throughout the province with the Provincial University, giving it the opinion that Ontario can only support one great University, and that no other than a great university can afford a proper staff of first-rate teachers to the standard degree and to the advancement of science and learning. The true solution of the problem is to have a single great university, and that it should be a secular University with religious education. As to common schools, he thinks separate schools a waste of money, since they tend to encourage Catholic and Protestant prejudice, and that the only way to solve the problem is to have a single great university, and that it should be a secular University with religious education.

SHORTAGE. The Rev. W. H. Murray, interviewed by the News Reporter. The matter is being handled.

The morning the Hon. Mr. Murray, a Liberal member of the Ontario Legislature, was in Toronto. A representative of the News visited the member at his home in Toronto, and the following is a summary of the conversation.

Mr. Murray: I have been in Toronto for some time, and I have been very busy. I have been in Toronto for some time, and I have been very busy. I have been in Toronto for some time, and I have been very busy.
