The Daily News.

MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 6

The effect of the failure of the Union Generale of Paris is somewhat like that of Jay Cook in 1873. Speculation has led to collapse and thousands of worthy honest people of small fortunes are involved in the general ruin. The French are a thrifty industrious people, and are prospering now, so that the mismanagement of the bank appears still more clearly.

The indictment of the conductor and brakesman, responsible for the Spuyten Duyvil disaster, for manslaughter is a sensible step, and may, perhaps, induce the New York Central Company to take more care of their passengers in future. The Cunard steamship Company has made "safety" its motto, and boasts that it has never lost a life. Such a course is not only a matter of duty, but it pays.

The connection of Gen. Grant with the Peruvian Company, which claimed $900,000,000 from the Government of Peru and asked the American Government to enforce its claim, shows the real character of the man whom a large class of Americans would like to invest with a third term. He feels anxious for something to do, his sword rusts, and fellow citizens, capable of making excellent food for powder, are ignominiously employed behind ploughshares. The phantom of a military despotism rides through the land, and it will not be the fault of the canaille, whom universal suffrage exalts if Grant, does not become the founder of a dynasty.

The opinion of experts is that the worst vessels on the lakes are built at Detroit and Saginaw, and that Canadian vessels in general are much better built than American. On the other hand, American owners are compelled to keep up their property in winter, by cleaning it with brine &c., while this is neglected by the Canadians. The consequence is that the American vessels last much longer than ours. The latter are said to be in a very bad condition usually after eight or ten years, whereas they should remain, under proper care, sound, staunch, and seaworthy for twenty. There is a lesson in this for Canadian vessel owners.

Many papers are ridiculing the Bostonians for attending Oscar Wilde's lecture in crowds, and are asking what the American public are coming to when they can flock to hear Maudle talking aesthetic nonsense. Now, it by no means follows that those who go to hear Wilde admire his theories, or are affected by the craze. They are drawn solely by curiosity, and it is little wonder that they should be, considering the extraordinary notoriety that Wilde has achieved. It is given to few men to become the leader of a fashionable renaissance, so to speak, the favourite figure in Punch's caricatures, and the subject of a popular opera, all on account of some intellectual foibles and eccentricities of manner.

The flourishing state of business in Canada prevents much complaint from being made about the mode of dealing with insolvent estates; at the same time the matter is sufficiently important to demand attention now at the hands of Parliament. Immense difficulties stand in the way of proper legislation upon this subject, and it has been found almost a hopeless task to provide for equitable distribution of insolvent estates and yet to prevent rogues from making the law a means of cheating their creditors and enriching themselves. While this is the case, however, it is evidently unsatisfactory to hand over the spoils to the man who can make the fastest tracks towards the Sheriff's office, and that is the method that now prevails.

Every once in a while we hear of a fortune in England of fabulous size awaiting certain Canadian claimants and ready to be paid over when some trifling matters of relationship are proven; sometimes the location of the windfall is on the other side of the line. A lawyer, living in the place where the claim is to be realised, is the first to break the news to the Canadian heir. He requires a fee to commence with, and various other fees as the case proceeds and his search among the archives continues; he must go to the capital and consult the records, and, of course, must be kept in money all the time. At last the intelligence comes either that the Bank of England refuses to give the necessary information upon the subject, or that the Washington Government has caused a forfeiture to be made to the treasury department, and this is an end to the matter until the lawyer secures another credulous client. As a general rule, it would be quite as satisfactory to search for a pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow, as to hunt after alleged fortunes in foreign parts.

The Newmarket Era, formerly a Grit paper, has become an outspoken and independent journal, discussing public questions with great intelligence. It condemns Conservatives and Reformers alike for pursuing whatever policy happens to suit party exigencies, and for advocating even inconsistent courses when it suits them. Referring to the Grits, it says:—"We find the professed friends of the rights of the people who form a majority in the Local Legislature of Ontario, loud in their denunciation of the Dominion Executive for encroachment upon Provincial rights, as they conceive, by the disallowance of the "Streams Bill;" but these same champions of liberty see nothing wrong in the Local Government centralizing power themselves, and grasping authority, which, under the liberal legislation of old time Reformers, was exercised by municipal councils, and, through these latter institutions, almost directly by the people themselves." Now there may be a superficial similarity, but there is an intrinsic difference between the two parties, who in the remainder of the article are both accused of centralization. The Dominion Government is acting fairly upon its established rights; the Ontario Government is invading and destroying the municipal system by means of legislation.

The Philadelphia North American throws cold water upon the National Club and other enthusiasts now agitating for Canadian independence. It reminds them that the English "yoke" is easy and the burden light; that the connection with Britain, while entailing no expense or danger upon the Dominion, secures for her a powerful champion in case she should need one; and finally that the figure Canada would cut as a nation would scarcely compensate for the outlay that would be made necessary in order to equip an army and navy.

A week's record of offences committed by fashionable people in England, lately published, indicates that an epidemic of crime is raging in that land. The record embraces larceny, drunkenness, assaults on women and children, wife-beating, abduction, seduction and murder,—the offenders including lords, dukes and earls. The scandalous chronicle, taken from the accounts of the Police Court proceedings, shows the existence of the state of affairs somewhat similar to the corruption and profligacy, which held riot in the time of Charles II.

The Suppression of Polygamy.

New York, Feb. 6.—The Tribune says: The House Judiciary Committee has postponed the consideration of Shallenberger's Bill for the suppression of polygamy in Utah till Wednesday. Cannon, who asked for a hearing assigned as a reason for delay the recent death of one of his wives. His opponents assert that this motion is made merely for delay, as he recently visited New York for the purpose of securing the co operation of large mercantile firms, having extensive dealings with Zion's Co operative Association in Utah, to obstruct legislation which might affect the existing condition of things in the territory.

Incendiary Fire.

Newport, R.I., Feb. 6.—During a gale on Saturday night an incendiary fired a warehouse here containing a large quantity of furniture belonging to New Yorkers. The fire was discovered by a mere accident and extinguished. Had it got the least headway it must have swept hundreds of buildings owing to the snow blocade, fire engines would have been useless.

United States Politics.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Brigadier-General Nathan W. Brown, Paymaster-General, retired to-day. The President nominated Col. Daniel H. Bucket Assistant Quartermaster-General, to be Quartermaster-General. Major Wm. B. Rochester, Paymaster, to be Paymaster-General.

The Jews.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—The Minister of the Interior, in receiving the Jewish delegates, said he hoped that before many months the western frontier would be open to the Jews. The murder of a Jewish family near Novider was committed by a peasant without the smallest provocation.

An Insurrection.

Athens, Feb. 6.—The insurrection in Yemen, Arabia, is gaining ground. Numbers of Arabs have deserted the Turkish standard. The insurgents possess the principal interior towns, and occupy positions from which they can only be dislodged by a large force.

More Funds.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The John Dillon branch of the Land League last night resolved to devote the funds usually appropriated for the expenses of the parade on St. Patrick's Day to further the cause of the League in Ireland.

A Brutal Husband.

Utica, N.Y., Feb. 6.—John Walsh, a saloon keeper at Little Falls, kicked his wife to death in presence of four children on Sunday afternoon. He is supposed to be an ex-convict from Australia. He was arrested.

A mighty hard-working set of men are Uncle Sam's letter carriers, who are liable to contract rheumatism because of the constant exposure to which they are subjected. Calling at the post office the reporter had a pleasant conversation with Mr J. H. Mattern, one of the most popular and clever letter-carriers in Indianapolis. Mr Mattern said that, while in the army during the civil war, he sprained one of his ankles, which was always worse in the spring during the period of the rapid changes in the weather. He did not find much relief from the several remedies he applied. But two years ago he hit upon St. Jacobs Oil, and experienced wonderful relief from its use. Several applications of the Great German Remedy relieved him entirely. The reporter talked with others among the letter carriers, and found that the Great German Remedy was popular in the post office. They use it for sore feet, rheumatism, etc., and praise it highly.—Indianapolis (Ind.) News.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Rheumatism and Gout.—These purifying and soothing remedies demand the earnest attention of all persons liable to gout, sciatica, or other painful affections of the muscles, nerves, or joints. The Ointment should be applied after the affected parts have been patiently fomented with warm water, when the unguent should be diligently rubbed upon the adjacent skin, unless the friction should cause pain. Holloway's Pills should be simultaneously taken to reduce inflammation and to purify the blood. This treatment abates the violence, and lessens the frequency of gout, rheumatism, and all spasmodic diseases, which spring from hereditary predisposition, or from any accidental weakness of constitution. This Ointment checks the local remedy. The Pills restore the vital powers.

M. A. St. Mars, St. Boniface, Manitoba, writes: Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is a public benefit. It has done wonders here, and has cured myself of a bad cold in one day.

GUITEAU'S SENTENCE.

The Judge's Remarks—The Terrible Penalty.

Washington, Feb. 5.—On sentencing Guiteau, Judge Cox exceeded the limit a little, and put the day as near the anniversary of Garfield's shooting as possible. Guiteau behaved more like a maniac than he did at any time during the trial. His imprecations and blasphemous curses after the sentence had been pronounced were frightfully intense. His features were distorted, his fists were clenched, and his face seemed only the semblance of a human countenance. Judge Cox was so greatly affected while pronouncing the sentence that at one time it seemed impossible for him to continue. His voice was husky, and he was evidently, by sheer force of will, going through with a duty which was a terrible necessity. He said himself after it was over that he felt physically sick. He had never pronounced the death sentence before, and in this case he has felt much more pity for the miserable prisoner than most people feel. Guiteau's blasphemies have shocked Judge Cox, who is a very pious man; but he has seen no way to prevent him from allowing them. There is little or no chance for a new trial. Guiteau can only escape the gallows, which is already erected and stands ready near his cell, by death, or by becoming an imbecile—a contingency which some local physicians regard as highly probable.

Freeport, Ill., Feb. 5.—L. W. Guiteau, jr., half-brother of the assassin, says all the members of the family are satisfied with his sentence. They never had any sympathy for him.

Washington, D.C., Feb 6.—In sentencing Guiteau on Saturday, Judge Cox said:—

"You have been convicted of a crime so terrible in its circumstances and so far reaching in its results that it has drawn upon you the horror of the whole world and the execrations of your countrymen. The excitement produced by such an offence made it no easy task to secure for you a fair and impartial trial, but you have had the power of the United States Treasury and of the Government in your service to protect your person from violence and procure evidence from all parts of the country. You have had as fair and impartial a jury as ever assembled in a court of justice; you have been defended by counsel with a zeal and devotion that merits encomium, and I certainly have done my best to secure a fair presentation of your defense. Notwithstanding all this, you have been found guilty. It would have been a comfort to many people if the verdict of the jury had established the fact that your act was that of an irresponsible man; it would have left people a satisfying belief that the crime of political assassination was something entirely foreign to the institutions and civilization of our country. But the result has denied them that comfort. The country will accept it as a fact that the crime can be committed, and the Court will have to deal with it with the highest penalty known to the criminal code, to serve as an example to others. Your career has been so extraordinary that people might well at times have doubted your sanity; but one can't but believe that when the crime was committed you thoroughly understood the nature of the crime and its consequences" [Guiteau—"I was acting as God's man."] "and that you had moral sense and conscience enough to recognize the moral iniquity of such an act." [Prisoner—"That's a matter of opinion."] "Your own testimony shows that you recoiled with horror from the idea. You say you prayed against it; you say you thought it might be prevented. This shows that your conscience warned you against it, but by wretched sophistry in your own mind you worked yourself up against the protest of your own conscience. What motive could have induced you to commit this act must be a matter of conjecture. Probably men will think some fanaticism, or a morbid desire for self-exaltation, was the real inspiration of the act. Your own testimony seems to controvert the theories of your counsel. They maintained and thought, honestly, I believe, that you were driven against your will by an insane impulse to commit the act; but your testimony showed that you deliberately resolved to do it, and that a deliberate, misguided will was the sole impulse. This may seem insanity to some persons, but the law looks upon it as a fitful crime. You will have due opportunity of having any errors I may have committed during the course of the trial passed upon by the Court in banc; but, meanwhile, it is necessary for me to pronounce the sentence of the law—that you be taken hence to the common jail of the district whence you came, and there be kept in confinement, and on Friday, the 30th day of June, 1882, you be taken to the place prepared for the execution, within the walls of said jail, and there, between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 2 p m., you be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul!"

New York's Assessment.

New York, Feb. 6.—The real and personal property assessed in this city aggregates about $2,000,000 increase this year over last ($58,000,000), nearly all on real estate. The real estate is assessed at only 60 per cent. of its value, and an immense amount of personal property escaped taxation by the failure of the assessors to discover it, or by the holders swearing that their debts exceed the value of their personal effects. Many of the best known millionaires pay no personal tax. Church property to the amount of $5,000,000, school, college and library property valued at $50,000,000, and property of the United States worth $100,000, are exempted from taxation.

THE PRIZE RING.

The Coming Fight Between Ryan and Sullivan.

New York, Feb. 6.—The Sun's New Orleans correspondent says:—Andy Forrester, of Troy, has backed Ryan to the extent of $3,000. Dr. Austin, a noted physician of this city, professionally examined both men, and says if Ryan does not win, no one can satisfy him he did not "throw" the fight. "Sullivan," said he, "is powerfully built in the arms and shoulders, but deficient in the loins and legs. Ryan is built from the heels up; his legs and loins are grand; the muscles of his back and shoulders, though small, are powerful." It is rumoured that several car-loads of roughs are on the way here for the purpose of raising a disturbance if their man does not win, but the police commissioners have ordered one hundred men to the grounds to preserve order. Ryan and Sullivan left last evening for the grounds, which are about two hours' ride from the city.

The Herald's New Orleans correspondent says:—Sullivan had the call in the pools last night at slight odds, and is likely to remain the favourite. The exact spot where the fight is to take place has not yet been definitely settled, but it is understood that it will be between this city and Mobile, on the line of the Louisville and Nashville Railway. The train taking those who will attend the encounter leaves here at six o'clock on Tuesday morning, and the fight, it is stated, will begin between eight and ten o'clock.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Horrible Fate of a Caradoc Woman.

London, Feb. 4.—Patrick Sullivan and his wife have until lately lived in the Burwell Settlement, in the township of Caradoc, but during yesterday were engaged in moving a short distance away to a new homestead. They were riding along in a wagon, in the bottom of which was a quantity of straw. The husband was smoking, a coal fell among the inflammable material and, fanned by the wind, suddenly burst into a flame. Mrs Sullivan had smelled the smoke a moment before, and her next sensations were that she was on fire. She became hysterical with fear and screamed so loudly that the horses were frightened beyond control of her husband. She sprang out and ran along the roadside enveloped in flames, and not until nearly all her clothing had been burned off and her husband had been able to return was the fire extinguished. She was at once taken into a neighbouring house, and Dr. Francis, of Delaware, summoned. He found that the flesh on her body had been literally roasted, and her injuries of so serious a character that death resulted. Her sufferings were most agonizing. She had $55 in bank bills in her pocket, and they were burned to ashes.

THE U. S. CONGRESS.

Financial Matters to be Discussed in the House.

New York, Feb. 6.—The Tribune says:—It is believed that questions of tariff and internal taxation will be considered in the House before the Funding Bill is taken up. Senator Allison's bill to provide a reserve fund for the redemption of the U. S. notes is attracting the attention of financiers in Congress as offering at least a partial solution of the problem which must soon be solved in regard to the retirement of the National Bank circulation.

Sir William Palliser, inventor of the Palliser projectiles and improvements in the construction of heavy guns, is dead; aged 52.

The Daily News.

LEWIS W. SHANNON, Proprietor.

MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 6.

Police Court.—There was only one drunk at the Police Court this morning. His name was Cunningham. He was released on payment of the usual fine—$2 and costs.

Private Sale.—The remaining 30 of the Rock Lake City lots will be disposed of by Mr Hutcheson by private sale. Some of the purchasers have already been offered increase on what they paid for the lots.

☞ To Rent.—A house and ten acres of land, five miles from Kingston; also, a good bush farm for sale, containing 120 acres. Apply to the owner, William David, broker, Princess street, opposite Parkhill's Grocery.

Probabilities for the next twenty-four hours. Lower lakes—Winds shifting to the eastward, fair to cloudy weather to-day, followed by a fall of snow to-morrow. St. Lawrence—Moderate to fresh winds, fair weather.

Annual Missionary Meeting.—Next Sunday evening at 6:30 the annual missionary meeting will be held in St. Paul's Church. Short addresses will be given by the Ven. Archdeacon Bedford Jones, and Rev. Messrs Austin, Low and Munro.

Ye Are the Salt of the Earth.—Yesterday evening the Rev. Mr Stafford preached an able sermon in the Sydenham Street Methodist Church on the words "Ye are the salt of the earth." He compared the gospel to salt—it extended until it affected every part that came within its reach.

Wants Assistance.—Mrs Coleman called on the Mayor this morning and stated that her husband, who was in the blind asylum at Brantford, was very sick and likely to die. She wanted assistance in order to bring him home. Her husband got blown up by a blast in Kingston four years ago, from the effects of which he lost his sight. His father is also blind.

The Very Best.—On Wednesday evening the very best of programmes will be given at the entertainment in the Methodist Episcopal Church. It will be provided by Mr McArdle and the pupils of the Model School, and contain something novel, so do not fail to attend. The admission is only 10c; proceeds for the benefit of the Sabbath School. The public are anxious to know what the programme contains.

The Originators.—The originator of the car works in this city was Mr G. M. Macdonnell, and not Mr A. Gunn, M.P., as has been stated. The first man who drew attention to the fact that our back country should be opened up by a railway was Mr George Morton, who is now in the North-West, carrying out a colonization scheme. Hence the construction of the K. & P. railway. Honour to whom honour is due.

Died at St. Louis.—Last summer, Mr T. A. Brown, of St. Louis, was in Kingston visiting Chief Horsey, and was present at the dinner given the Oswego firemen at the City Hotel. He made many friends while here. This morning Chief Horsey received a letter informing him that Mrs Brown had died at St. Louis. The Chief has reason to regret her death, as he held her in high esteem, having some years ago being in the employ of her husband at that city.

Parliamentary Debate.—On Saturday night, after the Alma Mater Society had disposed of the regular business, it resolved itself into a miniature parliament for the discussion of a bill on the Chinese question. There were five gentlemen on each side, with Mr Jno. McLeod as Speaker. When the debate had finished it was found that the Speaker had been won over to the Opposition, and the Ministry were, therefore, defeated and ousted. There was a good deal of wit and repartee during the debate.

TWO NEW ENGINES.

The K. & P. RR. Company have ordered two new locomotives from the Locomotive Works, one to be finished by the 1st of March and the other by the 1st of June. One of the engines will be called "H. C. Roberts," after the President of the Charlotte Iron Works; the other will be named "Dr. G. B. Linderman," after the Manager of the Bethlehem Iron Works, Pennsylvania. Both these companies have mines along the line of the K. & P. RR. The road will be thoroughly equipped as far as engines are concerned.

THE COMING ORATOR.

Saturday's Mail says:—Kingston is safe for the N.P. Mr Paterson, M.P., is going to orate there. That will finish the business. When he talks of the robbery of high tariffs his audience will be reminded that when Mr Mackenzie's Government put a duty of 40 per cent, on cigars, Mr Paterson grew jubilant, and in true and proper prophetic tone gloried in the act as one that would bring at least a thousand German workmen to Canada. The Kingstonians will do as the Bluenose Windsor people did. They listened, oh so patiently! to Mr Blake demonstrating tailless red shirt theory, and proving that cotton factories were machines legalized by a wicked Government to rob the people and when they had listened for an hour, they rose up quietly, adjourned the meeting and went off, held another meeting, started a stock-list next day, and having been busy ever since erecting one of the finest cotton factories in the Dominion. Kingston heard Mr Paterson was going to discuss the iniquities of the tariff, and, roused by the report, it started two industries, and subscribed $45,000 for each of the two. In all, during the past four months, not less than $200,000 have been raised for manufactures.

CANADIAN EVANGELIZATION SOCIETY.

Kingston will shortly be visited by Mr Oscar Owers, Agent of the Evangelization Society of Canada, who is now at Quebec. At a meeting of the Evangelical Alliance in Halifax, at which a number of the clergy and leading men of the city were present, Hon. S. L. Shannon being in the chair, the following resolution was passed:—"The Evangelical Alliance desires to place on record its high estimate of the devoted labours of Mr Oscar Owers during his visit to our city. His Bible readings each afternoon have been very stimulating and suggestive. They have been largely attended by ministers and members of all the churches, and have proved seasons of great blessing, quickening the graces of God's people and inciting them to a higher standard of Christian attainment and renewed consecration. The Gospel meetings on the week evenings and on the Sabbath afternoons, while attended with manifest advantages by the church-going class of our community, have also attracted not a few non-church goers. The fruit of the good seed thus abundantly sown has already in part appeared, and if followed up by persistent and prayerful labour amongst ourselves, will doubtless yet more fully appear even many days hence. Mr Owers has endeared himself much by the kindness and courtesy of his private intercourse, and is followed by the prayers of all who have had the pleasure of his acquaintance, that his labours in other portions of our Dominion, may meet with a yet richer harvest. The Alliance at the same time kindly thank the Evangelization Society of Canada, whose accredited agent Mr Owers is (loaned to them for a season by the English Society) for permitting us to enjoy the first labours in this land of this faithful servant of God, and devoutedly pray that the objects and operations of this society may be largely promoted by his visit."

THE CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION.

Rumoured Financial Difficulties—Mr Lockwood Explains.

A few days ago we stated that the Kingston shareholders in the Co-operative Association were dissatisfied at the way affairs in connection with the Association were being managed. They received notice from the manager, Mr Lockwood, to meet him at the British American Hotel for the purpose of talking over matters, and also to make arrangements for having more stock paid up. The Kingstonians filed their appearance, but Mr Lockwood did not arrive at the time appointed. The following from the Montreal Star will likely throw some light on the affair:

For some time past it has been stated that the Co-operative Association has been labouring under financial embarrassments, caused by the agents in England having purchased too extensively, in view of the fact that only about $70,000 of the capital stock of $150,000 had been paid up. A meeting of the shareholders was held a short time ago when the General Manager made a frank statement of its affairs, explaining that the sales had increased from $800 the first month to $36,000 in January, that the goods were sold at a price which realized a fair profit, but that, at the same time, it was urgent upon the shareholders to take up the remainder of the stock. The resignation of the Hon. John Hamilton had also the effect of alienating public confidence to some extent, but it had been understood that matters had been satisfactorily arranged with the appointment of Mr Yates to the Presidency. It appears, however, that the company have not been able to meet the notes, and to-day certain of their notes were protested at the Molson's Bank.

Mr Lockwood, the General Manager, this afternoon informed our representative that the embarrassment was only temporary and was due principally to a lack of unanimity on the part of the directorate and that he was quite satisfied he would be enabled to meet the emergency.

The Company is and has been doing a large and, it is said, profitable business.

TWO TENS AND A FIVE.

The above heading may appear strange at first sight, but there is a little bit of legerdemain connected with it which for novelty is unique in its way. A young lad, about fifteen years of age, is the chief actor. Saturday being a busy day with our merchants, it is generally selected by the young rascal to carry out his little game, which is accomplished in this way: He enters a store with two 10 cent pieces and one 5 cent piece in his hand, and asks the merchant to give him a 25 cent piece for them. Of course, the merchant is only too glad to get hold of small change, and readily accedes to his request. In the palm of his right hand the young expert holds a 20 cent piece. By a dexterous movement he passes the quarter, which the merchant has given him, into his vest pocket. He then very innocently looks at the 20 cent piece, turns it over two or three times, and says to the merchant that he has given him a "twenty center" instead of a quarter. The merchant or clerk being too busy to bandy words with him, and thinking that probably they might have taken it in the hurry of business, gives him a 25 cent piece for the 20, and the young thief departs, having netted a profit of five cents by the transaction. Other places are then visited by him with the same result. The game was played successfully in one instance on Saturday. We understand, however, that a similar trick was played here last fall.

RICHELIEU NAVIGATION CO.

The annual statement published by us show that the earnings of the Company last year were $16,346 in access of the previous year, but to bring about this result the directors spent $74,387.11 over and above the total expenses in 1880. "Is there room for wonder that the shareholders should demand more prudent and economical management?" said a large holder of the stock to-day. "Again if you take the figures furnished by the Company, you will find the 'assets and liabilities' are set down at $1,650,774. Deducting the paid up capital of $1,589,000, a surplus is shown of $61,774, and of this only $33,309 is apparently accounted for in the item of cash, stores, etc., leaving the shareholders in doubt as to an additional $28,464.28." It would appear that the Senecal-Murray party have met with great encouragement in their plans for inaugurating a new directorate, and there is not the slightest doubt that they hold enough stock to secure their election on Saturday next. Victor Hudon is spoken of as a probable director. The stock which sold as high as 192½ in 1873, is now quoted at 51½.—Star.

A TOKEN OF ESTEEM.

Mr James H. Taylor, who for several years past has been a trusted employee on the Welland railway in a responsible position, was on Tuesday night honoured by the employees with a testimonial of their regard, he being about to leave the city in order to assume a more lucrative situation on the Kingston and Pembroke railway. The affair last night took place in the waiting room of the station in this city. The presentation was made by Mr James Boyle, the urbane and gentlemanly conductor of the express. The testimonial consisted of a valuable gold Albert chain and a handsome Masonic emblem. Mr Taylor thanked his many friends on the road, whom he would ever keep in remembrance, and hoped the same good will and kindness which had ever been shown to him by the very able superintendent and his staff would follow him in his new field of labour. Mr Pay, on taking leave of Mr Taylor, in a few pithy remarks testified to the efficient manner in which that gentleman always discharged his duties, and felt that while the Welland railway would lose an efficient and careful officer the Kingston & Pembroke would receive one that might be called a finished apprentice.—St. Catherines Journal. We extend a welcome to Mr Taylor.

CURLIANA.

On Saturday afternoon a very exciting game of curling took place. The ice in both rinks was in the very best condition, and the play throughout was very close. The result is as follows:

Professor Watson, M. Dennison, C. H. Corbett and Clark Hamilton, skip—15.
M. Sutherland, Col. Montizambert, James Allen and Jos. Walkem, skip—12.

ST. MARY'S CATHEDRAL.

Candlemas Day was observed in St. Mary's Cathedral yesterday. Eight o'clock mass was celebrated by His Lordship, Bishop Cleary. At this service a large number received Holy Communion. Immediately before High Mass (10:30 o'clock) the Bishop performed the ceremony of blessing the candles, after which a procession of the sanctuary boys followed by the Bishop and priests took place, each carrying a lighted taper. High Mass was then celebrated, the Rev. Father Twohey officiating. The Rev. Father Kelly preached, and at the conclusion of his remarks, referred to the Diocesan debt. Out of Kingston's portion of the debt ($4,500) $4,160 have been subscribed, and $3,600 paid. Nineteen parishes have paid in full to the amount of $9,150; eleven parishes have paid in part to the amount of $1,578.15, making the total amount of the debt paid up to date $14,323.15. It is expected that no difficulty will be experienced in collecting the remainder of the debt, something less than $7,000, within a few months. In the evening the Rev. Father Twohey again officiated, and the Bishop preached an eloquent gospel sermon based on the "Offering of the Child in the Temple." The congregations were large, and the music and singing, both in the morning and evening were very good.

KINGSTON YOUNG MEN.

Four young men went to Belleville on Saturday for the express purpose of securing a fine dog, which is owned by a resident of that city. It was found impossible to buy the dog, the price was so high, so sooner than come home without it they arranged a plan to borrow it. The owner was treated very kindly, in fact so much so that the kindness overcame him and he was entirely in their power. One of the Kingston men escorted him home, and of course, would not leave him alone, stopping with him to see that he slept soundly during the night. The dog was in the bed-room. About two o'clock in the morning the Kingstonian arose with the intention of dressing himself and starting off with the dog, but when he got out of bed the animal would neither let him put on his clothes nor get back into bed. Finally he had to yell loudly in order to wake up his stupid bedmate. The latter had sense enough to take in the position at a glance, and so gave his astute companion five minutes to dress and get out of the house. The young man shortly after found his friends and told his story dolefully. They arrived in Kingston to-day feeling very much chagrined. By the way, it might be stated that one of the crowd passed himself off as a "senator."

Mrs Partington Says,

Don't take any of the quack rostrums, as they are regimental to the human system; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general dilapidation, costive habits and all comic diseases. They saved Isaac from a severe extract of tripod fever. They are the ne plus unum of medicines.—Boston Globe.

The Elements of Bone, Brain and Muscle are derived from the blood, which is the grand national source of vital energy, the motor of the bodily organs. When the circulation becomes impoverished in consequence of weak digestion and imperfect assimilation of the food, which should enrich it, every bodily function flags and the system grows feeble and disordered. When the blood becomes impure, either from the development of inherited seeds of disease, its contamination by bile or other causes, serious maladies surely follow. A highly accredited remedy for these evils is Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, which eradicates impurities of the blood and fertilizes it by promoting digestion and assimilation. Moreover, this fine alterative and stomachic exerts a specific action upon the liver, healthfully stimulating that organ to a performance of its secretive duty when inactive, and expelling bile from the blood. It likewise possesses diuretic and depurent properties of a high order, rendering the kidneys active and healthy, and expelling from the system the acrid elements which produce rheumatic pains. Price, $1. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Ask for Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. The wrapper bears a fac simile of their signature. Sold by all medicine dealers.

A Cure for Headache.

What physician has ever discovered a cure for headache? Echo answers none. But Burdock Blood Bitters by their purifying, invigorating, nervine properties afford a cure in nearly every case. The health-giving principles of this remedy are unequalled by any similar preparation in the world.

Hutcheson's Auction Mart, on TUESDAY, the 7th Inst., at 7:30 P.M.
Auction Sale of 13 Valuable City Lots.
A RARE CHANCE to secure a Valuable Lot in this city, the second in importance in the Province. It is no paper town, but a city of 3,000 people, growing with great rapidity, surrounded by the finest land in the Province; settled by the best farmers; with newspapers, expensive churches, mills, factories, hotels, brewery, court house, club rooms, &c. It is a county town, about sixty miles from Winnipeg, on the Assiniboine, at the junction of the main line of the Canada Pacific and Portage & North-Western Railways, both of which are built. A railway from Emerson, direct to Portage, is also projected, which will make it a strong rival of Winnipeg for the trade of the West. It is sure to be a city of great importance. Maps, plans and other information at the Mart.
