The Daily News.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 1.

The Government, as announced in the budget speech, have taken the duties off tea and coffee, a boon which will be generally acceptable. The duties being thrown off bills and notes will be of great convenience to the commercial community, much loss accruing from negligence in the matter under the present law.

Sir Richard Cartwright came in for a castigation at the hands of Sir Charles Tupper last night, which probably penetrated even his pachyderm. The ex-Finance Minister evidently suffered while the lash was being applied, but the bitterness, egotism, and intolerance, which mar his public character, have so alienated friends that but little sympathy was felt for him.

One argument against the present tariff is that it favours the United States rather than England. To show the absurdity of this it is only necessary to look at the figures. In 1878 the imports from England were, in round numbers, $97,400,000, while, in the same year $63,000,000 —an increase of $6,300,000. In 1878 the imports from the United States were $48,600,000; in 1881 they were $96,700,000—a decrease of about $12,000,000. That settles the whole question; but still further, it may be shown that the aggregate trade with Britain has increased $14,000,000 more than the aggregate trade with the States, comparing the same two years.

The Whig continues its reckless calumniation of the Minister of Railways, and, while uttering charges which it is wholly unable to support, it calmly and virtuously remarks that "there seems never to be a time when Tory rittabbism ceases and the common instincts of humanity exist." Is this the language of Reform leaders in the House to champion the slanders so industriously circulated by their organs, staggers our contemporary, which is constrained to fall back on open foulness and blackguardism in justification. Thus, the Whig is in such straits that it draws a comparison between the Minister of Rail. ways and Mr. R. Hooper, M.P., to Lennox defaulter. Will our contemporary insult the intelligence of its readers by saying that the cases are similar. Mr Hooper resigned his position and left the province; Sir Charles Tupper is made a position of great trust and influence and challenges his enemies to prove one tittle of dishonesty in his public dealings. But they don't dare try. We know they are valiant; consequently, it must be their abominations of scandal, their tender love for Sir Charles, their dislike to replace him and his colleagues on the Treasury benches, that cause them to be so heedless of the wild complaints of their faithful allies. This view of the case is so manifestly true that it must commend itself at once to the dispassionate mind.

The other evening in the House of Commons Mr Charlton M.P. for North Norfolk, said "the depression (in 1876) was due, not to the tariff, but to causes outside the tariff. The depression would have passed away agreeably, I believe, more readily, without a change of tariff than with the change of tariff made by the present administration." In other words, the moderately protective character of the National Policy is an injury to Canada. Mr Charlton is a clever, selfreared man. He is a tried and trusty leader of the Reform party in the House. In the session of 1876 he gave his views on tariffs. Did he oppose the principles of the N. P. in favour of Free Trade? No, he defined and applauded those principles. What did he say? Let us be just and guard against misrepresentationby quoting the speaker's own language. "It may be safely assumed," said Mr Charlton, "that no nation has attained to greatness in commerce or manufactures without having in the course of its history imposed exactions and restrictions. This has been notably the case with Great Britain herself. * * * * I believe that the agricultural interests of the Dominion would be promoted by protection and that the manufacturer, having brought to the door of the farmer, would afford a market for a great many articles of produce that would not be saleable if the market were three thousand miles away. With a home market of this kind established by protection to manufacturers, the agriculturist can benefit his soil by producing a rotation of crops. * * * * We have at our own doors all the illustrations and the benefits required for our government and guidance. The United States do. * * * What is the foreign commerce of that country compared with the vast domestic trade?" And this is the same Mr Charlton, who now opposes the N. P.! Yes, the very same. Is he still a consistent champion of Reform? He is; a Reform leader is never so consistent as when detestablishing his own record.

Art and Oil.

The Norfolk, Va., Virginian of January 10th, 1881, refers to the remarkable cure effected by St. Jacobs Oil in the case of Professor Conwell—known the country over for his magnificent Art illustrations—of which he had suffered excruciating neuralgic rheumatism, until he tried the Oil, whose effects were magical.

The Prince of Wales once said at a club that he'd tried the sherry with his fish he would take but one wine, because he never mixes his liquor.

"If I thought I was going to become gray, I know I should die!" exclaimed Miss Springfield. When she turned gray, she did die, sure enough.

MR BRITTON DESCRIBED.

At the Opera House last night, when Prof. Fowler had completed his lecture, he asked the audience to nominate some one to be examined by him. Many named Ald. McCuaig, but the majority supported Mr B. M. Britton Q. C. Prof. Fowler, on reaching his fingers over Mr Britton's head, said that his subject showed a fine memory capacity, marked by power, flexibility, and smallness. He judged him to have his plastic physical frame for such an active mind, and he had not taken care of his health as he should have done. He required a rest for a year or two, and if he would do so the North west would be a first-rate professor, lecturer, lawyer, or naturalist. As a speaker he would talk ideas rather than rhetoric or imagination. As a lawyer he possessed equal ability in getting up the facts of a case and in applying them, but his principal forte was in engaging by means of ridicule and showing a thing to be absurd. He had considerable conscience, but this had not been cultivated with the same assiduity as his intellect. He would excel in the road to his success. He was desirous of making himself conspicuous amongst his fellow-men, and being public spirited probably interested himself in the city's improvements. He had no money more easily than he kept it and should cultivate a tight grip. His ancestors on one side were probably long lived; and on the other consumptives. (This Mr Britton acknowledged to be true).

The points made by the lecturer brought him frequent applause, especially when his subject confirmed what he said.

RAIDING RAGNIS.

Last night Detective Sullivan, accompanied by P. C. Jas. Redmond and M. Cuaig, raided a few brothels that exist in the city. In only one was a capture made, there being only one man and a woman to be took to the lock-up. They were discovered Annie Harrison's house, Williamsville, and the P. C. who was at the front door entered. There were four men inside. Two dashed into the back kitchen, and one of them, who wore a long tailed coat, fell among a lot of pots, but notwithstanding that he escaped through a window, followed by his companion. Two men, named Anderson and Owner, were captured and brought to the station house. In another house a married man was found in the company of a young woman, and when the police entered he cleared out in his bare feet, but was capture by a bobby. He was allowed to go on his promise to appear. Annie Harrison and Mary Patterson were arrested in the first house named.

STOCKING LAKE ONTARIO.

The good work of stocking the lakes with fish still goes on. A few days ago a specially constructed car containing four millions of young whitefish arrived at Oswegf from the United States fish breeding establishment at Northville, Mich., and were deposited in Lake Ontario. The little strangers were from two to five days old, with semi-transparent bodies and lively black eyes. They were carried in water cans kept at a temperature of 34 degrees, and are the only lot which will be put in the lake this year. These fish will mature in two and be full grown in four years. The Northville hatchery has during the year produced 22,500,000 eggs, and has already deposited 14,000,000 young fish.

A Sad Tragedy.

One of the most heartrending accidents human mind can conceive of, says a Paris letter, occurred at the Chateau de Torrens a few days since. The Marquise de Torrens and her daughter Mlle. Berth were overjoyed at the return of their only son and brother, Marquis Adrien de Torrens. They had met him at the station, had him all to themselves at breakfast, and reluctantly received a few intimate neighbours for dinner, among whom was the village cure. In the course of dinner conversation turned upon the sequestration which had arisen from having discharged a farmer, Louis Pinot, by name. He had been spying about the chateau, and the servants reported that they heard him threaten to shoot the young master as soon as he should have returned. Mlle. Berth was particularly nervous about it all, and made her brother promise to keep some arm of defence near his hand, in case of danger. At last the friends withdrew. The family retired to rest, and soon every one except la Marquise was plunged in slumber. She, poor woman, was very deaf, and like most deaf persons exceedingly nervous. Not being able to sleep, she got up and passed into her son's room, longing in her motherly heart to feel sure that he was there, near her. Through the half-drawn curtains only light enough penetrated to render "darkness visible." The young man started from his sleep, believed he heard some one walking stealthily in his room, and thought at once of Louis Pinot. Half rising in his bed, he seized a long Maltese knife which he had placed on the table beside him to tranquillize his sister, and waited. The form passed visibly before his eyes, approaching the bed so cautiously! Surely it must be Pinot! Adrien exclaimed: "Qui est la? No one answered; no one answered. He sprang upon his feet; the form drew nearer, seemed seeking for its victim, and, as though in self-defence, Adrien raised his arm and struck with all his force! A human creature fell without a cry. Adrien struck a light, and turned to recognise—his mother! Words are powerless to express the idea of the poor boy's despair. He is now dangerously ill, and even if he recovers from brain fever it is to be feared that his mind will have suffered too terrible a shock to allow complete mental recovery.

Mr John Wood, with the American Pottery Co., Trenton, was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of a painful and obstinate sciatica, which had confined him to his bed for seventeen weeks, and in that case was thoroughly tried by scores of the Trenton, N.J., Gazette. He praises it unstintedly everywhere he goes.

GOVERNMENT IN MISSIA.

How the Czar's Little Cares Rule the People.

St. Petersburg, March 1.—"God reigns in heaven and the Czar reigns on earth" is a Russian saying. In one sense this is true, so far as Russia is concerned, for the Czar is, at least in law, the sole source of every authority in his vast dominions. But, according to another Russian saying, "God is high and the Czar is far." All the Russias form too long a country to be looked after, even by the "earthly god" as the peasantry call the autocrat. Therefore the detestable system of minor Czars was devised. Now every province is ruled by a Governor, every district by an ispravnik, and every village by a constable, as satisfactorily as though each of them was "God's anointed." What the Russian people think of the rule of these petty Czars was long ago summed up in this saying: "The laws may be divine, but their administrators are devils."

In the governing Senate there has just been tried a very remarkable case, not unique, but characteristic. The defendants were: Privy Councillor Tokareff, Governor of the Province of Minsk; Gen. Loshkareff, State Counseller Servatinoff, director of the State domains in the Minsk province, and Col. Kagher, the ispravnik of a district. The Czar's Government usually grants to its high functionaries portions of the State land as a reward for distinguished services. Knowing this, many governors have tried to restore to the Crown lands alleged to be illegally possessed by private parties. In the village of Logishkino there were 233 burgher families, possessing about 8,000 acres of land, which had been granted to the village in the 16th century by the Polish kings. The Czars at different times had affirmed the right of the Logishkino burghers to their land. But Gov. Tokareff, by a single stroke of his pen, annulled both the grant of the Polish kings and the confirmation of the Czars. He made up his mind to get the Logishkino land for himself, and so he reported to the Czar's Government that he had discovered some State land, and, without much ado, he petitioned that the land should be granted to him. The Government, with characteristic promptness, willingly acceded to his petition, and was formally presented with the Logishkino land "as a reward for his services." Then Tokareff began to act in his double capacity of governor and land proprietor. He appointed one of his subordinates, who had assisted him in getting the land, as his land agent. Then he proceeded to collect rent from his tenants. The burghers of Logishkino were amazed at the demand. They protested, petitioned and begged for mercy, but all in vain. Five respondents of Logishkino, who, one after another, were chosen by the village to present their cases in St. Petersburg, were arrested and thrown into prison, and then transported. Three of these petitioners had succeeded in reaching St. Petersburg before the Governor knew of his mission, but Tokareff telegraphed to the police that the man was on a dangerous person, and he was dealt with accordingly.

Mr Colby. M. P. at Guelph

Guelph, Ont., March 1.—A mass meeting called by the Conservative electoral association of South Wellington, was held in the City Hall last night to hear Mr Colby, M. P. for Shefford, Quebec, speak on the political questions of the day. There was a fair sprinkling of ladies in the audience. Mr Colby spoke for upwards of an hour, reviewing the policy of the Government. He was attentively listened to throughout and was loudly cheered on taking his seat. He was followed by Thomas Towse, of Galt, who spoke in glowing terms of the future of the Northwest. He upheld the Government in the Pacific Railway contract and National Policy. Resolutions were passed expressing the fullest confidence in the present Government and the National Policy. The meeting broke up about 11 o'clock, with cheers for the Queen and Sir John A. Macdonald.

Conkling's Appointment.

New York, March 1.—The Tribune's Washington special says that the report of the Senate Committee in favour of the confirmation of Conkling lacked one of being unanimous. The statements that Hoar repents of anything he said in the executive session and went to the President and attempted to explain away his speech are untrue. The Senators say that in some things he was misrepresented by the published reports, but all agree that the speech was a severely candid expression of opinion.

Democrats and Taummany.

New York, March 1.—John Kelly has retained from Florida. He approves of the action of the Democratic members of the Legislature. The General Committee of the Anti-Kelly ben of Tammany Hall last evening adopted resolutions condemning the Democratic party of the state for its action in the recent election of John Kelly and a portion of the Republican party as a means of getting rid of the two democratic and declaring allegiance to the Democratic State organization.

Abusive Prisoners.

St. Petersburg, March 1.—In the trial of the Nihilists two men and two women, who were allowed to speak at the close in their own defence, were so abusive and insulting that the Court cut them short. The woman Terentieff abused the soldiers and gendarmes, uttering most disgusting oaths.

Shrewdness and Ability.

Hop Bitters, so freely advertised in all the papers, secular and religious, are having a large sale, and are supplanting all other medicines. There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of these Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability in compounding a Bitters, whose virtues are so palpable to every one's observation.—Examiner and Chronicle.

The News in Brief.

A Cleveland lawyer has been convicted of sheep stealing.

Miss Hopt, of New York, the daughter of General Winfield Scott, is dead.

Ogdensburg has appointed a committee of three citizens to proceed to Washington and urge an appropriation for deepening the harbor.

A Belgian who landed at Castle Garden Saturday has a pair of horns an inch long protruding from his forehead, and says proud of his peculiarity.

A white crow has been noticed several times about four miles from Guelph. The bird is a very rare occurrence, and sports in the neighborhood are doing their best to secure the prize.

The suggestion made by the Free Press some time ago to appoint a true penner under the direction of the corporation has been acted on in London, and a skilful penner is at work.

Sarah Bernhardt has a kinsman in Rochester who is a native of Canada. His name is Bernhardt, and his father was Sarah's first cousin. She corresponded with the family while in this country.

Jones Ancost and Mary Cline were married at Lafayette, Ind., Saturday, and it was told that it was "a quiet wedding." Both parties are deaf and dumb. What a happy household there will be.

The Grand Orange Lodge of Manitoba closed its annual proceedings on the 24th inst. Eight new lodges were opened during the past year, making 23 lodges now under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge for the province.

A farm of 160 acres adjoining Brandon has been sold for $20,000 to an Ontario gentleman for a market garden. So says the Brandon Sun. The same paper says one block of $50,000 worth of buildings were let within the past three weeks.

Emile Richards, of Winnipeg, a young man 21 years of age, is in Ottawa endeavoring to secure 100,000 acres for cattle ranches at low river. A few years ago he left Ottawa for the North-West a penniless boy and is now a wealthy capitalist.

From $4,000,000 to $6,000,000 worth of buildings at least will be erected in Winnipeg this coming season. Houses and stores cannot be built fast enough, nor mechanics be had in sufficient abundance, for the demand for the army of settlers, speculators and business men pouring in there.

The weight of some of the books lately published in England is subject of complaint there. They are so heavy that they cannot be read with any comfort without a desk. Rawlinson's "Ancient Egypt" weighs 4½ lbs, and three-fourths of the "Life and Memoirs of Count Mirt de Molito," three pounds.

Winnipeg hotels are filled to overflowing. Where the large expected immigration will find accommodation is a puzzle. At present, says the Free Press, even a cot in the corridor or office is considered a luxury, while a room and bed is scarcely obtainable at any price. The Government sheds will not be ready for two months.

Tuesday, March 7th, will be a gala day for London. At 2 o'clock p.m. the Most Worshipful Grand Master and officers of the Grand Lodge of Canada, together with thousands of Masons from the cities and country, will form a monster procession at the Drill Shed, when the whole will march in full regalia, and, headed by the band of the 7th Fusiliers, will march to the Masonic Temple to be dedicated.

The London Truth says:—"I heard of a ball the other day in average middle-class society, at which less than 200 persons were present, and the liquor consumed between nine p.m and six a.m., amounted to seventeen dozen of champagne, two dozen of sherry, twenty bottles of brandy, besides seven dozen of claret. The scene at the finale was almost precisely what has been described at the commencement of the first chapter of Harry Lorrequer."

THE MART — BY J. E. HUTCHESON.

IMPORTANT SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION

OF LOTS AND BLOCKS IN THE TOWN OF WHITEMOUTH, MANITOBA!

—WILL BE HELD AT THE MART, BROOK STREET, KINGSTON, ON—

THURSDAY and FRIDAY, March 2nd and 3rd.

AT 2:30 AND 7:30 P.M., EACH DAY OF SALE.

WHITEMOUTH, the Centre of the Lumber Trade of Manitoba, the Great Water Privilege Town of the North-West Province, the Railway Centre of Eastern Manitoba, the Canada Pacific Railway Crossing of the Whitemouth River

WHITEMOUTH is situated in the heart of the Timber Country of Lawrenceye, at the crossing of the Whitemouth River, on the main line of the Canada Pacific Railway, at the proposed junction of the new Air Line Railway to run directly east from the City of Winnipeg. It has the most permanent, solid, and best ballasted railway in Manitoba running through it. It has, with the exception of the City of Winnipeg, the best station on the whole line of the Canada Pacific Railway. The Railway Company has telegraph communication with Lake Winnipeg. It is just the right distance from the City of Winnipeg to be a large and populous centre of trade, being 60 miles directly east from that city, and it is situated in a splendid agricultural country. Grains and vegetables which have been grown there are of the highest quality, and prove that the soil is equal to the very best elsewhere in the Province of Manitoba or the North West Territories. It is a rich dark loam.

Recognizing the important position of Whitemouth, the Canada Pacific Syndicate have already erected a large and commodious passenger station depot, railway offices, ticket office, telegraph office, side tracks, switches, water works, and train turnor. Besides the railways mentioned above, a scheme is on foot to build another one from Whitemouth as a commencement with Lake Winnipeg. It is just the right distance from the City of Winnipeg to be a large and populous centre of trade, being 60 miles directly east from that city, to tap the large extent of timbers between Whitemouth and east and northeast of Lake Winnipeg, and will be built at an early date; these lines will make Whitemouth one of the greatest railway centres of Manitoba and the North West. There are nine general stores, with large and excellent stocks of goods; four hotels, fitted up in first-class style; a large and well conducted business in timber and lumber in the North West is done in this town. Several thousands have been subscribed for a new echo of. Services are held by four different denominations.

To give an idea of the business done in this live town as many as 1,600 letters have been mailed at its general post office in five hours. Also, Superintendent Lynsey, of the Canada Pacific Railway, reports a boom in traffic on the eastern division, far in excess of the hauling power of the line to compete with it.

Forty thousand dollars' worth of Whitemouth lots were purchased in the City of Winnipeg alone during three weeks of last month, at which time the town site was put in the market in that city for the first time.

There will be a big boom in June, when the main line of the C.P.R. is completed to Thunder Bay. This is the first time this property has been offered to the Ontario public, who have the time to invest. Come to the sale and secure one lot at least in this thriving town, which, on account of its position and advantage, is destined to be the largest, most important, and most populous city between Winnipeg and the large cities of the Eastern Provinces of Canada.

Title Indisputable. Plan on View. Terms—Half cash; balance in six and twelve months, at seven per cent. interest per annum.
