A FAITHFUL FRIEND.

LAST CONTROLS to FRIEND—Have you seen those beautiful Diamond and Gilt Lined Suits at HAINES & LOCKETT'S? They are really equal to Suits sold elsewhere in American, and are made in Kid and Petrie Calf Kid, and some very Handsome Gold and Combination Tops, in black and colours.

FRIEND—No, I have not seen them. I generally buy my Boots at ——'s.

LAST CONTROLS—You are foolish to buy at ——'s, for Haines & Lockett have such a variety and keep such a large stock, and their prices are low for a good business, and have the leading "Oily Boot Store," at Bellevrille, Kingston and Trenton.

FRIEND—So I have often been told. I must try them next time I want boots.

LAST CONTROLS—You can get almost anything in the boot line there, and they have only one price, and can't sell 10 or 50 cents a pair more than they have marked, and I feel they sell at the lowest. Indeed, often computing prices at a low scheme I have found that they are lower than some of our regular way down country dealers.

FRIEND—I do like that way of doing business. At home I always used to be asked for a reduction, as I would pay more than the price.

LAST CONTROLS—Certainly not. Their system is not shoddy, being small large dealers, they purchase at wholesale jobbers' rates, and have other merchant tailors who never sell to us a retail trade.

FRIEND—Of course such arrangements as these must enable them to sell very low, and accounts for their being able to do a satisfactory business.

LAST CONTROLS—They have had a great quantity of goods into spring, and I hear their fit has been just ruined for perfection, their workmen are first-class tailors, completing their spring and summer purchases.

FRIEND—Why! what an immense business they must do.

LAST CONTROLS—Yes. I have heard that they do the largest retail trade and about the largest wholesale trade in Canada.

FRIEND—Good-bye for the present. I will try HAINES & LOCKETT when any of our family need boots again.

O'Toole.

"O'Toole was a major bould,
Through blast, he was no nature;
To Diabolocmy he was wed—
An immortal young corpulence.

Wid her he lived in payse an' quiet,
For she was an ignorus,
Till on a cursed night he met
A villin called Jags.

Sez he, "Pat's wife's gorgeous hole;
Ough! she's a faithless bottle—it's thrue,
She doesn't cur—two pins for you,
But she'd give her eye-teeth for Chamlin!

"Will him she entertain shame!
All in her house of lapidus!
To him she gave her pocket-book-ended,
An' he'll be Mps his partickler!"

Wid that he fell into a rage,
An' on a woodcutter fell,
An' swore he'd murther her this night,
While everything was quiet.

Run out wid dagger, our with club,
For that would raise a loud noise;
He'd take an' blow the candle out,
An' smother her wid the bolster.

—Sister Dorcas in Harper's Bazaar for May.

A LION SLAIN BY A TIGER.

Exciting Encounter in a Philadelphia Circus

A Philadelphia despatch says:—A scene of the wildest disorder prevailed yesterday around the quarters of Adam Forepaugh, the veteran circus manager, the occasion being the transfer of 500 animals from their winter quarters to cages preparatory to being shipped for Washington where the season opens. The winter quarters, consisting of numerous large buildings, are located at Lehigh and Richmond street. The animals were left in more than their feature from a home which a stay of four and a half months had developed a warm attachment for. After eating, had become exhausted and palace-car ceased to be a virtue, stripes and spots were reinforced by tackle and prods. The enraged brutes, yelling with pain from the numerous thrusts and blows, gave up resistance.

The cage animals, rather softened durg their confinement, began to assume something of their native ferocity at the sight of the noisy demonstration on every side. Lions and tigers paced up and down their narrow quarters lashing their tails, and now and then giving vent to horrible growls. Mr. Majesty, the ferocious Bertin tigress, who has a record of killing her keeper at the Cincinnati capital two years ago, would not stir under any consideration, and it was not until a mother law of iron at last had the animal cornered into her cage that she left with a rapidity of a discharged cannon ball.

It was during this tumult that an unlooked-for tragedy occurred. In the same den in with two lions were kept two tigers, separated by a strong wooden partition. One of the tigers was worsted by in such a pitch of ferocity by his removal that he threw his body against the partition with no small force as to carry it away, and in its time than it taken to narrate, had fixed its fange deep into the throat of the lion. A stream of blood gushed forth, and the king of beasts attempted to throw his adversary off, but it was no use, the tiger's grip had done the work, and in a moment the lion fell back a cold still. Half a dozen employees rushed upon the scene by this time and beat the ferocious brute, which would not let go its victim with blood dyed jaws, and drove him into a cage. The animals were all packed about three o'clock, and in the evening departed for the national capital.

Russia's Condition

There has seldom in modern times been a war more financially disastrous to a country than that into which the late Czar was driven with Turkey in 1876. In 1875 the financial plight of Russia appeared, for the first time in years, encouraging. There was even a slight surplus, instead of the usual heavy deficit. But in 1876 the deficits began anew. That in 1877 was 465,544,000 rubles. The Turkish war added to the national debt more than $800,000,000. Since the war ended there has been a growth in expenditure far greater than the growth of revenue. The cause is attributed to the influence of the military party, which treats with scorn all the economic efforts of the Minister of Finance. Such uprisings as those lately of Schobeleff do inestimable damage by keeping alive the war spirit. Were Russia now to embark in a campaign her credit abroad would—unless, indeed, her successes should be unprecedentedly rapid and dazzling—be gone. As it is, she has of late been compelled to do her borrowing at home because she would not pay a high price abroad. There would be a frightful fall in her securities were she to go to war to-morrow, and, in view of her financial condition and internal trouble, it seems inexplicable folly on the part of Russians to think of such a step. If ever an empire should make peace it is the Russian Empire to-day, and peace, too, should mean at least half the army sent home to become bread winners.

Swindled

A man from Ontario who bought a lot in Winnipeg some years ago, during a recent visit to that city was met on the street by a "friend," who said to him, "You have a lot on ——street. I will give you $6,000 for it." The Ontarian was surprised and joyous, for he did not think the lot worth anything like that sum. He agreed to sell at the price named, and the "friend" paid him $50 to bind the bargain. They were to close in the morning. In the afternoon the Ontarian met another man who said, "You cursed old fool, you've sold your lot for $6,000, and I will give you $15,000 for it." The Ontarian was was, of course, extremely sorry that he had sold the lot, and said that he would see about it. He found the first purchaser, and asked him to take back the $50 and throw up the bargain. The "friend" replied that he could not do that, as he had already sold it. "Well, I will give you $500 for your bargain," said the Ontario man. The "friend" demurred for a while, but at last agreed, as a favor, to comply with the proposition. The Ontario man went out to find the second purchaser, and gave him the lot for $15,000. This person was willing to let the deal go through, the Ontario man; it was a confidence game, and he had been swindled out of $500.

A Fine Hair Dressing.

The superiority of HERBERT'S ELAYOR INE EXTRACTS consists in their purity and great strength.

Testimony of an Eminent Physician

The proofs which authenticated the claims of Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites to be regarded as the finest pulmonic in use, emanate in many instances from phy-sicians of eminence. Dr. J. Corlis, of St. Thomas, writes as follows:

"During ten years of active practice, I have had occasion to prescribe Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites. Since your preparation came under my notice, I have tried it, and it gives pleasure in saying that it has given great satisfaction and is to be preferred to any I have ever used or recommended. I have used it in my own family during heavy colds, and in every instance a happy result has followed. I cheerfully recommend its use in all cases of debility arising from weakness of the muscular or nervous system."

What can be more convincing than this. Cases of bronchitis, asthma and lung disease by Dr. M. Souvaile's Specific, an instrument which compels medicinal properties direct to the seat of the disease. Instruments, with full directions sent by express to any address. Write for particulars to Dr M. Souvaile, ex-Aide Surgeon of the French Army, 13 Phillips Square Montreal. All letters must contain stamp for reply.

Dollars, which might otherwise be thrown away by resorting to ineffectual medicines, are saved by purchasing that unpretentious specific, Dodd's pain and remedy for affections of the throat, lungs, stomach, liver and bowels. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil which does not deteriorate, and a thorough and pure

The Saddest of Sad Sights

The saddest of sad sights the grey hairs of age being brought with sorrow to the grave is now, we are glad to think, becoming rarer every year as the use of Cragalene Hair Restorer becomes more general. By its use the scanty locks of age soon assume their former colour and the hair becomes thick and luxuriant. Those with its use and we can now defy the change of years, resting assured that no grey hair at any time will come to them. Sold at Wade's Drug Store at 50 cents per bottle.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—The sudden changes, frequent fogs, and pervading dampness sorely impede the vital functions of the human system. This remedy for these disasters lies in some purifying medicines, like these Pills, which search out and destroy the mischief at its source, and stamp it out without fretting the nerves or weakening the system. Holloway's Pills extract from the blood all noxious matters, regulate the action of every disordered organ, stimulate the liver and kidneys, and thus lay the foundation for curing chest complaints these Pills are remarkably effective, especially when aided by friction with the ointment each day. Their double treatment will ensure a certain, steady, and beneficent progress, and sound health will soon be re-established.

Thomas Myers, Bracebridge, writes: "Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is the best medicine I sell. It always gives satisfaction, and in cases of coughs, colds, sore throat, &c., immediate relief has been received by those who have used it."

A Single Box of Mack's Magnetic Medicated Soap is sure to any sufferer from nervous prostration or weakness of the generative organs, that it is the best and cheapest medicine ever sold for this class of diseases. Read the advertisement in another column, and send at once for the great brain and nerve food.

The Spirometer

Last year over two thousand people were cured of asthma, bronchitis, asthma and lung disease by Dr. M. Souvaile's Spirometer, an instrument which compels medicinal properties direct to the seat of the disease. Instruments, with full directions sent by express to any address. Write for particulars to Dr M. Souvaile, ex-Aide Surgeon of the French Army, 13 Phillips Square Montreal. All letters must contain stamp for reply.
