SALISBURY'S SUBMISSION.

BY COMPLYING WITH UNIONIST DEMANDS HE AVERTS A CRISIS.

Lord Burlington's Refusal to Enter the Cabinet. Parson's Proposal to Reclaim State. Criticized by Mr. Morley. Criticism of the Government.

LONDON, July 23.—The complete submission of Lord Salisbury to the demands of the Liberal-Unionists with regard to the Land Bill has averted a Cabinet crisis. The discontent in the Conservative ranks is supreme, and discord in the Cabinet would lead immediately to the secession of several Ministers if it were not for Lord Salisbury's threat of a dissolution of Parliament if he is not sustained by his colleagues at this juncture. During the week the Premier prolonged negotiations with Lord Hartington as much as possible, trying every means to induce him to enter the Cabinet. A number of Unionists, including Sir Henry James, Lord Selborne, and the Duke of Argyle urged Lord Hartington to accede to the demands of the Government. On consulting with Mr. Chamberlain, Lord Hartington agreed that the Unionists would not be assured of their support if he entered the Cabinet. They would certainly have the support of Lord Randolph Churchill and his clique and the Irish Conservatives to contend with. Their efforts were forced to abandon the coalition project. Lord Salisbury accepted the alternative, which was the adoption of a Liberal-Unionist policy without Lord Hartington as Minister to give countenance and reassurance.

The Land Bill in committee will now meet with only one formidable amendment. This will be proposed by Mr. Parry's proposal to retain all cases of non-payment of rent, and also all sales of tenancy rights. It further provides that where the landlord or lessor has been evicted as last year, the only difference being that in cases remote from a custom house, the United States vessels come in seeking shelter the commander of the cruiser, who is also the lessor, is authorized to enter and close these vessels. Any innovations either that the law is strictly enforced or that customs regulations are disregarded are not to be believed in the slightest degree.

Mackellar has contended that to interfere with rent contracts would be disastrous.

London, July 23.—The Right Hon. John Morley, in opening the Liberal Club to members to-night, said that the Government had waited half a year in passing a measure that was intended to suppress the National League, but directly they obtained it, Lord Salisbury changed his attitude and said he would adopt the scheme of non-payment of rents in Ireland. Lord Salisbury, Mr. Goschen, and Conservatives had contended that to interfere with the terms of tenancy will cause serious loss to him, compensation from the church fund shall be paid to him by the Land Commission from the Irish church surplus. An exciting discussion will certainly arise over this amend-

Borley's Criticism.

London, July 23.—The Right Hon. John Morley, in opening the Liberal Club to members to-night, said that the Government had waited half a year in passing a measure that was intended to suppress the National League, but directly they obtained it, Lord Salisbury changed his attitude and said he would adopt the scheme of non-payment of rents in Ireland. Lord Salisbury, Mr. Goschen, and Conservatives had contended that to interfere with rent contracts would be disastrous.

On the Land Bill.

London, July 24.—An interview was had with Wm. O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, on the subject of the Irish Land Bill. Mr. O'Brien said that the first effect of the measure would be to bankrupt and destroy the Government, which had adopted the policy of concessions destructive to the Conservative party. After a bitter struggle of six months, the Ministry had adopted Mr. Parsons' bill, and it was the plan of campaign that had forced them to pursue the present course.

Aberdeen Praises the Irish.

London, July 24.—The Earl of Aberdeen, who arrived at Queenstown to-day from New York, on the steamer Servia, was interviewed on the Irish question. He spoke in the highest terms of the Irish "all over the water."

Irish Affairs.

Dublin, July 25.—At a meeting of the campaign on the Vanier estate in West Ciar on Sunday, it was decided to accept the offer of a reduction of 30 per cent.

A special issue of the Dublin Gazette announces that the following counties have been fully proclaimed: Kings, Limerick, Longford, Sligo, Galway, Mayo, Roscommon, Clare, Cork, Cork, Limerick, Kilkenny, Queen, Tipperary, Waterford, Wexford, Donegal, and Monaghan. The counties partially proclaimed are Armagh, Carlow, Down, Cavan, Dublin, Kildare, Fermany, Londonderry, South Tyrone, West Meath, and Wicklow. The following towns have been proclaimed: Dublin, Cork, Limerick, Waterford, Londonderry, Kilkenny, Drogheda, Belfast, Carrick, Fergus and Galway.

London, July 25.—The Daily News says the Dublin proclamations surprise even those who believed best in the scrupulousity of the present Irish government.

St. John Church Troubles.

St. John, N. B., July 25.—Judge Palmer refused to grant an interim order restraining Rev. G. G. Ross from holding divine service in St. John's church. Frederick, who accepted the charge of his son, was also despatched to Parkdale, and subsequently to Exhibition Park.

Mr. Lynn at once started for Exhibition Park, and at once started for Parkdale, and his son's boy-father was also summoned by telephone.

It was the greatest excitement prevalent on the common among the volunteers, and those who had gathered around. Capt. Macdonald, who was practising with the Toronto Rife Association, was horrified when the boat came ashore to learn that his own cousin had received a bullet from a gunner's rifle. Capt. Macdonald, it is said, had not done any firing himself.

Dr. Lynn and Roach arrived within a few minutes of each other. The wound was examined and dressed as well as circumstances would permit. The boat went through the eighth rib on the right side, just above the middle line of the stern, and came out four inches directly below the left nipple, and its course passed through the right lung. Young Macdonald was remarkably well, and his undoubted death would have resulted instantaneously. His robust constitution withstood the fatal track of the bullet until exactly one hour after the accident, when he quietly passed away. Excessive internal hemorrhage was the immediate cause of death.

THE FISHERIES.

What the Minister of Fisheries says regarding the Alleged Poaching.

St. John, N. B., July 24.—Interviewed regarding the alleged poaching of Yankees fisherman, the Minister of Fisheries, Hon. Mr. Foster, who has just made a cruise of the fishing grounds, said: "The rumors concerning a special instance are definite, but whenever an investigation has been made, with results going to show that the rumors were unfounded. There was either a mistake as to the distance from shore at which the fishing was carried on, or in the class of vessels alleged to be fishing. The fact is that considering the extent of our coast, the amount of poaching is reduced to a minimum, and very few actual instances have been brought to the notice of the department. The patrol of the cruiser has not worked out, but carefully followed, and is kept up sharp. The U.S. State vessels themselves have, as I believe, strict orders to obey the laws of the fisheries."

They show a well-defined disposition to obey these orders. I have myself seen imperative instructions to United States fishermen, warning them to keep out of Canadian harbors, even when dressing their fish, for fear of coming into trouble. American fishermen cheerfully obey Canadian customs laws, entering immediately on coming into port, and in their intercourse with our cruisers they are always anxious to find out just what the regulations are and to adhere to them. I may say that captains of United States war-vessels in our waters board their own steamers and give them similar instructions. Customs laws are being as strictly enforced as last year, the only difference being that in cases remote from a custom house, the United States vessels come in seeking shelter the commander of the cruiser, who is also the lessor, is authorized to enter and close these vessels. Any innovations either that the law is strictly enforced or that customs regulations are disregarded are not to be believed in the slightest degree.
