

THREE ETON BOYS

By W. E. NORRIS.

Hardly were the words out of his mouth when the door of my study, where we were sitting, was opened and a young man in a white shirt and dark trousers...

"It was the voice of the Bracknell of our old days that spoke, and indeed when I looked at him it seemed as if that his eyes, too, had recovered something of their old-day light."

"I am glad to see you," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

lovely but, and there's nobody with me. I agreed that anything was better than...

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

There are in Ontario many people who are not only interested in the progress of the country but also in the progress of the people...

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."

"I have been thinking of you very much since we parted," he said, "and I am glad to see you again. I have been thinking of you very much since we parted."
