NO. 223.

MR. R. SHAW TO DR. FEE
A CHARGE MADE AGAINST A SCHOOL
TEACHER.

Dr. Fee Placed in an Indiscreet Position
A Debate That Will Be Remembered
For Some Time to Come.

Last night's meeting of the school board was the most interesting of the year. While the inspecto-report was being discussed, Dr. Fox arose and asked if the school management committee had heard anything about a teacher having conducted himself in an improper manner recently. He thought that something should be done in the matter, because it was not right that a teacher who had committed such a sin should have control of pupils. He had asked that the committee on school management and taught a report before this. Mr. McCammon said the doctor seemed very anxious for an investigation now. He should have asked the committee to bring in a report. The affair was dead long ago, and he could not see why the doctor, at this late hour, wanted to get a slap at it.

Dr. Fee—I rise to a point of order. It seems that Mr. McCammon does not know his duty.

Mr. McCammon—Why didn't you draw attention to this matter before? There have been several meetings since the difficulty occurred; it is strange that the no brothers you see much now.

Mr. Shaw said that if Dr. Fox wanted to bring a charge against a teacher, he, as chairman of the school management committee, would see that it was investigated and a report made.

Mr. H. H. Fox said the doctor took a long time to bring the matter up, and the doctor asked him if he were disgruntled because the affair was mentioned. He expected that the committee on school management would have done its duty, but it seemed that it had not.

Mr. Shaw—Give us the name.

Dr. Fox—The writing master.

Mr. Shaw—Put it in writing.

Dr. Fox—I will not. You know that there was a police court case and it was imposed.

Mr. Shaw said that he knew no such thing, but that if the doctor would wait till later in the evening he would move a resolution that would deal with the case.

"All right" said the doctor, and the matter was no again referred to until the general business was concluded.

CREATED A SENSATION.

Mr. Shaw moved that the complaint made by Dr. Fox against Mr. F. Newlands, writing master, be referred to the committee on school management, that Dr. Fox be requested to be present to support the complaint and produce sufficient proof of any charges affecting said teacher. When this motion was carried, it created a sensation, because, if carried, it would place the doctor in an undesirable position. Mr. Shaw said he knew nothing about a police court case in which Mr. Newlands figured except what he had heard from Dr. Fox.

Dr. Fox—Don't make such a free use of my name.

ANOTHER WAY TO MEET THE CASE.

Mr. Shaw said that so far as any member around the board was concerned, he would use any means he pleased, and that if Dr. Fox did not like what he was saying, there was "another way to meet the case."

Dr. Fox knew about the matter and had spoken about it to him.

Dr. Fox—I rise to a point of order.

The chairman—Do you deny the charge?

Mr. Shaw said Dr. Fox could not deny the charge, because he could prove what he said. He then told the doctor that he had made a very grave charge, and that he now had it in his power to establish it at a meeting of the committee, which would be called as soon as possible.

Dr. Fox—You are going too far with your impetuosity.

Mr. Shaw said the doctor was very nice at making charges, but he thought he had made one that he would find very difficult to prove, and which would teach him not to jump up about every little thing that troubles his most singular mind.

GOING STRONG FOR THE DOCTOR.

Another thing," said Mr. Shaw, "Dr. Fox, notwithstanding his position, made a remark which is almost too contemptible for me to repeat. He referred to my language as impetuosity."

Dr. Fox—Mr. Chairman—

The chairman—He is replying to you, doctor.

Mr. Shaw said he had dealt with Dr. Fox in a similar case, some time ago, and that the doctor could make up his mind that if he went much farther he would not get off as lightly as he did before. (Senation.)

Dr. Fox said that in the first place he was asked an answer through the chair, as he wished to put it to the committee, but had a report to make regarding the master.

THE MOTION WAS CARRIED.

The chairman then put the motion, which was carried.

Dr. Fox being the only "nay" Mr. Shaw remarked that he hoped the reporters would note that Dr. Fox voted against having his own charge investigated.

Mr. Brown asked the doctor something about the central school, but the latter, taking his hat and saying "Ask Williamson," left the room."
