We would be likely to suffer a small direct | loss on this arrangement, and we might suffer some loss by reason of the diversion of trade from Canadian to American perts. Then it must be remembered that I there is no money for Canadian merchants in commercial union. Montreal I would have to divide her trade with New York, and Toronto with New York, Buffalo, Rochester and Datroit, and there would be little hope of extending their trade with the United States, which is separated into trade districts each now served by one or more large cities centrally situated therein. The States that what is "inevitable" in market of 60,000,000 people of which we hear so much from commercial unionists stay and one of the great obstacles is there; but not for Canadians—the mutual good feeling and reciprocal trade American producers and manufacturers relations will be removed. will take care of that.
