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored. — Mary Harley, Spring-field, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the rompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 283 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Toronto Week is able to view with hilosophic complacency the proposal largely increase public subsidies to Toronto university while refusing similar asistance to Queen's, a proposal which aims at wrecking an important and worthy institution in Kingston in America. Piccolomini came in October. 1858, and in the winter of that year Allman and Strakesch took the helm, and on Nov. 24. 1858 introduce the peerless, perennial Patti in "Lucia." Jacob Grau in 1859 had a chance at thec gademy and put "Dinogah" on the stage. The war came, and people had no taste for opera or surplus money to spend on it. On May 21, 1866, the building went up in flames. Maretzek had had a lease of several years, and Gazzaniga, Kellogg, Phillips and Ronconi had appeared. December, 1863, saw German opera under Carl Arschurz, and on the 2d Flowtow's "Stradella" was given its first performance. On the 25th of November preceding the opera of "Faust," had been given the first of its many performances in America, with Clara Louise Kellogg as the Marguerite. "La Juive had been the opera on the night of the fire, which swept into one of the biggest conflagrations the city has seen in recent years. The building, which had cost $350,000, was sured for $150,000, and the stockholders stood a heavy assessment, and in March, 1867, the academy had been rebuilt and was ready for occupancy. The first performance was a masked ball for the benefit of the unfortunate Maretzek. "The Barber" was the first opera, with Miss Hauk in minor part; 1870 lmd Daly as a manager, with Janauschek in heavy tragedy; saw fine opera, under the management of Max and Maurice Strakesch. Mapleson then came with all his military blow and bluster to give the later generation of box holders opera with many of the old favorites. He began on Oct. 16, 1878, with Hauk and Campanini in "La Traviata." His second year saw Gerster, and in 1880 Ambre and Valleria were singing. In 1881 Patti returned, and for three opera seasons was the Mapleson star of success. He then demanded a big subsidy, and, not getting it, left the academy to its rapid decline, Jan. 4, 1886,
