WONDERFUL - TRANSFORMATION.

A Pennsylvania Woman of Twenty-Five Finds Half Her Hair Turned Gray Restored All.

The following remarkable story is vouched for by eight reliable citizens of Erie, Pa.: William P. Baxter is a farmer, and has for many years owned a large farm situated between North East, Pa., and Ripley, N.Y. He is frequently in Erie, where he is well known. Near to the Baxter farm there lives a family by the name of Fear, highly respected by their neighbors. About twenty-five years ago there was born in this family a girl, a sweet little cherub, that became the pet of the neighborhood. They named her Rosa, and she grew up a lovely girl, and in due time she was sent to school. Here she distinguished herself by most extraordinary precocity. Her aptitude exceeded that of scholars ten years older than herself, and in less than two years she had passed every other pupil and stood at the head of her classes, the holder of all the honours competed for. At the age of 14 she entered the service of Mr Baxter, the first wife of the farmer referred to. Rosa proved to be as good a girl for farm house-duties as she had been a student, and the Baxter family liked her so well that she was treated in every respect as though she was one of the family. She continued to live there, and when she had attained the age of 18 her hand was sought in marriage by a young farmer from a neighboring village. For some reason unaccountable at that time to her friends, Miss Fear declined the honourable offer, alleging that she had no desire as yet the rest of her kind friends. About this time it began to be noticed that Rosa's features were losing their feminine softness, and that the effeminate contour of her hitherto symmetrical form was vanishing, and giving place to masculine angularity. Her hands, that were once so well shaped, began to grow large and coarse, and a down appeared on her upper lip. The presence of the latter greatly distressed her, and as it continued to grow in spite of all her efforts to prevent it, she became so ashamed that she refused to accompany the Baxters to the family pew on the village church, or to mingle in any of the soirees or parties in which she had once been a courted belle. The family, finally tiring of seeing the habits of Rosa's personal attractions, tried to laugh her out of her sensitiveness, but the girl appeared to be consumed with a secret.

About six months after this Rosa did not appear as usual at the morning. No answer was made from her room, and when it was broken open it was found to have been unoccupied that night. All Rosa's clothes were hanging up, except those in which she was accustomed to wear about the house. Mr Baxter sent his son Charles to look in the barn, dreading to enter it himself, for a dreadful suspicion of suicide was upper most in his thoughts. Here Rosa was found not in the barn, neither was she in any part of the farm. At last the searchers found two letters in her trunk, one addressed to Mrs Baxter, the other to her parents. The contents of Mrs Baxter's letter created the utmost consternation. It said that the writer had gone away, and that it would be useless to search for her, as her life had become unbearable because within a year nature had worked a complete metamorphosis, now long her, and making it necessary to change her home and her name. The astonished Baxters discovered that she had left all her female clothing, down to the minutest article, and that she had attired herself in a suit of clothes belonging to Dr A. A. Freeman, now an alderman from the first ward on Erie. By Freeman was a yearly visitor at the Baxter farm, and frequently remained a day or two there until. He was well acquainted with Miss Fear when she was little Rosa, and he often saw her when she lived at Baxters. He had been visiting there a week before the girl disappeared, and left a suit of clothes behind him by mistake.

Two months passed, and a letter came in Rosa's fine handwriting. It informed the family that the writer was well and was working as a farm hand in Ohio, but that the stamp of the letter would give no clew to her address.

Two years elapsed, and one morning a fine looking young man with sunburned face, magnificent beard and heavy dark moustache, stood at the gate of the Fear home stead.

"Do you know me, Mary?" he said to the young lady who came out to ascertain his business.

The tones were deep and manly, and there was a familiar ring to the stranger's voice.

"It is Rosa," said the girl, and the next moment the spectators were regaled with a sight of Miss Mary Fear clasped in the arms of a young fellow, giving back as many kisses on an mustache as she showered upon her sup rior face.

"Not Rosa, but Charles Fear now," said the whilom housemaid, and then he told them how, after that wonderful change for had tired out as unbearable, that he had made a little money and had come home to work by the farm.

Mr Charles Fear runs the farm to-day, and Rojier has no citizen held in higher estimation than he. Since his return he has been appointed a teacher in the public schools, and he can be seen on the Fear farm every day of the week.

Such is the remarkable story told to a correspondent of the Buffalo Courier. The references given were hunted up, and although there was a reluctancy to speak about it all all confirmed the story.

Mr Freeman was called upon regarding the suit of clothes, and he confirmed the account, stating also that he was well acquainted with all the circumstances related. He further stated that in his opinion nature was to blended as to Fear's sex, and that at the age mentioned masculinity developed.

Miscellaneous.

The electrical condition which produced the extraordinary auroral display Sunday night affected a great many persons in Cleveland, particularly those troubled with nervous disorders. O. L. Buckley, pastor of the Prospect street Methodist church, was prostrated in the pulpit while praying by what was first supposed to be paralysis. Ladies fainted in churches during the services, and people who were out of doors, as well as in, complained generally of strongly oppressive sensations, similar to the attendant upon an earthquake.

A man named Lantz, who last December murdered his father, aged 76, for the purpose of robbing him, was executed the other day at Versailles. This is only the second execution in a period of three years, M. Grevy having a repugnance to capital punishment, except in very aggravated cases. A considerable crowd had assembled, though, as usual in France, the date of the execution had been kept a secret, both from the public and from the murderer. The condemned man did not know till roused from his sleep that his time had come.

Newport Campbell, of Champaign, Ill., supposed that a neighbour's daughter was willing to marry him, but when he asked the question by letter, she replied with a refusal. "I trust you won't feel hard to me," she wrote; "I would gladly have accepted by me, and you must tell me in your next letter how you like it." The verse was as follows:

You may say I am perfection,
Say you love to see me smile;
You may tell me that my form love see,
Though you're jesting all the while;
You may whisper loving pleadings,
Woo me with a gentle sigh,
But your vows like chaff will scatter—
You'll forget me by and by.

It may be that the poignancy of Campbell's grief was not lessened, but aggravated, by the girl's poetry. At Philip's request, he jumped from a third-story window immediately after reading the lines, and was killed.

Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Kidney, Liver or Urinary Diseases.

Have no fear of any of those diseases if you use Hop Bitters, as they will prevent and cure the worst cases, even when you have been made worse by some great puffed up pretended cures.

A Fine Hair Dressing

COCOAINE dresses the hair perfectly, and is also a preparation unequalled for the eradication of dandruff.

The superiority of BURNETT'S FLAVOURING EXTRACTS consists in their purity and great strength.

Testimony of an Eminent Physician

The proofs which authenticated the claims of Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites to the regretful as the finest pulmonic in use, emanate in many instances from physicians of eminence. Dr. J. Gorlis, of St. Thomas, writes as follows:

"During ten years of active practice, I have had occasion to prescribe Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites. Since your preparation came under my notice, I have tried it, and take great pleasure in saying that it has given great satisfaction and it is to be preferred to any I have ever used or recommended. I have used it in my own family during heavy colds, and in every instance a happy result has followed. I cheerfully recommend its use in all cases of debility arising from weakness of the muscular or nervous system."

What can be more convincing than this. Here is a profession of world long practice and high reputation bearing direct and positive testimony to the value of this remedy, and as it is thoroughly tested. Who can read and doubt? Assuredly no one of common sense.

The thousands upon thousands of throat and lung diseases is also most serviceable in scrofulous cases. Parents should be careful to observe that each wrapper has a facsimile of the firm's signature upon it. Prepared only by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Canada.

The Saddest of Sad Sights

The saddest of sad sights—the grey hairs of age being brought with sorrow to the grave is now, we are glad to think, becoming rarer every year as the use of Cingalese Hair Restorer becomes more general. By its use the sandy hair of age is restored to more than their former colour and the hair becomes thick and luxuriant as ever with its use we can now defy the change of years, resting assured that no grey hair at any age will ever make its appearance. Sold at Wade's Drug Store at 50 cents per bottle.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it, there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—The sudden changes, frequent fogs, and pervading dampness sorely impede the vital functions and conduce to ill-health. The remedy for these disasters lies in some purifying medicine, like these Pills, which is competent to grapple with the mischief at its source, and stamp it out without fretting the nervous or wearing the system. Holloway's Pills exercise the action of every disordered organ, stimulate the liver and kidneys, and relax the bowels. In curing these complaints these Pills are remarkably effective, especially when aided by friction of the Ointment on its walls. This double treatment will ensure a certain, steady, and beneficent progress, and health will soon be re-established.

Thomas Myers, Ellenceleigh, writes: "Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is the best medicine I sell. It always gives satisfaction, and for all cases of coughs, colds, sore throat, &c., immediate relief has been received by those who use it."

The Spirometer.

Last year over two thousand people were cured of catarrh, bronchitis, asthma and lung disease by Dr. M. Souvielle's Spirometer, an instrument which conveys medicine through the throat direct to the seat of the disease. Instruments, with full directions sent by express to any address. Write for particulars to Dr. M. Souvielle, ex Aide Surgeon of the French Army, 31 Phillips Square, Montreal. All letters must contain stamp for reply.

If you are Ruined

in health from any cause, especially from the use of any of the thousand nostrums that promise so largely, with long fictitious testimonials, have no fear. Resort to Hop Bitters at once, and in a short time you will have the most robust and blooming health.

Dollars, which might otherwise be thrown away uselessly in ineffectual medicines, are saved by purchasing that inexpensive specific for bodily pain and remedy for affections of the throat, lungs, stomach, liver and bowels, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which does sure deterrents, and is thorough and pure.
