two notoriously bad girls, were arrested on William street at ten o'clock last night by Sergeant Neebitt, when they were engaged in a fight with two girls named Noon. At the court this morning they were charged with fighting on the street and remanded until to morrow, when the Noon girls will also appear. Both the girls are very young, Hughes being aged 17, and Cooper 15. For some time past they have been a source of annoyance and trouble to the police. At almost any hour of the night they could be seen together on the street. Their reputation is very bad. Edith Hughes has figured in several escapades; only a short time ago shooting with a revolver at a soldier. It is likely that the magistrate will send them to the Mercer.

YESTERDAY.

It was 5 30 o'clock yesterday morning when Superintendent Taylor, of the & P., signalled the Ottawa excursion train, composed of eleven cars, to start. There were about six hundred passengers bagger, and then the pitcher hit the baton board, and this number was swelled to about eight hundred before the capital was fanned and Walker caught a fly. In was reached. Between here and Sharbot lake people gathered at the various stations, and on the serival of the train those on board were greeted with fife and dram music and hearty cheers. At Parham glimpses of evergreen arches were caught, flies, but here several good strikes were and at other places processions were observed getting ready to march. The made smid wild cheers by Otta saites. down trip was made in a little over six persons had assembled to give the Kingstonians a hearty welcome, and when all had disembarked a committee directed the Orangemen to different hotels. After dinner Cartier square was the objective point, and there thousands of people congregated. It was two o'clock before the procession started, and the general opinion was that the contingent from Kingston composed the finest body of men in it. They were more neatly During several innings the ball did not dressed and their marching was better than that of any other lodge. The route must have been over five miles long. and when the march was concluded the boys were literally fagged out. The grand marchal was Mr. John Carleton, and those from Kingston who were mounted and assisted in marshalling the lines, were Messrs. J. W. Brown, Thos. McKee and W. Cockade.
