The Trial Races to Select America's Chan pion-The Butes.

There is consdierable excitement in the yachting circles of New York and Boston as the time approaches for the trial races from which a yacht will be seleeted to to face the Thistle. There is no abstement, but on the contrary a steadily increasing interest, and it may be safely said that both Boston and New York edge, each party having unbounded confidence in their sloops. The Bostonians are dead sure the Volunteer will be the Victor in the trial battles, and that will be the boat selected to uphold the yachting supremacy of America. On the other hand the yachtemen of New York feel confident that the Mayflower will dispose of the Volunteer in such a manner that she will be called upon to defend their trophy. The trial contest has parrowed down to the Volunteer and Mayflower. The yachts Puritan and Atlantic have been withdrawn.

The committee of the New York Yacht Club, to whom has been entrusted the important duty of selecting a defender of the America's cup in the coming International contest, has a very delicate task. Upon their verdict all depends. Following are the dates named for this eventful
