formed this morning from their visit to the Northwest and British Columbia, looking all the better for their trip. Speaking of his visit Hon. Mr. McLelan said: The matter which had chiefly occupied his attention referred to the establishment of greater postal facilities between different points along the British Columbia coast. Before leaving Ottawa negotiations had been opened up with Washington relative to sending the United Stater mails via the Canadian Pacifi route to Japan and China, but accord ing to last advices the matter was still pending. Regarding the extension of the present mail system to Australia, he said the matter of a subsidy had yet to be arranged between the British and Colonial Governments therested. During his tour a great many subjects had been brought under his notice relating to the postal service and the wants of the people. From personal observa tion he was in a much better position to deal with the various questions than he would questions would require some consideration and only a few minor ones were settled;on the spot. Most of the question% related to the extension of the postal system. Among the places the two ministers visited were Victoria. New Westminster, Vancouver, Nanaimo and intermediate points. Vancouver, the Postmaster-General said, was building up rapidly and making wonderful progress. The small healthy condition than they were at the time of his previous visit, some three years ago. There seemed to be an impression among the settlers that they were bound to succeed, while at the time of his previous tri settlement was regarded more in the light of an experiment. Mr. McLelan says he has greatly enjoyed his tour, the scenery through the mountains being sublime.
